MASS CHORUS OF CHILDREN SING AT SAENGERFEST

Two Thousand Youthful Voices Sound Forth Melodies of Both Germany and America.

DESCENDANTS OF ALL NATIONS

English, German, Russian and Even Colored Children Sing "Die Wacht am Rhein."

"AMERICA" ALSO ON PROGRAM

A big success was scored by the great children's chorus of 2,000 voices at the second matinee of the saengerfest in the Auditorium yesterday afternoon. The great building was again filled to capacity. It seemed to emphasize the neutrality of America to hear these children, descended from all the warring nations, singing "Die Wacht am Rhein," "Sah ein Knab' ein Roeslein steh's," "Herr Heinrich sitzt am Vogelherd' and other German songs and "My Old Kentucky Home," "Home, Sweet Home," "America" and other American songs.

They sang them with juvenile enthusiasm and they sun them with "the spirit that will help the world along." And one of the remarkable facts about the performance was that the children knew all the songs 'b'y heart,' and sang them one after the other with the orchestra, under direction of Prof. Reese. The colored children sang the German songs as well as the English, seeming to be more inspired by the lovely melodies of the Fatherland than by the "Suwanee River," supposedly a song of the oldtime darkies.

It was a concert of variety. There was orchestra music and there were solos by the great soloists and just one song by the Nebraska saengerbund.

Prof. Recse's appearance in the conductor's stand was greeted with great applause from the children. And the professor didn't merely bow as he does to audiences of applauding grown-ups. He pulled out a very large handkerchief and waved it above his head to the chil-

The opening orchestra number was the descriptive entrance of the knights from Moskowski's opera, "Boabdil." Then the Nebraska saengerbund rendered with aplendid effect "On th Shores of Weser River," specially arranged for this chorus by Prof. Reese. The audience demanded an encore number, which was also excellently done.

Accompanied by Piano.

All the soloists of the afternoon were accompanied on the plane instead of by the orchostra. They were Miss Christine WATCHING TWO DANGER POINTS Miller, Enrico Palmetto and Mms, Julia, Claussen and E. C. Boehmer, the latter being from Lincoln. Miss Miller sang Beat the Drums," "The Blacksmith" and "Longing for Home." Miss Corinne Paulson was her piano accompanist Both soloist and accompanist received a great ovation.

Mr. Palmetto sang "Aus Meinen grossen Schmerzen," "Maid With the Lips So Rosy" and a song from the opera, "Evangeliman." The great Danish lyrio tenor proved himself especially the favorite of the children.

Mme. Julia Claussen, after three solos, had to give an encore number before the enthusiastic audience was satisfied. She sang 'Der Freund," "In goldener Fuelle" and "Das Kraut Vergessenheit."

E. C. Boehmer's baritone solo, "O. Heavenly Time, O. Blissful Time," was (Continued on Page Two, Column Four.)

NEW YORK, July 23-Comparative quiet, in marked contrast to the three previous days of the week, prevalled in the Constable Hook section of Bayonne, N. J., today around the plants of the Standard Oil company and the Tidewater Oil company which have been closed because of a strike of 1,000 men in the Standard Oil works and the resultant disorder whereby three men were killed and scores injured.

Crowds gathered as usual, but no threatening move was made. Desultory firing occurred during the night, but the police said this was chiefly due to false alarms. Sheriff Kinkead and Commissioner of Public Safety Henry Wilson said today they believed the situation was well in hand and that there would be no need of troops. Two events set for today caused the authorities some unessiness, however, and they kept a strong force of police and deputy sheriffs on duty. One of these was the funeral of the first victim of the riots, John Stranchik. The authorities forade a public funeral with music and orations. A church service conducted by the regular clergymen of the vicinity and a procession, it was declared, would be permitted, but speeches were banned.

The other matter to cause uneasiness is the fact that this is payday at the works and it was thought some of the men migt go there to collect wages and their approach might incite shooting and disorder. Sheriff Eugene Kinkead asked the strikers' committee to defer their payday for a week and said that if any of the men were in distress and needed their wages he would personally try to collect the money. The committeemen said they would present the sheriff's views to the

"The best of these offices is collector of internal revenue. For this office 1 first recommended C. M. Gruenther; later J. C. Byrnes and finally Marton L. Corey of Clay Center. Each had rendered important service to the democratic party in Nebraska in various state campaigns. Each, in turn, how ever, was rejected, because of Mr. Bryan's objections and finally, last week, I proposed A. P. Sprague of York, secretary of the state central committee He, too, has now been rejected and George L. Loomis, of Fremont, has been appointed on Mr. Bryan's request. "For district attorney, I first recommended Merton L. Corey, but later pressed him for collector of internal revenue, when I found he could not be made district attorney. For this office, which is, perhaps, more important than the others, the president has appointed Thomas S. Allen of Lincoln, Mr. Bryan's brother-in-law.

While on the face of these appointments, it would seem as if the adminis tration had endeavored to be wholly impartial as between Mr. Bryan and Senstor Hitchcock, the fact remains that the ex-secretary of state lands the major offices for his friends, that of collector of internal revenue and United States district attorney.
