

Nebraska BOARD OF PARDONS HEARS PLEAS TODAY

Clarence Gathright, Sentenced to Long Term for Murder, Asking Commutation.

WALRATH TAKES UP NEW WORK

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, July 14.—(Special.)—The State Board of Pardons will meet tomorrow at the penitentiary to hear applications of prisoners for pardons and paroles.

There will be two applications for pardons. Leaders H. Suter, sent up from Cass county for murder in 1910 and given a life sentence, will apply for a pardon or commutation.

Clarence Gathright, the colored boy who was convicted of the murder of Street Car Conductor Fleury in Omaha and who was given a sentence of twenty years, will ask for a commutation to thirteen years. He was sentenced in 1906. Gathright is a prison trusty. Clark, who was implicated with Gathright in the murder and sentenced to hang, was executed, but Wain, the other man, was given a life sentence and is still in prison.

Walrath at His Desk.
E. A. Walrath, the new printing commissioner, began his duties this morning and the first thing to come before him will be the awarding of contracts for the printing of supplies for the different departments of the state for the quarter which will be let July 30.

Who Pays the Tax?
Assistant Attorney General Rowe received a message today that a $10 check which he had endorsed for a friend had been returned "Not payable for want of funds."

On the fourth of July Mr. Rowe was working off some of his surplus energy at the office, when a man walked in and asked him if he knew where he could find Fire Commissioner Ridgell. He said he had run short of funds and as Ridgell was an old friend of his at Alliance he thought perhaps he would fix things for him. Being a good democrat and unwilling that a fellow democrat and especially a friend of the fire commissioner should be without funds properly to conduct the Fourth in true democratic fashion, Rowe promptly told the gentleman to draw his check for what he wanted and he would endorse it so he could get the cash at the Lindell hotel. The man did so and thanking the assistant attorney general very profusely for his kindness walked out, went to the Lindell and got his money. Now the Alliance bank on which the check was drawn refuses to honor it and Rowe was hunting for Ridgell this morning in an effort to see if Ridgell would make good for his friend.

21,000 New York Pants Makers Out

NEW YORK, July 14.—The ranks of the striking pants makers were increased today by 11,000 workers, making the total number out on strike approximately 21,000. Of those who went out today 5,000 were knee pants makers and 6,000 were vest makers.

The mayor's council of conciliation met today to discuss the situation and avert if possible a strike of 50,000 women garment workers. The women are acting independently of the men, although the demands are substantially the same—for sanitary shops and restoration of the old wage scale, which it is claimed, has been reduced.

In addition, leaders of the unions of other male garment workers were prepared, they said, to call out approximately 20,000 more men should such a step be thought necessary.

A step that may have an important bearing on the situation was taken today when the American Clothing Manufacturers' association at a meeting appointed a committee of seven to confer tomorrow with representatives of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Frank Rosenblum, head of the garment workers in Chicago, announced today that a mass meeting of union members of this city will be held tomorrow night to determine whether to strike. The question arises from allegations that work halted by the strike in New York is being done here.

If a strike is determined upon Mr. Rosenblum said that 20,000 persons will be called out first. A complete strike, he said, would take 35,000 persons from their work.

McGinley Resigns Job

F. S. McGinley of the state treasurer's office resigned his position this morning and quit the job. It is understood that Mr. McGinley was not satisfied with the salary he was receiving. #### Salaries from Fees

The state auditor has discovered a law passed by the last legislature which will allow the state board of nurses and the dental examiners to draw their expenses and salaries from the fees collected by the examiners. It has been discovered that an act appropriated the fees for the payment of expenses. The auditor has held up the vouchers of several boards, which leave the fire commission, health department, osteopath board, pharmacy board and certain fees in the food department exempt from onslaughts by the salary brigade.

New Fixtures in Vault

South Siders Excel as Book Readers

The monthly reports for the Omaha and South Omaha library show that the South Side readers utilize their cards more than do those of the north. Two thousand seven hundred and twenty-three holders of cards in the South Omaha library got 3,064 books during June, whereas 24,035 cards at the Omaha library show only 28,997 books taken out during the same period.

Harvest Under Difficulties

FALLS CITY, Neb., July 14.—(Special.)—Farmers are gathering their wheat crop under difficulties on account of the excessive moisture in the fields. Christ Kammerer, living south of town, had out a tract of fifty acres of fall wheat on Paul Weaver's farm in the bend of the Nemaha river. He also had out 100 acres of corn on his own place and had to make ten days ago, but owing to rains the ground was too soft to permit cutting. He became discouraged and sold his two-thirds interest in the wheat crop to Mr. Weaver for $100. He for several days has had a binder at work cutting the high spots and men with cradles cutting where it is too soft for horses to go. The binder is rigged with a four-horsepower engine to operate the cutting, elevating and binding. The bull wheel is bored to prevent the mud from filling it solid.

Richardson Sheriffs Busy

FALLS CITY, Neb., July 14.—(Special.)—Sheriff Rutekin returned yesterday from Rising City, Neb., with Charles Mackay, wanted here for wife desertion, and as he came through Lincoln picked up Ben Grinstead, who had broken his parole. Mattery, hero of a number of daring flights, has been added to the list of casualties among American aviators, according to a telegram received here today which announced Mattery's death in a fall of 6,000 feet while on scout duty with Villa's army in Mexico. Mattery's home was in Chicago and most of his training was done on the aviation field at Cicero. He is said to have left a widow and mother here.

Later, it is said, a joint conference of the three bodies will be held.

