If the forces of von Hindenburg and Kitchener had united and assembled to put up a defense, they would have been brushed aside by the great army of King Ak-Sar-Ben which invaded the city of Quivera last night. With a resounding roar and a rush that brooked no opposition that great host made its way along the pike while one great confection battle was waged, and he or she who did not enter into that great battle was no fit subject of King Ak.

Nobody was the victor in the conflict, nobody was the loser. The board of censorship became excited in the midst of the fray and joined in the hostilities. As a result the report of the battle is unbiased and true, and the report says the battle was a draw.

Many a Knight Laid Low.
It was much the same as other battles that have been waged on the King's Highway for these twenty or more years. That is, it looked very much the same from a distance. But in under the thousands of bright electric lights it was different. Many a gallant knight was unhorsed by a fair lady. But the gallant knight didn't care; it was a pleasure to be unhorsed under the existing circumstances and he came back for more.

The third night of the Highway was the most successful of the three. Two thousand more persons found their way to the Highway than on the previous night and the additional 2,000 certainly made things hum.

Everybody was on the go. The carnival zone was no place to be unless you were endowed with plenty of speed last night. The ballyhoo men, the barkers and the grinders were in prime form. Each and every one threw his or her high gear and the enthusiasm and hustle put so much "pep" into the crowd that Gus Renze wanted to know if "Doc" Cayenne had been starting something.

It was a good "money" crowd, too. Everybody seemed to have money and everybody seemed willing to spend it. A pessimist with a long tale of woe about hard times and financial depression would have been a fit subject for a lynching party. Every show did a rushing business, extra performances were staged and everybody in the tented theaters worked just a little bit harder to please.

Today will be children's day at the carnival. Until 6 o'clock this evening the admission for the little tots will be 5 cents. In addition the admission price to all the shows will be but a single jitney.

Presbyterians Drink Toast to Mrs. W. J. Bryan in Grape Juice

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 2.—"The country should be grateful that we have in the White House a man bending every effort and energy for peace rather than a 'jingo,'" declared William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, in an address here today before the Southern District Efficiency convention of the Presbyterian church.

Following his address Mr. Bryan and delegates to the convention held an open air peace prayer service on the summit of Hot Springs mountain. Prayers were offered for peace in Europe.

Seated about the dinner table where the women of the Presbyterian church had Mr. Bryan as their guest today after his address to the efficiency convention, Mr. Bryan dined with his watch until the hands reached 2 o'clock. Then he spoke as follows:

"I would like to have my friends here drink a toast with me. I would drink to the one who has borne the greatest of my burdens and who deserves the most of the praise—to my wife. Just thirty-one years ago at this minute I was married."

The toast was drunk in grape juice. A telegram of congratulations was sent Mrs. Bryan.

Shipmaster Wins in Two-Twelve Pace

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 2.—The local Great Western race meeting closed today. Shipmaster, in the 2:12 pace, got away badly in the first heat, scoring second, but came back strong in the next three heats, taking first each time. Exall, in the 2:30 trot, had no trouble in taking the first three heats, although closely pushed by Axten.

In the free-for-all pace, Elmer Dickson took the race with two firsts, one third and two fourth places. The track was fast and the best racing of the season was witnessed. Summaries:

1 mile, 2:12 class, purse $500: Shipmaster, first; Bud O'Leary, second; Lottie Hal, third; Tennessee Dick, fourth. Best time, 2:07 1/2.

Trotting, 2:30 class, purse $500: Exall, first; Axten, second; Captain Caddis, third; The Comet, fourth. Best time, 2:20 1/2.

Free-for-all pace, purse $500: Elmer Dickson, first; Prince Olive, second; Little Smoke, third; Society Leader, fourth. Best time, 2:07 1/2.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Contractor Looks Over High School Annex with View to Installing New Heating Plant.

GYM FOR PUPILS EXPECTED

A contractor was down looking over the South High school annex at Twenty-fourth and J streets Wednesday morning, making estimates on the cost of a complete heating plant that the Board of Education contemplates installing. The action of the board in sending the man here is taken as positive evidence that no attempt will be made to move the manual training and machinery departments to the uptown manual training headquarters.

Some weeks ago Prof. R. O. Bagley, head of the manual training department, sought to install a heating plant in the local annex, where the manual training, domestic science and sewing departments, besides the gymnasium, are located. Nothing definite was done at the time, but it now appears that the heating plant will be installed.

New shower baths are planned in the renovation of the building, to be used exclusively by the girls. A big attendance is expected this fall at the girls' basketball games, thus rendering the new showers a necessary addition.

Dance at German Home.

The South Side Pleasure club will give its first dance of the season at the German home, South Thirtieth street, this evening. Elaborate preparations have been made in the way of decorations, and the committee promises that this year's carnival ball will excel any former party held. A number of invitations have been mailed out of the city. A prize will be offered the most popular persons in the hall.

New Cases of Diphtheria.

The many new cases of diphtheria reported among students of the grade schools in different parts of the city is causing fear that the spread of the disease will continue. Less than fifty cases have been reported in the last month and the city health department of Omaha has been sending down extra men daily to fumigate school rooms and homes. Nasal diphtheria seems to be the predominating disease to date and in most cases the sickness has not developed alarmingly. Doctors have the situation well in hand and with strict observation of municipal sanitary rules it is thought that the scare will blow over in a few days.

Magic City Gospel.

R. J. Hanson, construction clerk at the Armour Packing company, has returned from Chicago, where he went to get married.

Practice with the high school foot ball team will begin in earnest Monday evening on the city lot. Several pointers were received in the alumni game and Coach Patton plans to work these to good effect in preparation for the big Beatrice game at the Queen City next Friday afternoon.

"Tex" Condon, cattle buyer for Swift & Co. at the Chicago Stock exchange, has been transferred to the company's office at the local exchange building at the stock yards.

But few arrests were made last evening by the police. No more developments in the case of apprehending members of the boxer thieves' gang. Several local policemen have been detailed to the case.

PEGG PUTS ONE OVER ON PENNY MACHINE OWNERS

John Grant Pegg, city weight and measure inspector, is busily engaged in collecting penny weighing machines about the city and holding them until their owners call for them. According to John the machines are in evidence all year until mid-fall, when an inspection of such contrivances is made. The owners then hide them from view until the inspection period is over. It has been found that many of the machines confiscated are very inaccurate.

OMAHA BANK CLEARINGS SHOW A SUBSTANTIAL GAIN

The bank clearings for Omaha were over $7,000,000 greater in September than they were September a year ago. Following are the figures:

September, 1915 $7,225,804.91
September, 1914 7,225,804.91
