STAGE IS SET FOR PRAY WITH RED MEN

Creighton Has Advantage Over Haskell in Weight, but Indians Are More Experienced.

TOMMY MILLS GLUM AS USUAL

All is in readiness for the big foot ball fray on Creighton field Saturday when Creighton and the Haskell Indians meet for their annual clash. Coach Mills gave his men the hardest workout of the year during the last week, with scrimmages against Creighton High, the scrubs, and the University of Omaha as well.

Mills makes no prediction as to the outcome of the battle, and he likes to tell inquirers that the men are "on the bum," but at the same time there is a glint in his eye that forebodes nothing favorable for the visitors.

Those who have watched the team in action declare that Mills has developed a formidable aggression, and predict that by the time Notre Dame comes to these parts the Creighton team will be a well-sustained machine.

The personnel of this year's squad is to a man exceptional. Every player on the roll is an experienced man, and under the guidance and direction of Mills and Warren Howard it is merely a question of time and practice to make the variety eleven of this year the best that ever represented the school.

In past years Haskell has been in the habit of taking the long end of the score, last year's tally being 30 to 0, but local rooters believe that Creighton is going to turn the trick this year and by a neat margin. They are strengthened in this belief by the fact that Haskell admits Creighton's power and fears the locals as one of the hardest teams to encounter this season.

The Creighton line, from tackle to tackle, averages better than 300 pounds. Kamanaki at center, though opposed to Stover, admittedly one of the best centers in the Missouri valley and playing his third year with Haskell, will give a good account of his six feet of muscle and brawn.

At guards, Warren and Gray can be depended upon to do their part. They will match up with Timothy and Choate, both third-year men at Haskell, and weighing 180 and 180 pounds, respectively.

All Experienced Tackles. Captain Shannon and Wise, Creighton's tackles, will encounter Cappbell, Deere and Fire in these positions. The last two are new men on the Indians' team, while Cappbell, though only 18 years old, is playing his second year.

Both the fields promise to furnish thrills of the spectacular sort. Clements, the Haskell captain, a shifty, heady player, at right half, and Fontenelle, a Nebraska product, and a ten-second man, as his running mate, are looked upon for an exhibition of backfield play such as is seldom witnessed.

Fontenelle is playing his fourth year with Haskell. The two men will encounter close rivalry in Platz and Flanagan, the Creighton halves.

Black, the Haskell fullback, and Doty, Creighton's choice for that position, are both first-year players. Lewis, also a new man at Creighton, is likewise being tried at full, his old position at Omaha High, and there will be an exhibition of battering-ram foot ball when Carl carries the leather.

All told, the two teams will be as evenly matched, man to man, as could be desired, with Creighton having perhaps a shade the better on weight.

Married and Single Men at U. P. Offices To Battle Saturday

HOLDS DOWN CENTER FOR THE HASKELL INDIANS.

Stover - Center

Stover, the Haskell Indians' great center and admittedly the best man in that position in the Missouri valley, is still on the job and will appear in his old place when the Indians meet Creighton Saturday. Stover is remembered as perhaps the most dangerous man in the redskins' lineup, being able to gauge a play the instant the ball is snapped, and, what is more, possessing the ability to break through the line and spoil the play. He was largely responsible for the success of the Indians last year, when they won from the locals by the score of 38 to 0, and a pretty battle between him and Kamanaki, the husky Creighton center, is anticipated. Kamanaki is no novice at the center game, having held that position at Bellevue college as well as at Creighton, and being recognized as a man his opponent will have to reckon with.

Ames Cyclones to Play Missouri at Home Tomorrow

AMES, Ia., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Ames tries its fortunes in the Missouri valley conference for the first time at Ames on State field next Saturday with Missouri. The outcome of that game will have a good deal to do with figuring out how Ames may expect to rank in the standing of the conference teams. Missouri is out of the run for the title honors, having been beaten by Washington last year. The team is in none too good condition for a heavy game this week. Seven men, three of them veterans, are suffering from injuries, which, if they do not keep the owners out of the game entirely, will tend to weaken the Cyclones. Some of the men are still sore from the lime burns acquired in the practice game with Stimpson, and their hard usage in the Minnesota game had the effect of aggravating the blisters. Captain John, center; Holmes, guard; Miller, sub center; Foster, end; McKinley, guard, and Aldrich, halfback, are more or less seriously on the crippled list. Reeve, tackle, received a bump on the head resulting in a temporary impairment of his auditory faculty. He will play Saturday, no doubt, as will most of the above men, but there is strong possibility that one or two of them may not get into the Missouri tie-up on account of their injuries.

