

ECHOES HEARD AT FALL OF THE GAVEL

Officers of Druid Camp of Woodmen of World Will Put on Initiation for Alpha Camp.

STAGS TO HOLD INITIATION

On Tuesday evening, October 13, the officers and team of Druid camp No. 21 will put on the initiation ceremony for candidates of Alpha camp No. 1 at Barlett's hall, Nineteenth and Farnam streets. An invitation has been extended to the members of German-American camp No. 104 and members of Schiller camp No. 105.

Nebraska Lips No. 133 will hold its usual meeting for initiation of candidates on Thursday evening, October 21, at New Bohemia hall, Thirteenth and Martha streets. Special entertainment for all who attend.

German American No. 104 will initiate a large class of candidates on Tuesday evening, October 19, at its hall, Thirteenth and Dorcas streets. Special preparations have been made for entertaining members of other camps and a large delegation is expected.

Schiller camp No. 104 will meet on Thursday evening, October 13, at 440 South Thirteenth street, the German home. A special committee, with Fred Klenke as chairman, has charge of the special entertainment feature, which has always made this camp so popular. All Woodmen are invited to be present.

South Omaha No. 213 has taken on a new lease of life since Mrs. Carter was elected clerk and A. H. Handolph appointed deputy for this camp. Special features are now being arranged for by Evan Bailey that will start this camp on the road to greater success in the future.

Fraser camp No. 69 shows a progressive spirit. Its increase during August was quite satisfactory and indicates that the camp is appreciated by wide-awake foreigners. This camp will soon take rank with the best camp in the city.

German-American No. 104 will give a dance on Saturday evening, October 23, at South Side Turner hall, Eighteenth and Vinton streets. Henry Jensen is chairman of the committee and a good time is promised all who attend.

Woodmen Circle. Welcome grove No. 87 will entertain its members on Monday evening, October 18, at Druid hall, Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue, by giving a dance, to which all members of the grove and Druid camp are invited to attend. It will be the first of a series of entertainments to be given by the active and progressive organization.

Alpha grove No. 3 will meet on Wednesday evening, October 20, to initiate a large class of candidates.

W. A. Fraser grove No. 1 is arranging to hold its annual banquet some time during the month of November. All members who are interested in furnishing needlework and other useful articles for the sale will report at once to the chairman of the committee.

Modern Woodmen. Complimentary to its members, their families and friends, B. & M. camp No. 86 will give an elaborate entertainment at the Douglas auditorium Monday evening, October 18. Practically all the numbers on the program will be by professional talent, and this will be followed by dancing. Refreshments will be served. This camp is in a very prosperous condition and its membership roll is growing rapidly, being now almost 1,000. It maintains its own club and ladies rooms in the Bee building. The club rooms are open at all times, while regular meetings of the camp are held every Tuesday evening.

Omaha Camp No. 120, Modern Woodmen of America, has about completed arrangements for the celebration of its thirtieth anniversary next Wednesday evening. The program will be very interesting and a large number of members have expressed their desire to be present. At the last meeting of the camp the new ritual was used for the first time in conferring the degrees on several candidates. It is quite an improvement over the old ones.

Order of Stags. In every part of Omaha is heard the Stags' greeting, "Hello, Stag." Omaha grove No. 136 will be instituted at the Swedish auditorium, 1611 Chicago street, at 3 o'clock today.

Mr. H. R. Caulfield and his force of deputies are kept busy answering calls to interview the hundreds of citizens who desire full information regarding the society, its plans, purposes and principles. Every mail brings letters and postals of inquiry.

The citizens of Omaha are responding heartily to the society and at this time more than 500 persons have made application for membership.

The wonderful message of brotherhood is abroad in our land today. More men are living it and talking it than at any past period of existence.

This Stag brotherhood is the voice of progress, harmony and good will toward all mankind. Its message comes from the hearts of thousands of members throughout the various states, and is an intensified whisper heard in the busy streets and crowded thoroughfares. The message of brotherhood, as taught and exemplified by the Stags is one of good cheer. It says light up; don't frown. A pleasant smile, a kind word and a good deed will bring love, laughter and the kingdom of heaven on earth.

