Chicago Cash Prices-Wheat: No. 2 red.

OMAHA. September 17, 1913, The wheat market was very steady, cash wheat selling practically unchanged, although there were a few sales at ic higher. The majority of the sales sold at unchanged prices. The demand for corn was only fair, There were sixty-six cars reported in and corn was quoted unchanged to ic lower. Receipts of oats continue light. Oats are a good seller, selling today unchanged to ic higher, with an active demand. Winter wheat is badly needed and millers are depending largely on the poorer grades which are heins placed in milling condition by blending with spring wheat. Chicago Cash Prices-Wheat: No. 2 red. Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, Sept. 17.-Reports of in-remained offerings from producers in the northwest had a good deal to do today with causing wheat to decline after an early advance. The bears made much, also, of apparently baseless rumors that the negotiations of the proposed Anglo-French loan had met with a serious re-buff. Wheat closed weak, liftly, net decline to ic advance, with December at 55,000,000 and May, 1854. Corn finished 46 to be down, oats 4c off to be up, and provisions at a setback of 5c to 16c. Wheat at first showed considerable strength, the result apparently of builish cables and the smallness of contract tacks here and at other winter crop centers. Attention later, however, to overnment figures minimizing supposed losses during the threshing season in the influence in the pit. Soon afterward, celling pressure was greatly enlarged by news that stored wheat in the hands of farmers in the northwest was being dis-posed of freely, and that Winnipeg quo-tons were at an unusually wide dis-count as compared with Chicago. There is the seming, fue to northwestern advices became again of large propor-tions. The seming fue to northwestern advices became again of large propor-tions. The seming fue to northwestern for the Anglo-French loan negotiations formed an unmistakable contributing taue for weakness which prevailed at the far.

cause for weakness which prevalled at the last. Corn weakened with wheat. Favora-ble weather resulted in an increase of country offerings. Oats kept within a narrow range. The volume of trade was small, Provisions gave way as a result breaks in the hog market on account of British confiscation of provision cargoes. Dealings in the provision pit today were unusually light.

A few feeding lambs went at itimes. A few feeding ewes were reported, at :5.00. The limit set by the packers stuck again today, and in the end the bulk of the fait lambs again went across the scales at 8.25. This is on paper just steady, but packers claimed that quality was hardly up to yesterday's standard, and they quoted prices slightly higher on that ad-count. Fait sheep proved scarce again today, and continued selling in about the same notches. Best ewes here again quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs.
