MAKE MISSOURI RIVER NAVIGABLE

Delegates from Territory Drained by the Stream Meet at Kansas City to Push Project.

GROWTH OF TRAFFIC CITED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 19.—The Missouri valley's struggle for a continuance of government support in improving the Missouri river was continued here today, when scores of representatives of civic organizations, shippers and farmers appeared before a board of army engineers to show why the board should not adopt the report of Lieutenant Colonel Herbert Deakne, who, in April, 1915, recommended that the $20,000,000 project for improvement of the waterway be abandoned as impracticable.
Over 200 persons from the territory drained by the river and from tributary districts affected by a change in government policy toward it were in the Commercial club rooms when the board convened. W. P. Borland, representative in congress from the Fifth Missouri district, on behalf of the supporters of the river, presented a lengthy brief reviewing the history of the stream. It contained testimony from farmers, shippers and commercial organizations setting forth reasons for continued improvement of the river.
Will how the Board.
"Representative Borland," said "I intend to show this board," said Representative Borland, "that the movement of traffic on the Missouri river between Kansas City and St. Louis has grown more rapidly than the improvements of the river by the government have progressed. That notwithstanding the disadvantages of navigation on a partially improved river, commerce has shown a marked increase each season as the shipping public became familiar with the advantage and cheapness of water transportation.
The growth from 1914 to 1915 was 142 per cent. Much of the traffic moving down stream is the surplus agricultural products of the states west of the river. These products move in their natural state, as bulk wheat for export, or in a manufactured state, as flour and feed. The increase in tonnage on incoming freight has been of high grade merchandise such as dry goods, pianos and shoes.
"There is not an inland waterway in the United States today showing as large a percentage of traffic in high grade merchandise as the Missouri river between Kansas City and St. Louis. The stream is in the direct line of east and west traffic and necessarily influences rates on all of the country to the west and south of it. We shall show further that the growth of traffic in this territory is rapidly exceeding the rail facilities, and the river is needed as an additional and highly expansive means of communication.
Shortage of Cars.
"A great shortage of cars is occurring this fall on all the western railroads. An additional line of railroad from Kansas City to St. Louis would cost almost as much as the $20,000,000 necessary to improve the river and would not furnish equal facilities. We expect to show, in addition, that the sudden lowering of rates by the opening of the Panama canal will force manufacturers and jobbers to the Atlantic seaboard if they are competing for any foreign or Pacific coast trade. It will be a relative disadvantage to the manufacturers in the Mississippi valley, between the Alleghenies and the Rockies, unless a general system of water transportation through the gulf ports can be connected with the Panama canal.
To abandon the improvement of the inland waterways at this time is to kill the growth in the Mississippi valley."
Today's hearing grew out of an act passed by congress March 4, 1915, providing for a re-examination of several river projects for which congress had previously made provision.
The report of the board will go to the chief engineer in charge of river improvement and is expected to govern his recommendation to congress. An adverse report, it was said, might mean the striking out of provisions for the Missouri river in the rivers and harbors bill of the next congress.

THREE SMALLEST LINKS OF THE ODD FELLOWS—Little tots cared for at the I. O. O. F. Home at York.