The Stags don't claim personal superiority over other associations. It wishes them God-speed, good will and friendship. It holds that the world is large and needs more of the spirit of true brotherhood, hence no one society can reach all of the aching, waiting hearts, longing for true friendship and protection amidst the sorrows and adversities on the journey of life through that mysterious sea whose shores the feet of one who comes has never pressed.

Degree of Honor. The Past Chief's association of Social Lodge No. 102 will welcome their friends at a card party on Friday afternoon, October 22, at the Ancient Order of United Workmen temple, 110 North Fourteenth street.

Class Gordon. Class Gordon will meet on Tuesday, October 19. A full attendance is desired as the ladies' auxiliary will visit the class.

Ancient Order United Workmen. Gate City lodge No. 9 will be the host for the big joint meeting at all the Douglas

Madame Gadski Tells Omaha Singer No Short Cut to Eminence in Music

To be rebuked by a celebrity is evidently a distinction, as in the case of the youngster described in "Tom Sawyer"—the one who boasted of his acquaintance with the boy hero by saying: "He licked me once."

Only this week an Omaha singer, it develops, has won this sort of distinction and doesn't mind if the circumstance is given out to the public, providing that her name is not printed.

She is a church-choir soloist who has been trying to evolve a get-rich-quick idea. She has been writing to eminent prima donnas for advice as to how vocal honors are to be rapidly won. As yet she has received by one reply to her letters, and that one was from the famous dramatic soprano, Mme. Gadski, who has been re-engaged to sing the great Wagnerian roles with the Metropolitan Opera company, and who will be heard here in concert Monday night at the Auditorium.

"It is wrong," she took the trouble to write, "for you to be in a hurry. In this country I find lovely voices everywhere, but you Americans always have the desire to be in a rush about everything. A girl with a good voice as yours may be, might by years of study and training develop a great voice; but usually she is unwilling to sacrifice the time and the labor to perfect herself. With a year or two of study, she fancies herself a Sembrich or a Calve, but such a girl is doomed to mediocrity. Work, my dear young lady, work, work! There are no short cuts to high artistic achievement."

The receiver of the rebuke thinks it such sound counsel that she is eager to have others share with her the advice of the song celebrity.

Mme. Gadski, by the way, began her vocal study at the age of 7, and she was 14 when she first sang in concert. At the age of 15 she received her first contract as an opera singer and became a member of the Kroll Royal opera, Berlin. It was not sheer vocal endowment which won her that place, but hard work and a thorough academic training, in addition to her native gifts as a singer.

Madame Gadski's program is: PART I. Widmung—Schneeglockchen, Wenn Ich Frueh den Garten Geh... Schumann

Die Stadt—Die Forelle... Schubert
Feldensamkeit—Der Schmied... Brahms
Piano Solo—Moment Musical... Schubert
Nocturne... Liszt
Prof. Paul Elsler.

Ueber Allen Wipfeln... Liszt
Marching Song—Requiem... Paul Elsler
Taufelied—Weisse Weiken... Eugen Halle
Morning Hymn... J. Henschel
Piano Solo—Finale in "Tristan" and Isolde... Wagner-Liszt
Prof. Paul Elsler.

Part II. Arit—Elsa's Traum, from Lohengrin—Scene from Act 3, Tristan and Isolde—Wie Lachend Sie Mir Lieder Singen... Wagner
Prof. Paul Elsler at the piano.

Five representatives of the Commercial club are to go to Kansas City Tuesday to make a formal protest against Colonel Deakney's report on the inadvisability of spending federal appropriations at this time on Missouri river improvements. The hearing for those protesting is set for Kansas City on that date. The whole Missouri river improvement project is involved, and the Kansas City and Omaha business men are co-operating in the protest. Those delegated to go from Omaha are John L. Kennedy, E. J. McVann, J. W. Gamba, J. S. White and Robert H. Manley.

GAS COMPANY ROYALTY TO THE CITY IS LARGER

The Omaha Gas company has reported to the city clerk $216,391.67 gross earnings for July, August and September. The company will pay the city three per cent royalty, which amounts to $6,491.75 for the quarter. This covers Greater Omaha.

For the corresponding period of last year the royalty for Omaha proper was $5,789.81.
