Omaha Looks Good After Long Trip to The Pacific Coast

"From my tour of the Pacific coast states I brought back three distinct impressions, namely, that the business situation, generally speaking, is improving; that the two California expositions are wonderful in many respects, and that everywhere the opinion seems to prevail that Omaha and the region of which it is the metropolis are regarded as the most prosperous in the country," says Ray C. Wagner, who just returned to the home office from a seven weeks' tour of the west. "My business in the northwest made it necessary for me to stop off in many cities and towns, where I met numerous men. From them I gleaned much information as to business and crop conditions. I found that the war prices paid for grain and live stock had brought an immense amount of wealth into the Puget Sound country, and everywhere men are predicting bountiful crops. The wheat fields are producing immense yields and everybody is looking for a still greater influx of money when this grain is put onto the market. "It was my good fortune to see both California expositions upon special days when the attendance was very large. The San Diego exposition, while not so large as the other, is beautiful beyond description and I retain memories of its manifold charms. "But it seems mighty good to get back home, and it is gratifying to recall the many expressions by men whom I met when they learned that I hailed from Omaha. Almost to a man they shared in the prevailing opinion that Omaha is one of the live towns of the country and entrenched within a territory so prolific as to render it almost immune from the business depression which has prevailed elsewhere. Omaha is good enough for me."

Pegg Wants Lame Horse Given by Al Kugel to Hummel

Like the cry from Macedonia, there is a wall in the city hall for more horses. John Grant Pegg, city sealer of weights and measures, has impounded Commissioner Hummel to give him the horse presented Tuesday to the park department by Commissioner Kugel. After looking into the mouth of his gift horse and finding a full set of teeth and a regular equine tongue, Commissioner Hummel made the startling discovery that the animal had one indispensible leg. Mr. Hummel is reconsidering some of the good things he said of Mr. Kugel. Inspector Pegg's old horse recently broke a leg and was shot. He believes Mr. Hummel should release the horse he received from Mr. Kugel.

Woman Victim of Auto Accident Dies

Mrs. Christine Peterson of 1807 Ames avenue, victim of an automobile accident last Thursday evening, died yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock in a hospital. She is survived by four daughters. Mrs. Peterson was riding with her son-in-law, W. Olaf Larson at 3177 Cumming street, when their auto turned over on a road one mile north of Carter lake. She suffered a fractured hip and internal injuries, and remained all night beneath the overturned car, Larson dying during the night at her side. The five children will be taken to the Old Fellows' home at York, where they will be cared for.

EXCESSIVE RAINS SEND UP THE CEREAL PRICES

Continued excessive rains, with reports of great damage all over the corn and wheat belt, together with high receipts, sent grain higher on the Omaha exchange. Wheat gained 2 cents per bushel, with corn and oats making an advance of 1/4 cent.

There was but one load of wheat; it sold for $1.33. Corn receipts were thirty-six cars and the price ranged from 72 to 74 1/2 cents. There were five cars of oats, selling at 49 1/2 to 50 cents per bushel.

LITTLE LAD STARTS ON LONG HIKE FOR MONROE

James Busbee's mother is worried about his whereabouts. He left his home at 408 Charles street Monday, leaving a note to his mother not to worry about him, and the last seen of the lad was when he was hiking west on the West Dodge road. The boy is 11 years old, dark hair, brown eyes, dressed in blue waist, brown hat and carrying a blue and white ticking knapsack. He is supposed to have started for Monroe.

THOMAS H. McCAGUE ANSWERS THE CALL

Prominent Business Man of Omaha Expires as Result of Stroke of Paralysis.

ACTIVE ALMOST UNTIL LAST

Thomas H. McCague, vice president of the McCague Investment company, member of one of Omaha's most prominent families, died as the result of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered three weeks ago while seated at his desk in the McCague building. Death, not short at the age of 52 an unusually active and successful business career, which had gained Mr. McCague a national reputation. He spent his life in Omaha with the exception of four years during which he lived in Washington, D. C., first becoming secretary to the late Senator Manderson, and later taking a position in the cash department of the federal treasury, where, during the three years, 1885-1887 inclusive, he gained a reputation as a money expert not surpassed by any competitor.