SEVEN IN FIELD FOR HEAD OFFICE

grand scribe; F. B. Bryant, Omaha, grand treasurer; J. A. Davis, Lincoln, grand representative; for one year term; John W. Pittman, York, was elected last year to the two-year term as grand representative.
A special session of the grand lodge convened at Odd Fellows' hall last evening at 7:30. Past grand and grand lodge degrees were conferred at that time upon some 300 candidates.
At the same time a special session of the State Rebekah assembly was held at the Hotel Fontenelle to confer Rebekah degrees. A report of the credentials committee was made at that time.
A big general reception for all members of the order was held at the Fontenelle at 8:30 last evening.
The Patriarchs Militant are to elect their new president while Samuel H. Greenleaf of Omaha, now deputy grand master, will be advanced to the position of grand master.
There are but two candidates in the field for places on the Home board, with but two to elect by the grand lodge. The Home board is the board that has charge of the Odd Fellows' home at York, Neb. Dr. Patton of Omaha and J. W. Keisley of Lincoln are the candidates. Both are candidates for re-election.
Rebekah's Elect.
From the State Rebekah assembly there is one to be elected to the home board. There are two candidates, Mrs. Mary A. Caldwell, now a member of the board, of Auburn and Miss Melita Taylor of Blair, a past assembly president.
J. W. Pittman of York and A. S. Rohrer of Hastings, grand encampment representatives to the grand assembly at San Francisco last September, made their reports yesterday afternoon.
The report of the home board on the affairs of the Odd Fellows' home at York, shows there are seventy-eight guests at the home at the present time. This is eighteen more than last year. The cost of maintenance for the year was $12,000.14, which is $192 per guest. The report deals extensively with the financial part of the management of the institution. Rebekah members of the board constitute the home furnishing committee, which has been especially active this year in procuring new furniture and other equipment. The property is reported in excellent condition. The guests are reported well cared for and happy and contented.
Oldest Delegate.
Allen Hopkins of Neligh, 88 years old, is one of the oldest representatives at the session. He came to Nebraska in 1868, and took the first homestead in Antelope county. He is head of the Farmers' elevator at Tilden. He was not only the first homesteader in Antelope county, but was the first white man to be married in the county. His son was the first child born in Antelope county.
Grand Representative Paul Story of Red Cloud and Past Grand Master Bass of Broken Bow arrived at headquarters Monday night.
Past Grand Master Kelly of Beaver City arrived yesterday.

POWELL WYO. PREPARES TO BE BUSY LITTLE CITY

In preparation for the opening of 3,000 acres of irrigated lands near Powell, Wyo., commencing Wednesday, that town is busier than ever before in its history, according to Immigration Agent Howard of the Burlington road. He says that the Commercial club there has guaranteed to furnish every homeseeker with at least a bed while looking for land there. The tract will be open to filing from October 20 to 25, in eighty-acre divisions.

POSITIVE TANLAC HAS HELPED HIM

C. E. Zigler of Lincoln Praises New Medicine and Is Surprised at Quick Results.

Tired, Run-Down Feeling Vanished, He Is Ambitious and Full of Life.

C. E. Zigler, living at 1445 P street, Lincoln, has added his words of praise to those of other Lincoln and Omaha men and women, who have been benefited by Tanlac, the premier preparation. Mr. Zigler lost flesh, was nervous, had no appetite and was generally run-down. Tanlac proved just the tonic he needed. Mr. Zigler said:
"I was astonished at the quick relief I derived from the use of Tanlac. I heard the medicine so highly praised that I confidently expected to be benefited by its use, but I must confess I never expected such rapid results as Tanlac brought in my case.
"I had been ill for several months. I realized I was in a terrible run-down condition. I had no appetite and the most tempting food could not please. I began to lose flesh and grew nervous. Noise irritated me and I found my work calling for a greater reserve fund of energy than I possessed.
"Tanlac was recommended by a friend who was benefited by the new medicine. Before I had taken a bottle of the remedy I felt decidedly better in every way. My appetite returned and I began to regain flesh. I began feeling ambitious and full of life. The tired, run-down feeling had vanished. I felt better and stronger in every way. I am positive that the change in my condition is due to only one thing—Tanlac."
Tanlac has won thousands of friends, who are just as warm in their praise of the medicine as Mr. Zigler. Tanlac has proved its merit in countless cases of stomach, liver and kidney trouble, rheumatism, nervousness, lack of appetite, catarrhal conditions and the like. It is now being sold in Omaha at the Sherman & McConnell Drug Company, Sixteenth and Dodge streets, where a representative of the Cooper Medicine Co. will gladly explain the medicine to you.—Advertisement.

JUGGLING WITH THE STOCKS AND BONDS

Inside Facts Concerning Kiting the Property of New Haven Road is Told in Court.

WORKING UP THE MONOPOLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Robert L. Batts, attorney for the government in the trial of William Rockefeller and his ten co-defendants, charged with violating the Sherman law as directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, resumed today his uncompleted address to the jury.
Mr. Batts took up more in detail the story of the alleged monopolistic growth of the New Haven, the high spots of which he outlined yesterday. Regarding the acquisition of certain lines in eastern Connecticut, he charged that they were taken over in 1902, in order to prevent the proposed construction of a branch line to tidewater, on Long Island sound. One road, he charged, was bought at the excessive price of $85 for the stock and bonds. He cited this price as an indication of the desire of the New Haven to attain a monopoly at any cost.

