

BUSINESS MEN WORK FOR COMMON CAUSE

Lay Aside All Diverse Opinions and Pull Together for Greater, Richer and a Bigger Omaha.

RESULTS ARE NOW SHOWING

A large and favorably known business concern displays prominently in all its advertising a statement or slogan to the effect that "the world is growing better."

Both of these statements, repeatedly many times at the expense of two reliable business concerns, have caused a great deal of comment. They are considered extra ordinary, remarkable, and they are—remarkably true. Because the world is growing better. And business is good. This is particularly true as regards Omaha.

Things Are Different Now. We need only to reflect—to consider the business conditions of the past in order to prove to ourselves, to be positively sure that the world and business both are growing better. We can all remember, it was not so very long ago, when business was on such a plane of fierce competition that it resulted into a cut throat proposition. It was "dog eat dog" with a vengeance—survival of the strongest and Lord help the weak. Business was a battle, it was war, and—well, most everybody knows what Sherman said war was, and there is plenty of evidence nowadays to prove his contention correct.

But, how different things are today! Consider, now, the new competition. New competition! What's that—new competition? Well, it's the same—only different. It is best described as friendly rather than by the word fight. Rather it is co-operation, though it is competition none the less. But whereas the old competition meant success by killing there, the new competition means success by friendly rivalry, co-operation, and the enlargement of markets for the common good of all.

Business men are learning that they can best advance—not by fighting their competitors and tearing down their business, but by co-operating with them to build up business and to extend business for the common good of all. So it is that we see competitors hob-nobbing together, going about arm in arm, when a few short years ago they were such fierce rivals that they wouldn't recognize each other. Things are different now—and better.

Business on Better Basis. Business is on a better basis, and certainly rests upon a higher moral plane. It is not that the business men have been considering the esthetic phase of business—what care they for ethics! But it is the same old reason—business is business. So business nowadays follows more closely the golden rule, not because it is the golden rule, but because it pays better.

And Omaha—always in the vanguard of those cities to take up new and better things—is in the front as regards these new business ideals. Members of our Manufacturers' association have banded together in an extensive advertising campaign, the purpose of which is to acquaint residents of Omaha and the people of Nebraska with Omaha made products. To impress these people with the facts that Omaha products are not only quality products, but that they are as reasonable priced, if not more so, than products of distant cities. And that the continual use and consumption of Omaha made products means not only prosperity for the manufacturer, but likewise for the workers and for the consumers of the products, as well as for everybody in general.

Heretofore, local residents did not appreciate the importance of patronizing local manufactures by consuming Omaha made products. But things are changing in that respect, too, because the new competition—the spirit of help rather than to hinder—is having its effect upon consumers as well as upon business men.

Help Keep Wealth at Home. The reasons why the people of this city and this state should consume locally made products are many. In the first place, the output of local manufacturers is largely produced by Nebraska. The great state of Nebraska is one of the most productive, one of the very wealthiest in the whole United States. Since this enormous wealth is produced here, why not keep it here for the benefit of the producers rather than to send our wealth to others of distant states? That is what is done when foreign goods are consumed, but when we use Omaha made goods, we are helping to keep here the wealth produced here and the wealth brought here in return for our valued output.

This involves co-operation on the part of local producers and local consumers. But it is very hard to classify some as producers and others as consumers because we are all producers and we are all consumers. Therefore, if we, all of us, as consumers use Omaha made products, then we will all be benefiting ourselves as producers.

It is remarkably true that we are all producers. No man is paid a wage nor a salary unless he is producing something in return for his pay. The most lowly employe, the seemingly unimportant clerk, all have to do with producing wealth. And no matter how seemingly unimportant the work may be, it is none the less necessary to the scheme of production.

So it may be readily seen that every person in Omaha and everybody in Nebraska has to do with the production of Omaha manufactured goods, and that if everyone buys locally made products, it will mean that each individual purchaser is buying of himself or herself—taking money out of one pocket and putting it in the other. And this is advantageous not only from the viewpoint of co-operation and collective saving of local wealth, but it also insures quality at a reasonable price. Because the products of Omaha manufacturers are quality goods and they are reasonably priced.

WAR DEPARTMENT RUSHES REGIMENT TO BROWNSVILLE

to escape. We could not identify them, so we left them there. These Mexicans were killed. Owing to the slowness of the means of travel and great distances, the full force of soldiers and rangers ordered out to quell raids did not all reach their assigned places until late yesterday or early today.

As now disposed, they make a striking showing at railroad stations. At Harlingen a big cotton platform is covered with brown army tents. The entire lower Rio Grande valley section has the appearance of martial law, but it is a silent law. The population is so comparatively sparse that strangers are recognized and checked up immediately, usually without being asked any questions.

Matamoros, Mexico, opposite Brownsville, does not appear to be suffering from food shortage or exorbitant prices. For 15 cents, American money, the following dinner was served in a cafe there last night: Small porthouse steak, one pork chop, potatoes, beans, coffee, bread, cake and one-half quail.