Family at Bedside:

At the bedside when death came were Mr. McCague's wife, Helen E. Leighty McCague; his son, Lawrence M.; daughters, Miss Anna C. and Henrietta I.; his brothers, John L. and Brower E. McCague, and his sisters, Miss Lydia McCague of Omaha, Mrs. Margaret Gordon, Lincoln; and Mrs. Anna Marples of Chicago. He also leaves an infant daughter and a brother, William L. McCague of Chicago, and sister, Mrs. Josie M. McCulloch of San Diego, Cal. Mr. McCague was born at Des Moines, Ia., the son of the late Rev. Thomas McCague, D. D., who died in June one year ago. He came with his parents to Omaha in 1857 when he was 5 years of age. After graduating from the Omaha high school he began his business career as teller for the old Commercial National bank. For one year he was private secretary to the late Senator Manderson during Mr. Manderson's first term, then for three years he was employed as an expert in the federal treasury. Here he had for a desk mate Frank E. Vanderlip, the noted New York banker.

In Business In Omaha:

He returned to Omaha and became engaged in business, among the duties which he undertook being those of receiver of the old German Savings bank. Ten years ago he became actively engaged in the affairs of the McCague Investment company of which he was vice president when he died.

Three years ago and seven years after the death of his first wife, Mr. McCague contracted a second marriage, taking as his bride Miss Helen E. Leighty. To this union was born a daughter, who is now an infant.

Mr. McCague was of a character which gained and held many friends. He was a member of the University club, Happy Hollow club and the Commercial club. The first indication of serious illness came three weeks ago, when he was stricken by a paralytic stroke while in his office.

Death occurred at Mr. McCague's home, 37 North Forty-first street, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The funeral probably will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence.

MILLER REPORTS ST. PAUL FILLED WITH WOODMEN

Royal D. Miller, city passenger agent of the Northwestern, who accompanied the two special trains, carrying Woodmen of the World to the sovereign camp meeting at St. Paul, is back. He asserts that St. Paul is filled with Woodmen of the World and that they are having an enjoyable time.

Queen or Dairy Maid Ambition the Same

In the expectant mother's mind there is no limit to what the future has in store, and yet during the period of expectancy, much depends upon the physical comfort of the mother. One of the best aids is a remedy known as "Mother's Friend." Applied over the muscles, it penetrates to the network of nerves, relieves the pains incident to stretching of cords and ligaments, makes them pliant, induces daily comfort, restful nights, a calm mind and pleasant anticipation. You use it with your own hand, apply it as needed, and at once feel a sense of relief. Mothers who have learned all this from experience tell of the blessed relief from morning sickness, the absence of strain and the undoubted healthful influence imparted to the coming baby.

The very important thing to remember about "Mother's Friend," is that it does not exert any other influence than to simply lubricate the parts, make them more firm by naturally withstanding the constantly increasing pressure. And as the muscles continue to expand, the nerves become accustomed to this new condition and adjust themselves without undue pain. "Mother's Friend" is entirely free of any drug influence whatsoever and may be used freely at all times. Get a bottle of this splendid help today. Phone your nearest druggist or send for it. Then write Bradfield Regulator Co., 754 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a valuable book of instruction for expectant mothers. "Mother's Friend" is recommended everywhere by women who have used it. And you can read some very interesting letters if you write for this book.

Parents Cannot Collect Wages of Girl Forced to Work

The unwritten law of self-preservation decided a lawsuit in county court, when Judge Crawford held that Nelson M. Punched is not entitled to collect wages from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foley for work done by his daughter, Miss May Punched, aged 17. Evidence was introduced by the defense that Punched was unable to provide support for his daughter and that she found it necessary to secure employment to earn her own livelihood.

This condition emancipated the daughter, Judge Crawford held, and made her a free agent, notwithstanding the fact that the law ordinarily entitles a father to collect wages earned by minor children. Wages were paid to the daughter by her employers.

KEMMERLING BUYS DOPE ON STREET IN SIOUX CITY

In the case brought against Barney Kemmerling, who was charged with having in his possession thirty-five grains of morphine without having paid the federal tax, it was learned that Kemmerling secured the "dope" in Sioux City. Kemmerling informed the marshal's office that he had secured the morphine from a man on the street in Sioux City and that the tiny bottleful had cost him $2.50. "I have bought the same amount lots of times before for 45 cents," said Kemmerling. He is now being held in Fremont on $1,000 bail.

