They were arrested, and discharged when arraigned in police court. Both are in Omaha as witnesses in a government case. McKelvie Feels Out Chance for Governor Race S. R. McKelvie of Lincoln, formerly lieutenant governor of Nebraska, is asking his friends' opinion as to whether he shall come out for the republican nomination for governor. A number of Omaha republicans have received letters from him asking their opinion. He announces flatly that he is for prohibition. "Naturally you will want to know how I stand on the excise question," the letter reads. "It is my conscientious belief that the prohibition amendment should prevail. On this question my record is clear. In the legislature of 1911, of which I was a member, I voted and worked for county option. I have always voted for prohibition." Going on further Mr. McKelvie points out that he made a fight for the initiative and referendum. "I was one of a dozen republicans in the house," he says, "who forced the democratic in control in 1911 to pass the initiative and referendum. Our chief motive in forsaking our own bills in order that this measure might be successful, was that the liquor question with all its pernicious connections, might be removed from politics. Now the question is in the hands of the people because of that law, and candidates should be relieved of the odious effects of a rough and tumble fight on the excise question."

Goethals Puts Off Date for Reopening the Panama Canal NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Shipping interests here were not greatly surprised today by the announcement from Panama that Major General George W. Goethals had withdrawn the tentative date, November 1, which had been set for the reopening of the Panama canal, following the great slide of September. Many New York steamship companies already had made arrangements to have their steamers, which have been held up by the closing of the canal, proceed to their destination by way of the Straits of Magellan. This increases the time between the Atlantic and Pacific coast by eighteen to fifty days. The American-Hawaiian Steamship company has ordered all of their vessels to proceed by the longer route. The Luckenbach Steamship company, which has four vessels at the canal, has ordered the transshipment of their cargoes across the isthmus by rail. It was stated today in all about 111 vessels have been delayed by the closing of the canal and the loss of each was estimated at $1,500 a day.

GREAT TRUNK MYSTERY THEORY HAS EXPLODED The mysterious trunk shipped from Papillon to Omaha by Frank E. Schaeffer did not contain explosives, as suspected by the sheriff of Sarpy county, who requested that Schaeffer be arrested upon arrival at Omaha. When the trunk was opened at the Union station baggage room by Officer Eagen, the only thing that was exploded was the theory of the Sarpy county sheriff. Schaeffer was observed when he went to the baggage room to claim his trunk. With much caution the trunk was opened. The sheriff of Sarpy county took Schaeffer back on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, a revolver being found in his pocket. According to the Papillon authorities Schaeffer was suspected of being a safe blow. To the Omaha police he said he was a railroad man and lived at 1911 Chicago street. SHOW THE REAL PARTY SPIRIT South Side republicans Monday evening raised their flag and pledged to march forth with a solid front, all past differences buried and a new esprit du corps to mark the party's solidarity. The name of the South Omaha Republican club was changed to "South Side Republican club." The meeting was held in the Security Bank building, Twenty-fourth and M streets. It was agreed to extend the limits of the club as far north as Leavenworth street, and it also was agreed to cooperate with the McKinley league. A splendid party spirit was manifested. Talks were made by P. J. Trainor, Herman Beal, Henry C. Murphy, John F. Schultz and James Chisek. President Murphy and Secretary Chisek of the old organization resigned. P. J. Martin, former city treasurer and at present state committeeman, was elected president of the new club. E. R. Lee, former city prosecutor, was elected secretary. Italians Decide Not to Have a Parade for Columbus Day

Omaha's Italian citizens agreed some time ago to hold no formal celebration on Columbus day this year, on account of the war in Europe. They are hoping, however, that a year hence they may be able to observe the day with minds free of thoughts of strife across the seas. City and county officers, banks, and a few other places were closed, as the day has been declared a legal holiday by the legislature. The schools were open as usual and teachers took advantage of the occasion by directing the minds of the children to the life and deeds of Christopher Columbus. The city council met and adjourned to Wednesday morning. The city water office was open as usual and the health department did not cease from its labors. In observance of the day, General Manager Charles Ware of the Union Pacific granted a half holiday to all employes in the general offices of the road.

A special train will be run to Lincoln October 23, for the accommodation of folks who want to go from Omaha to witness the Nebraska-Notre Dame football game on that date. The train will leave here at 12:15 p. m., arriving in plenty of time for the 2:30 game. Returning, the special will leave Lincoln at 5:30 and reach Omaha at 7 p. m. or before. Several hundred Omaha football fans are planning to see the contest, which will be the most important of the year, as the Notre Dame team is famous and is the most eastern eleven to play the Cornhuskers this season.

How Much Are Your Family Food Bills Per Week?

THE trouble about this high cost of living problem is that we hear only one side of the story—it's all against the maker or seller of eatables. What about your end of it, Mrs. Food Buyer? Let's take a glance at your weekly food bill. Meat! Meat! Meat! More meat! Why this extravagance? Listen to what the great dietitian, Dr. Hutchinson, says: "From an economic point of view, meat is a dear food, whether as a yielder of energy or a source of building material." "That doesn't mean that we can abolish meat from our table entirely, but we can cut down on it and seek other nutritious but cheaper foods."

What about Paust Macaroni? The same authority says that "Macaroni is absorbed almost in its entirety"—that is, it practically all goes to the making of blood, muscle and tissue. Paust Macaroni is made from Durum wheat, is highly nutritious and can be prepared in many appetizing ways and costs 10c a large package.
