

New Zealand Girl Asks Mr. Sunday to End the War

A little girl on the other side of the world believes that "Billy" Sunday can end the European war and has written a letter begging him to go right over to Europe and do it, promising to pray earnestly for his success. She is Miss Wilkesa Jessie Weston, 1114 Road, Palmerston, North Wellington, New Zealand. Her letter, dated over two months ago, arrived at the Loyal hotel Saturday morning. She had addressed it to "Mr.

Billy Sunday, Evangelist, New York, United States, America." From New York it had been forwarded to Philadelphia, thence to Paterson, N. J., thence to Wilkesa Lake, Ind. and from there by mistake to Billings, Mont. From the latter place it was sent to Omaha and delivered to "Billy." The letter reads as follows: Dear Mr. Billy Sunday, Evangelist: It has come to my mind that you might stop this terrible European war, be the instrument in God's hands to do so. I have read what a great preacher you are and what crowds go to hear you, and I have been praying to God that this war might be over before another anniversary of our dear Saviour's birth comes around and it has come into my mind that you might go to Germany and convince them of the wrong of carrying on this war. You could preach to the assembled armies of Germans, or to those at the head of affairs, if not in German, then by means of an interpreter. If you will go I will pray earnestly for your success. WILKESA JESSIE WESTON. "Billy" hasn't taken any steps to engaging steamship passage to Europe. WARMER WEATHER PREVAILS ALL OVER WEST PORTION According to the report to the railroads, warmer weather is general over the western part of the state and all the way through to the mountains. Generally it is clear and calm. All through western and central Nebraska Friday night temperatures were close to freezing, while out in Wyoming they were as high as 60 degrees above zero. HYMENEAL Peterson-Happ.

Minnie Rapp, daughter of Joseph Rapp, and Karl A. Peterson were married by the Rev. Charles W. Savidge Friday evening at 8 o'clock at their own residence, 222 South Twenty-fourth street. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harbaugh.

Premiere Exhibit of Hats Worn by MRS. VERNON CASTLE

Womankind of Omaha will be interested in an unusual exhibit of hats worn by Mrs. Vernon (Irene) Castle, well known queen of the dance.

The "Odette," which is shown in the illustration is one of Mrs. Castle's favorites. We secured photographs of Mrs. Castle in each one of the hats included in this exhibit and you may see them in our windows bearing her autograph.

Most of Mrs. Castle's hats are inspirations of Maison Lewis, Renee, Odette, Lanvin, etc., whose fame and authenticity for smart chapeaux are acknowledged by the best dressed women today.

Mrs. Castle's apparel always shows a smart note of originality, and she is nothing if not an index of the latest fashions.

You are invited to this exhibit of hats and photographs.