M'GOVERN IS FINED TWICE

Complainant Against Police Officer Thrasher is Found Guilty in Police Court.

ADMITS LIGHTS NOT DIMMED

F. J. McGovern, 348 Park boulevard, district manager of the Wales Adding Machine company, was fined $5 and costs in police court for resisting an officer and $1 and costs for driving an auto on the boulevard with bright lights. Motorcycle Officer L. S. Thrasher made the arrest.

Following the apprehension of Mr. McGovern, Saturday night, he filed charges against Officer Thrasher accusing him of assault, drunkenness, and conduct unbecoming an officer. That Thrasher drew his revolver, swore, and in other ways acted unbecomingly, he avowed.

In support of McGovern's denial of resisting arrest several witnesses testified, including Mrs. McGovern, W. D. Cameron, who is an employe of the Wales Adding company, and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron live at the McGovern home and were riding in the McGovern machine when the arrest occurred.

A number of witnesses also testified in behalf of Thrasher, among whom were F. C. Egan, 378 North Eighteenth street, who asserts that he witnessed the whole occurrence, saw McGovern push Thrasher, and was close enough to the principals to hear what was said. He further asserted that Thrasher did not swear, was not apparently under the influence of liquor and did not push his revolver against Mr. McGovern's breast.

After carefully weighing the evidence offered, Judge Britt said: "I am firmly convinced that a resistance was made against arrest and fine Mr. McGovern $5 and costs. The attitude displayed by the defense in court would be enough to assure me of this fact." It was not denied by McGovern that he was driving a machine in violation of the dim light ordinance.

Delinquents On All Federal Taxes Are Subject to Penalty

G. W. North, collector of internal revenue, has been instructed that all persons, firms and companies, including banks, subject to special tax, will be fined to the extent of 50 per cent of their taxes in case their returns are not placed on file this month. Mr. North has also received instructions to the effect that "all persons who carry on any business or occupation for which special taxes are imposed without having paid the special tax provided, shall, besides being liable to the payment of such special tax, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50, or be imprisoned not more than six months, or both." Persons subject to the income tax who have not paid are now subject to a fine of 5 per cent and interest at the rate of 1 per cent per month.

Taylor Makes List of Losses in Pay to Federal Employes

Cadet Taylor has listed the amounts each of the employes in the federal building lost because of the enforced eight days' leave caused by the shortage of funds due to the cut in the appropriation for operating the Postoffice department, and is, with the assistance of Congressman Lebeck, trying to find some way to reimburse the employes. The losses amounted to $48.21 for the thirty-five employes, and ran from $2.06 for charwomen to $3.11 for the chief engineer. Mr. Taylor has itemized the amounts and is mailing the list to the Postoffice department, suggesting that congress be asked to add the amount to the deficiency bill which will be voted on at the opening of the next session.

How to Gain Weight A Pound a Day

This men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals each day. A white and not a yellow. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following the simple directions. And best of all, the new flesh stays put. Sargol does not of itself make fat, but it acts with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—preparing it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop into pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Sherman & McConnell and other leading druggists in Omaha and vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Which is the Witch? There is a marked difference, I vow between witchcraft and witchery. And yet I know that Elaine is a little witch, for she has completely bewitched us all, with her charm, her smile, her tears and all that she has done these many weeks she has been before the motion picture public.

THE ROMANCE OF ELAINE

Just imagine, for almost eight months Elaine has nightly made her bow, surrounded by her cohort of great players, including Lionel Barrymore, Arnold Daly, Creighton Hale, Edwin Arden, Mrs. Wharton, etc. And pretty as she is, and great as is the cast, and perfect as are the pictures—if there wasn't real action, gripping action, thrilling events, you wouldn't be so enthusiastic. So big a responsibility partly rests on the shoulders of Arthur B. Reeve for his masterly stories in the

The Sunday Bee And equally vital responsibility has rested on Charles W. Goddard for his powerful scenarios built into pictures by Pathe and the Wharton Bros. TO ALL ELAINE WORSHIPPERS:—Write us what you think of the Elaine pictures. Address Miss Pearl White, I. F. S. Co., 226 William Street, N. Y. It is planned to prepare a little volume of appreciative comments by the real critics—the public at large, the people who have appreciated the great work of the biggest motion picture combination ever put to work.