The Commercial club committee, with J. A. Sundstrand as chairman, was appointed for purposes of mediation. Its function is understood to be to offer its good offices in an effort to bring about an agreement between the city commission and the electric light company on a new schedule of lower rates.

Has Way to Locate The Diseased Hogs

Fifteen years ago Burton R. Rodgers, now dean and general manager of the St. Joseph Veterinary college, was at the stock yards in Omaha as a veterinary stock inspector. Out of his experience here at that time he evolved a plan for automatically locating and controlling tuberculosis in animals. This plan he brought to Omaha with him the other day and presented it to the veterinarians at their convention at the Rome hotel. Dr. Rodgers years ago soliloquized as the hogs filed past him in the yards:

"If I knew where you came from, and when and where and how you got tuberculosis, I could tell the farmer something of value to him. But he could not tell where the hogs came from, until one day a tubercular hog with a tin tag in its ear carried the name and address of the farmer that bred and raised the animal. That gave Dr. Rodgers an idea, and since that time he has been advocating tags with names and addresses of breeders in the ears of every hog, so that certain areas or zones of tuberculosis could be located and the spread checked.

MAJORS AT SOUTH OMAHA Mayor and City Commissioners Are Entertained at Meeting of Polish-American Club.

FATHER GLUBA MAKES ADDRESS

Mayor James C. Dahlman was at his best last night when the Polish-American club of the South Side entertained him and the other commissioners at Pulasaki hall, Thirty-third and L streets. Over 300 young Polish-Americans listened while the mayor explained the workings of the city commission.

"It is not a question of politics," said the mayor. "There is no democracy, no republicanism under the commission form. We are the servants of the people and when you want anything we want you to come and ask for it."

The mayor emphasized the fact that his statements were not made in the heat of a campaign and that what he said he expected to do.

"Too many men air their grievances on the street corners when they would obtain assistance without delay if they would only see the commissioners face-to-face."

The mayor dwelt at length on the opportunities of Omaha. He painted the future of the city to which he said the great western empire still undeveloped would pay tribute.

"It is such men and women as you who will build this great empire," said the mayor.

"The trackless prairies will support 100 millions of people and some of you who are listening to my words will go out to build up this great empire." The mayor was cheered again and again in his speech.

Commissioner Kugel told of the work of his department and praised the Polish-Americans who were on the police department. Park Commissioner Hummel backed up Kugel's words and Commissioner Jardine followed with a few terse statements of the work he expected to do on the South Side. Mike Kalamaja, president of the North Omaha Polish-American club told the members of the new club that they would find the city commissioners clean cut, hardworking, dependable men.

Father Gluba closed with an address in which he told the members to be good citizens and to be Americans. He urged upon all those of foreign birth to hasten the day when they would get out their naturalization papers.

At the close of the meeting a light lunch was served. The club has about 300 members of whom nearly 300 were present.

Vanous Is Captain

Captain Anton Vanous, commanding the day shift at the Second precinct station, celebrated his fifty-first birthday yesterday by dropping his sergeant's shield and forgetting to use the "acting" before his title of captain. Captain John Briggs was confirmed in his office, as were Sergeants James Sheahan and Henry Carey, both of whom have been acting sergeants since the merger.

The confirmation of Briggs, Sheahan and Carey was merely formal under the merger law, while that of Vanous was expected since his transfer to the South Side with the rank of acting captain.

Captain Vanous has served twenty-eight years on the Omaha police force. He has been a sergeant for six years and acting captain since the merger went into effect. Captain Vanous is regarded as one of the most efficient officers on the police force. When the merger law went into effect he was selected for the difficult task of reorganizing the South Side precinct under the Omaha rules. Since his appointment he has steadily enforced the rules of the Omaha department and has faithfully increased the discipline of the men, with whom he is a favorite.

Captain Vanous is of Bohemian descent and lives with his family at 122 South Eleventh street. He is well known on the South Side, where he worked in the packing houses at one time. Later he and his brother built the Vanous block in the heart of the business district at Twenty-fourth and N streets. During the Cleveland administration he disposed of his interest in the property and joined the police force, where he has steadily risen.

Baughman in the police patrol hastened to the rescue and Tim was soon in the hands of City Physician E. J. Shanahan, who dressed his wounds and found them not dangerous.

As Tim came out from the sleep induced by the jar of the jitney car he looked up into Baughman's face.

"That 'hombre' nearly got me that time, Joe," he whispered.

"Wake up, Tim, this is not Jolo," said Baughman, and when Tim came to he told the story of the time in Jolo, P. I., when a bold follower of Aguinaldo caught him in the head with a musket and another came after him with a bolo. But Joe Baughman, who then wore Uncle Sam's uniform, interfered with the good intentions of the second Filipino before he could rip McCarthy open to the pants pockets. McCarthy and Baughman both served in the islands in 1904.

Dr. Shaw's Auto Will Be Sold to Pay Her Personal Tax

NEW YORK, July 14.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, probably will not attempt to save her little yellow automobile from sale at auction at Media, Pa., next Tuesday, to satisfy a tax assessment, according to a statement she issued here today.

The car was presented to Dr. Shaw by her followers here. It was seized at Media, Pa., Dr. Shaw's residence, on Monday, and is to be sold at auction to pay a tax assessment of $10, levied upon Dr. Shaw in 1913.

The suffrage leader declined to make out a list of her property subject to taxes on the ground that to tax her without giving her the right to vote "would be heaping injury upon tyranny."