Commerce High to Take on Deaf Lads

The High School of Commerce-Central High second team game has been postponed until Tuesday and will be played on the field at Thirty-second and Dewey avenues. The Commerce team will battle the School for the Deaf eleven tomorrow at the same field and will play Missouri Valley a week from today at Missouri Valley. The Commerce squad was put through a hard scrimmage last night by Coaches Drummond and Burford, who say the team is rapidly improving.

FOOT BALL PLAYER DIES FROM HIS INJURIES

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Bryan Scott, who was injured in the St. Louis university-Knox college foot ball game here last Saturday, died at the St. Louis city hospital late today.

GYM CLUB REORGANIZES FOR YEAR AT OMAHA HIGH

The Gym club, an organization of girls at the Central High school, has reorganized for this year. The following officers have been elected: Jessie Tennant, president; Mary Hamilton, vice president; Helen Olsen, secretary; Nadene Thompson, treasurer; Esther Boggs, reporter. Several new members were initiated into the club on October 18, among them being E. B. McMillan of the faculty.

NORFOLK WILL MIX WITH OMAHA TODAY

Coach Mulligan Sends Central Warriors Through Last Practice Before Game.

BIG MASS MEETING IS HELD

Coach Mulligan sent his men through their final practice before the Norfolk game, which will be played today at Rourke park, yesterday.

Morcery returned to practice last night and lessened the worries of the coach somewhat. Krogh will no be in the game today and "Teddy" Grove will take his place at guard. The probable lineup for the game is as follows: Nichols and Newton, ends; Crowley and Paynter, tackles; Reese and Grove, guards; Beard, center; Neville, quarterback; Weitch and Morearty, halfbacks; Fullaway, fullback.

During the week Reese was shifted from tackle back to his old position at guard, changing places with Crowley.

The Norfolk team will arrive in town this morning at 11:30. The team will be met at the train and escorted in automobiles to the high school, where lunch will be served to them.

Speaks for Girls

Roberta Coulter told the girls what was expected of them when attending the foot ball game.

Coach Mulligan proved the prize speaker of the program. When called upon to speak he was compelled to wait several moments for the applause to die down. The coach spoke of the spirit within the team itself and only asked for the support of the student body at the games.

Seats Reserved for Omaha at Foot Ball Game Are Sold Out

Practically every seat for the Nebraska-Notre Dame game at Lincoln Saturday has been sold. The seats reserved for Omaha have already been taken, and Omaha foot ball fans who delayed making purchases are encountering difficulties and many are due to be disappointed.

The original block of 400 seats have all been snapped up and fifty additional bleacher seats sent up this morning were sold by noon. It is expected that 500 Omaha fans will go to Lincoln to see the game, as many buy their seats in Lincoln.

A special train leaves over the Burlington at 12:15 Saturday and returns at 6:30, about three-quarters of an hour after the game. Several big auto parties are also going to make the trip to Lincoln. A party of fans at the Omaha Structural Steel company have planned to make the gasoline trip. Among those who will go are Messrs. Miles, Lits, Fisher, Rice, Hyde, Edger, Vogel, Ambersen, Ragen and Relly.

Creighton Lawyers Hold a Big Rally

A routing foot ball rally was held at the Creighton Law school Wednesday to arouse enthusiasm in that department for the Creighton-Haskell Indian game Saturday. Although the foot ball team has always had more representatives from the Law school than from any other department, the lawyers have been somewhat lax in boosting and supporting the eleven, and the meeting was principally held to organize for the coming battle.

Talks were given by Jack Shannon, captain of the team, who is a student in the law department, and by the various class presidents, urging all to participate in the parade to be held Saturday preceding the game. Even Prof. Anson Bigelow, animated by the spirit of the gathering, addressed the students, telling them that the foot ball team was perhaps the greatest factor in spreading the Creighton name, and that it was the students' duty to back the team at its games.

A number of pennants have been ordered for the parade, and it is expected that the demonstration will be one of the best ever given by Creighton students.