"The acquisition of the Rhode Island lines from the late Senator Aldrich and his associates," said the attorney, "was intended to prevent the building of a contemplated high speed electric line from Boston to Providence, which would compete with the New Haven.
"Although the properties in question were encumbered with debt and unable to pay a dividend, they were nevertheless bought for $21,000,000, when actually not worth one-tenth that amount. The sum of $1,000,000 was put back into the treasury by the sellers, to make it appear that it was a going concern."

Nothing Doing on Federal Judgeship; Democrats Uneasy

Nothing doing yet on the vacant federal judgeship and aspiring democratic lawyers and their friends are getting more uneasy. Had Judge Munger lived he would have been eligible to retirement last week, and he had given notice that he would ask to be relieved as soon as he reached his seventieth birthday, which was to have come on October 12.
The impression of Washington observers is that of the original applicants—Billy Thompson, Rush and Smyth are all out of it and Woodruff the only one still in the running. As new competitors he has Arthur Wakeley, Charles B. Keller and Judge J. R. Dean of Broken Bow.
There was a story afloat at one time to the effect that Smyth might be considered for the next vacant circuit judgeship, and if so, that vacancy is soon due, for Judge Sanborn of the circuit court of appeals is right now passing his 70th year and eligible to retire. Sanborn hails from Minnesota, but it does not follow that his successor will come from Minnesota.
Still further possible federal judgeship changes are also in the air in the prospective retirement of Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court, seventieth birthday comes next November 3, with eligibility to a pension. All this makes the lawyers keen for developments in the field of the federal judiciary and not particularly content with their watchful waiting policy.

Recreation Board Starts Its Work in the Omaha Schools

Superintendent English of the recreation board is starting his work of extending the operation of his department to the six schools approved by the Board of Education Monday evening.
"I regret the board did not deem it wise to grant the use of the Central High school auditorium and South High gymnasium for use on Sunday afternoons, as I feel confident the programs we would have offered would prove popular and meet with general approval," stated Mr. English.
The school officials disapproved of dancing in connection with the recreation board's social center work in the schools. Mr. English is preparing for distribution among the parents of the Castellar, Kellom, Monmouth Park, Central Park, Central High and South High school districts, circulars which set forth the scope and aims of the social center plan.
During this week the recreation board will appoint supervisors for these schools and a general director of music and a director of athletics, all to work under Superintendent English.
These social center activities will be started next week.

School Board Gives Orders for 6,000 Tongue Depressors

The Board of Education ordered 5,000 tongue depressors for use in the public schools. This does not mean that boys and girls who whisper or talk too much in school will have their tongues bridled.
These depressors are small flat pieces of wood which will be used by physicians employed by the school board for examination of children's throats in schools where diphtheria and other contagious diseases are reported.

PARCEL POST AUCTION TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Costs and cigars, fancy work and housewifery, flannels, robes, keeple dolls and all sorts of other things will be auctioned off to the highest bidder Wednesday next week at the postoffice, in the annual sale of undeliverable parcel post matter. Postmaster Wharton has arranged to display the goods for inspection on Monday and Tuesday. Over 400 articles are included in the sale, among them being dry goods, books, post cards, matches, Indian arrow heads and moccasins, chicken brooders, auto tires, batteries, razors, jewelry, telescopes, camera supplies and a box of junk.

MAN WHOSE DAUGHTER TRIED TO KILL HIM ASKS DIVORCE

Eli A. Tharp, whose daughter, Margaret, aged 16 years, recently attempted to kill him by turning on the gas while he slept, has brought suit for divorce against Sarah B. Tharp. The girl in juvenile court said that her mother had induced her to turn on the gas. Cruelty is alleged as grounds for divorce. The couple has four other children.

RECOMMENDS Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"Last winter I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a bad bronchial cough. I felt its beneficial effect immediately and before I had finished the bottle I was cured. I never tire of recommending this remedy to my friends," writes Mrs. William Bright, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere. All druggists.—Advertisement.

Girls! Beautify Your Hair and Stop Dandruff

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.
Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.
For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—grow—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Advertisement.

2 FEET to comfort

From pain and irritability to comfort in body and mind is sometimes only two feet—your own two feet.
When your shoes don't look as they should, wear as they should, feel as they should—you can't be happy.
With a good shoe, properly fitted, you will be serene in mind and body, forgetting that you had feet except for the pleasant consciousness of being smartly shod.
We sell good shoes. We will be pleased to help you over your two feet to comfort.
You pay no more for these than for the ordinary ill-fitting shoes.
