LINCOLN IS READY TO RECEIVE OMAHA

Reception on Elaborate Scale is Planned at Fair for Visitors from Douglas County.

EXHIBITS SHOW BIG PROGRESS

(From a Staff Corespondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 8 .- (Special.) -- Tomor row will be Omaha day at the state fair and Secretary Mellor is looking for the 50,000 Nebraskans and their friends. The program will be one of the best of the week and the Omaha visitors may rest assured that if the weather is good they will spend a mighty interesting time.

Crowds began arriving at the grounds early this morning and prospects looked good for a big attendance, but about noon a thundershower came up driving the people to the shelter of the buildings and in all probability being responsible for thousands staying away. The sun broke forth about 2 o'clock and the crowd proceeded to enjoy themselves. Ex-Congressman Fowler of Illinois visited the grounds in the afternoon, accompanied by Governor Morehead and was an interested visitor at the different departments and was especially taken with the agricultural exhibits.

Fowler Likes Nebraska. "You may say," said the congressman to The Bee, "that I think Nebraska is one of the most wonderful agricultural states in the country and its people a mighty industrious people. This is my first visit to the state, that is to stop off. I have passed through before and I have been struck with its beauty, but I want to say that I had no idea that its was such a wonderful state,"

The honey display is itneresting. One entire building is given over to an exhibition of the sweet stuff and the little bees, who are responsible for its manufacture.

Another interesting display is that of the Handcraft furniture, the reed furniture made at the state penitentiary, by the state's convicts. Manager Eastman of the company has charge of the display and has made a most interesting exhibit, Disbrow, Wild Bill Endicott, Kilpatrick, and half a dozen more drivers of automobiles, who have entered for the automobile races on Friday and Saturday, are already on the grounds, so it is assured that the crowds will see sor real racing on those two days. Today's Program. Following is the musical program for Thursday, Omaha day at the fair: 10:30—Green at the auditorium. Hage-now at Automobile hall. Regiment at Collseum. Pligtim girls at Agricusture-Hor iculture building. 1:00—i-i.grim gir.s at Auditorium. Green at Grandstand. Hagenow at Agriculture-Horticulture building. Regiment at Coll-seum.

8:30—Hagenow at rGandstand, 4:30—Regiment at Auditorium. I girls at Agriculture-Hocticulture ing. Green at Automobile hali. 7:30—Leren at Grandstand. 8:30—Regiment at Grandstand. 9:15—Hagenow at Auditorium.

Dairy Exhibit Fine. "Dairy, Peace and rPosperity" is the sign which adorns the dairy exhibit at the state fair in the old agricultural building. "Nations Engaged in Dairying Are at Peace with the World," is another. The dairy exhibit this year is along the lines of educating the farmer to keep a complete record on each of his cows, so that he will know at all times whether each animal is a paying proposition. In other yearsthe best cows at the state agricultural farm have been brought in and placed on exhibition, but this year five common cows taken promiscuously have been placed on exhibition and a daily record of their output of milk is taken. The first day "Beauty" gave a profit over the expense of feeding of M cents, "Spot" made a loss of 1 cent, "Ruffy" lost 4 cents, "Blackie" gave a profit of 11 cents and "Nannette" turned in a profit of 12 cents. Modern Dairy Show, The display shows a modern dairy, which can be put in on any farm and is recommended for use. A small gasoline engine pumps the water and runs the cream separator. The water is pumped into a tank in which is kept the cans of cream and milk and runs slowly out into the watering tank or any other place. in this tank are kept cans which hold butter and other things which the good housewife may wish to keep cool and thus fill the place of the icebox at the same time that it is acting as a cooler for the cream and milk, Calves Fed on Skim Milk. Four calves are on exhibition brought up entirely on skim milk, fed to the animals when it is fresh from the separator. The calves are a husky looking bunch and do not appear to have missed the best part of the milk. One is 9 months old and weighs 645 pounds, another 7 months old and weighs 487 pounds, another 8 months old and weighs 562 pounds and one 7 months old weighs 706 pounds. A butter statute of Uncle Sam and the record-breaking cow, La May, which it took 800 pounds of butter to make, occupy the center of the dairy exhibit in a big cooler made of glass.

The walls of the exhibit are covered with signs giving information to the public, who are informed that "Omaha makes the most butter of any city in the world." "Lincoln has the largest creamery in the world," "Nebraska has 700,000 dairy cows" and "Nebraska produces 53,000,000 pounds of butter yearly."

Like University Exhibit. The university exhibit in the old hortiors appear to like to go. The building was turned over to the university people last year and with a year for getting ready they have put on a wonderful exhibit, including a wireless apparatus in his picture show and keeps the crowds

The hospital corps, under command of being installed under the Major Spellman, has fortunately not had Superintendent Chadderdon very much to do so far. Stomach trouble and like aliments have been the only cases brought to the attention of the hospital corps, the regular corps of the Ne-braska National Guard. A detachment of the corps has just returned from the national school of instruction, and if any body wants to get sick they can fell assured that they will be attended to in the latest scientific and approved manner by the major and his assistants.

DEMO LEADERS HUNT NEW ISSUES

Great Variety of Subjects Discussed at Meeting of Editors at Lincoln.

From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 5 .- (Special.)-The neeting of the democratic editors last night was not very well attended, but those who were present were given a varied performance. Congressman Dan in the home of Mrs. Charles Troop in this Stephens advocated the short ballot and government ownership of railroads and other public utilities of that nature. He advocated so many things not now in effect that his speech bore the suspicion of wanting to turn this old world into a modern heaven.

Congressman Lobeck said he was willng to subscribe to any kind of a platorm the democratic party might make. He was rather socialistic in his talk, and among other things advocated cutting the big farms into small tracts and selling them to actual owners on long-time contracts.

Fowler Scores Britain

Congresaman Fowler of litinois had in for Great Britain. He scored the old time on the war proposition, and said grew in Nebraska. that America could stop the war at any time by refusing to sell or furnish anything to the belligerent nations. Governor Morehead said he had always liked of candidates for state offices. He would but he believed that a more efficient set of candidates could be put up by a convention than by a primary, where a large percentage of the voters did not know the qualifications of the candidates and had probably never heard of them until called upon to make selection. All of the speakers seemed to take de-

Another peculiarity of the speeches was that while made by two democratic congressmen, one democratic ex-congressman from Illinois, a democratic national committeeman, a democratic governor and a democratic toastmaster, not once was the name of William J. Bryan mentioned STEPHENS HAS BIG COLLECTION por any allusion made to anything which night bring recollections of the man.