The War department issued this summary of its advices from General Funston: "Nothing serious has occurred within the last two days. It is known that the principal part of a band of outlaws was driven across the Rio Grande into Mexico. It is now established beyond doubt that a considerable portion of the band came from Mexico and were officers and soldiers of Carranza's forces, doubtless acting without authority of their chiefs. Once on this side of the river, they were joined by about twenty-five Texas Mexicans, all well armed and mounted, and proceeded to raid through the country as far as Norias."

Shipment of Arms Held at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 14.—The steamer Prince Albert, denied clearance for Mazatlan by the collector of customs because of a suspicion that arms and ammunition aboard were intended for a filibustering expedition in Mexico, was allowed to depart today when the Southwestern Steamship company, operators of the vessel, agreed to leave the rifles and cartridges on the dock.

Wilson May Visit Plattsburg Camp

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Major General Leonard Wood's invitation to visit the citizens' soldiers camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., reached the White house today. If public business permits the president probably will accept. It is practically certain that if the president goes he will speak on national defense.

SECRETARY CALLS FOR POLL SHEETS

New Law Requires that Copy Shall Be Sent from Every County to Lincoln.

HIGHER CORPORATION TAX PAID

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—A law passed by the Nebraska legislature in 1913 provides that, under the initiative and referendum, the county clerks of the respective counties shall, within thirty days after each general election, forward to the secretary of state one set of poll sheets of each of the voting precincts of his county, the said poll sheets to be kept on file in the office of the secretary of state until the next general election.

In cases where county officials fail to forward such poll books the secretary of state is authorized, after ten days' notice, to dispatch a messenger for the same, at the expense of the delinquent county. Some forty-eight counties failed to comply with this requirement of the statutes and Secretary of State Pool has given each of such officials notice to comply therewith at the earliest possible moment, and has every reason to believe the entire list will be on file in his office in a short time.

Add to the Revenues. Secretary of State Pool continues to add to the revenues of his office by a close scrutiny of the corporation tax received from different sources, some $200 being added to the fund last week. In one instance a firm that has been previously let off by a payment of $200, this year pays the proper amount, $475. In another instance a firm that has heretofore paid $15 was required to pay $100 this year, that being the amount they should have paid in previous years.

Neale Resigns Place. Prof. O. W. Neale, who has been with the Kearney normal school ever since its foundation, has resigned his position to accept a position as director of rural education at Stevens Point, Wis. He will receive better than $100 more than he received at Kearney. ETAINOIN N N

Ex-Governor Holcomb of the Board of Control is in favor of establishing a brickyard at some suitable point in the state and manufacture brick to be used in paving the roads of the state. The legislature voted an appropriation two years ago for the establishment of a reformatory which would have in connection with it a brick-making plant, but the Board of Control, which had the right to put the plan into effect, was unable to find anything that appealed to them and the appropriation was allowed to lapse back to the state. Governor Holcomb does not favor a reformatory, but believes a place where the long-term men would be the brickmakers would be the better plan.

Governor Morehead issued a requisition for the return to Omaha of James Sweener, wanted for the theft of an automobile from Edgar A. Baird. He is being held in Horton, Kan.

"Carlos Maria de Pena, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of Uruguay. "Joacuin Mendez, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of Guatemala."

Regulation Signed. The appeal went forward today to General Carranza and Villa and to more than a score of other military and political leaders throughout Mexico, being transmitted by cable, telegraph and wireless, which ever method was required to reach the desired destination. As replies are asked for within ten days after the appeal is received although the time may be extended for cause, no further meeting of the Pan-American conference is planned and they have been received, or it may be apparent that some of the Mexicans addressed do not propose to reply.

Many from Out of Town. Among those present were not only all the officers of the court, over which Judge Munger had presided, and a large representation of the local bar, but also quite a few from out of town, among them former Governor Frank Jackson of Iowa, whose son married the judge's daughter; United States Circuit Judge Walter I. Exchange on Paris and London Drops to New Low Point

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—More acute conditions attended today's foreign exchange market, with new low records for bills on London and Paris. Demand, starting fell to 4.60%, against yesterday's low level of 4.70%, and Paris checks were quoted at $6.90, a loss of 1 cent from yesterday.

The market was so demoralized that dealers in exchange had the greatest difficulty in keeping themselves posted on rates. Quotations in different banking houses varied all the way from 1 to 3 points on the remittances to London and Paris. After the close of the market it was said that one of the largest banking institutions in this city had sold London bills as low as 4.50.

GREAT MORTALITY AMONG SIWNE OVER NEBRASKA

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—From July 1 to August 10 of this year 12,301 hogs have been vaccinated, according to reports in the office of the state veterinarian. To do this 37,774 cubic centimeters of serum have been used and 8,322 centimeters of virus.

Thirty-seven permits have been issued to manufacturers of serum, thirty-two of them to those of other states who desire to sell serum in this state. There has been 1,600,000 hogs treated up to April 1. Seven hundred thousand hogs have died since the first of the year, 16 per cent of them from hog cholera.
