Nebraska's Banana Crop.
The banana crop in Nebraska has not been affected by the heavy rains nor have the frequent hail storms reached the banana belt so far. The first attempt to harvest the crop was made yesterday when Prof. R. J. Pool of the University of Nebraska cut two bananas from the tree in the university greenhouse. The fruit is in good condition and much more palatable than that which grows on foreign soil and ripens in the wholesale house or fruit cars, though a little smaller. The tree in the hothouse is an old one and has been used several years for demonstrating and rarely ever fails to produce a good crop.

Holding Up the Binder When Working in Wet Wheat Fields

The binder engine manufacturers are unable to supply the demand which has been created and farmers have been obliged to utilize other devices that might be of any aid. Southwest of Beatrice a plank float is being used by a large number and with good results.

LINCOLN, July 20.—(Special.)—One of the most drastic bills passed by the last legislature and one which takes from the people and tax payers of a city or village the right to a vote in a measure introduced by Senator J. X Rays are Used in Search for Bombs in Freight Packages

NEW YORK, July 20.—The discovery of bombs in the cargoes of a number of ships that have left here for Europe during the last few months has resulted in unusual precautions being taken with regard to the stowing of freight on steamships now in port.

On some of the piers every box and package is opened on the dock and the contents examined before it goes aboard the ship, and the gangways and hatches are being watched to see that the packages are not tampered with after being inspected.

Electrical devices and mechanical instruments to detect suspicious contents of bales and packages are also in use. At one pier an X-ray machine is used to examine bales of cotton, cloth, etc., for possible concealed bombs, and at another pier instruments are used by which hidden bombs, operated by clock work, might be detected.

"What can I do to make her stronger?"
Your physician has told you that it is simply one of the thousands of cases of "debility." You have tried certain "tonics" without avail, but you have not yet tried Sanatogen, the true food-tonic.
And Sanatogen may well prove her salvation, for remember that thousands of women who were weak and weary have derived new strength, a new joy of living, from its use.
Olive Schreiner, the famous writer, gratefully exclaims: "Nothing that I have taken in years has given me such a sense of vigor as Sanatogen."
And Amelia E. Barr, the beloved novelist, refers to the "marvellous help" derived from using Sanatogen.
This help of Sanatogen is not the false help of a mere stimulant but the constructive aid of a true food-tonic which gives the exhausted system the natural elements for building up the blood, strengthening the nerves, improving digestion.
How well it performs this function, physicians in every land—21,000 of them have endorsed Sanatogen in writing—know from actual observation. Their attitude is well summed up by the famous Berlin specialist, Professor Eulenberg, who writes: "I am using Sanatogen more and more in cases of nervous troubles which have their origin in poverty of the blood and poor nutrition, and never had occasion to regret its use."
And we feel sure you will never regret using Sanatogen.
Sanatogen is sold by good druggists everywhere in 3 sizes, from $1.00 up.
Grand Prize, International Congress of Medicine, London, 1912.
