Flags Train With Sister's Red Dress—SHENANDOAH, Ia., July 28.—(Special.)—Flashing an approaching fast mail train with his sister's red dress as a signal, Albert Armitage, the small son of Dr. A. C. Armitage, was the hero of an automobile accident that happened to the Shenandoah excursionists on the plains of New Mexico, seventy miles from Santa Fe. When the car, running twenty miles an hour, fell over an embankment, Dr. Armitage was knocked unconscious. Mrs. Armitage seriously injured, and the daughter, Claire, also hurt. The lad escaped injury. The accident was on the right-of-way and the youngster crawled under the car that had turned turtle and stopped a train to Santa Fe which took the injured members of the party to a hospital.

They returned to Shenandoah by train, starting back as soon as they could travel. Reports had been circulated in Shenandoah that Dr. Armitage was dead and the rumors were only quieted when he appeared on the scene to deny them.

CHANGE OF WILL MAY NOT PRODUCE DESIRED EFFECT—RAPID CITY, S. D., July 28.—(Special.)—Did James Shick of Rochford, who died at his home recently, succeed in cutting off his adopted daughter by some changes in his will made just before his death? This is the question the probate court here will have to decide. Shick's will originally left his $6,000 estate, consisting of a mountain ranch and other real property near Hot Springs, to his widow, who later died, with the proviso that his adopted daughter receive it on the death of Mrs. Shick. Before he died he desired to change his will, according to his spiritual adviser, Rev. Devera of Redfern, to substitute his grandchild as heir for his daughter. The minister added an apostrophe and an "s" to the word daughter, whose attorneys now hold that the change was not properly made.

Democrats Run Up Immense Water Bill

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, July 28.—(Special.)—The democratic state administration is using water. A bill presented to the state board having in charge the state house, shows that the "great unwashed" have consumed in some way or other $180 worth of water during the past three months.

Nobody for a moment believes that the three scores of more democrats in the building have drunk that much water in three months. Secretary of State Pool explains the matter by saying that it was used for washing purposes.

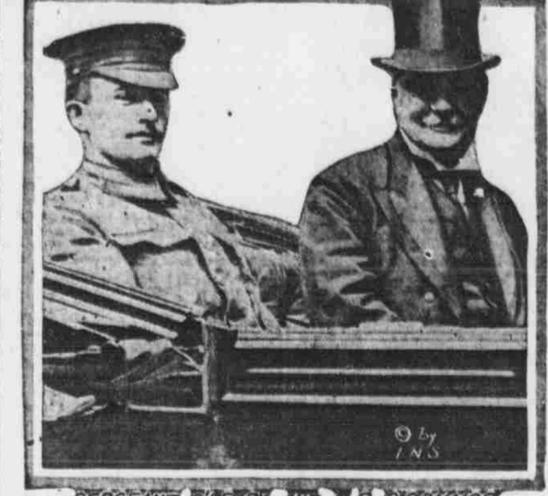

When the republicans were in power the tanks on top of the building were kept full of water for use of the department clerks, but since the democrats have come in they have allowed the tanks to become dry because they were afraid they might burst and flood the building. Consequently the city has been furnishing water to the state house during the time the democrats have been in power and a grape juice tank has been installed at the liquor stand and those following in the footsteps of Mr. Bryan have been trying to break off traditional habits.

JOY PAYS HIS TRIBUTE

Head of Lincoln Highway Says Mr. Pardington, Who Is Dead, Gave Himself to the Work.

GREAT EXAMPLE OF ENDEAVOR

(Special Telegram.)—A. R. Pardington, died here early this morning. He was widely known as the first chairman of the American Automobile association contest board, and his work as vice president and active head of the Lincoln Highway association, made him a national figure.

In commenting on Mr. Pardington's death, Henry H. Joy, president of the Lincoln Highway association, made this statement: "In the death of A. B. Pardington, the patriotic work suffers an irreparable loss. His collaborators have lost a commanding officer of tireless efficiency, of unflinching effort, of unflinching judicial fairness, with a patriotic devotion to the cause of the great memorial, the Lincoln Highway, such as could not be exceeded in any case."

"Mr. Pardington gave of his own means and of himself so liberally that he stimulated every person with whom he came in contact to become a soldier in the cause of the Lincoln Memorial Highway. Stretched on his bed of suffering, knowing his approaching end, he gave his advice instructions verbally, as his waning strength would permit, as to affairs of the highway, which he desired to have go on after his departure in ways that he had thought fully planned."

"His example of self-sacrificing devotion to the highway has given the cause an ever increasing army of followers who will aid more liberally by donations and personal work as the result of the Pardington example of devotion and patriotism."

"It is not too much to say; it is not enough to say, that the Lincoln Highway Institute, stretching from Jersey City on the Hudson river to Oakland on the Pacific, is more his work than that of any other man. Thousands have given dollars to the cause. Pardington gave himself."

Don't Wash Your Hair With Soap—When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain multi-stuffed coconut oil, for this, pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.