TWO MATCHES REMAIN IN GIRLS' TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The remaining two matches in the girls' tennis tournament at the Central High school are expected to be played off this afternoon and Annabel Douglas, present title holder, and the winner of this year's tournament will meet for the championship Saturday. Both the winner and the runner-up in this year's tournament will be given a pin with an "O" on it. This pin is equivalent to the "O" that is given to letter men in athletics and debating.

Two matches remain to be played. Jennie Salander and Charlotte Huntley still have a semi-final match. The winner will meet Virginia Greene in the final.

MILLS' MEN HAVE CHANCE TO SCORE

Creighton Men Have Opportunity to Break Shutout Record in Haskell Game.

INJURIES WEAKEN REDSKINS

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Although Creighton university has not scored against the Haskell Indians for two years, it will have a chance to break its undesirable record tomorrow when the two teams line up for battle in Omaha. The Indians have less punch in their attack at present than they have had for some years, and teams which have heretofore been taking beatings from them at last have a chance to do something toward evening up the record.

The redskin offense is weakened through the absence from the lineup of both regular quarterbacks. They will not be used at all in the Creighton game, as both have injuries which require rest if they are to figure in any games later in the season. Fontenelle and Dunbar will share between them the responsibility of directing Saturday's play.

Though the team's attacking power has been slowed up because of injuries sustained by some of the leading players, Coach Bert Kennedy is much encouraged by what his men have done in their last two games. Tanner was played at end against Baker university last Friday and made an entirely credible showing. Fire is another new player who is showing up well, he having seen his first big service in the game with Notre Dame two weeks ago, when he was played at right tackle. Since then he has been shifted to right guard and Choate has been placed in the tackle position. With Fire, Choate and C. Williams on the right side of the line, that portion of the redskin defense which was formerly its most vulnerable spot is assuming stonewall qualities.

So, while Creighton has some prospect of slipping across the Indian goal line one or two times tomorrow, the redskins are, by no means planning a tame resistance. Coach Kennedy's team, which badly shot to pieces this year from various causes, is gradually getting into shape.

American Magnates Go to the Coast

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—President Chivington will head a contingent of American association magnates on a journey to San Francisco to attend the annual meeting of the National association there next month, it was announced today. Just who will accompany him is not known. In addition to club owners it is probable that a number of association managers will attend, and several trades, it is expected, will be made.

At the office of President Johnson of the American League, it was said that the members of the National commission had not decided whether they would attend the meeting.

COACH HAWLEY'S COLLIE EATS THREE PUMPKIN PIES

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—In connection with the Iowa-Minnesota game Saturday it is interesting to note that the PI Phi sorority at Iowa will soon ice its famous cook, "Pecky," to the Kappa Gamma. The reason is that Jesse Hawley's Scotch collie, who has been using the PI Phi basement as a rendezvous, got into the kitchen last night and ate three pumpkin pies. The collie got mad and is going to leave. The girls have thrust the blame on Mrs. Hawley, who is a PI Phi, and declare she must find a new cook and train her dog to better advantage.

Gregg Goes South

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—The management of the Boston Nationals today announced that Pitcher Gregg of the Terre Haute team of the Central league would be taken south with the Braves next spring. The record is said to compare favorably with that of Nell, a former teammate, who pitched well for Boston the latter part of the season.

Cambridge Man Robbed

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—Robert McQuilkin, 37, was robbed in Chicago by confidence men yesterday of $100 in cash. He also gave his signature to a $500 check, payment upon which has been stopped. Mr. McQuilkin is a large land owner in this section. A year or two ago he made a visit in Chicago and was remembered to a young Scotch girl. He was on his return to Scotland after a short visit here when the confidence men got him in Chicago.

Kickland Case in Court

PIERRE, S. D., Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—The case of Theodore K. Kickland against George W. Egan was argued in the supreme court today. The contention in this case was the foundation on which the disbarment proceeding was commenced against Egan, Kickland charging that Egan took an unfair advantage of his father in a land deal to his detriment as a client, and asking the court to disbar him on this, with other complaints added.

MEMORIAL TO THE CIVIL WAR

Gutzon Borglum Proposes Plan to Make the Pyramids of Egypt Look Like Pikers.

STONE MOUNTAIN AT ATLANTA

The object of the transcontinental trip by Gutzon Borglum, when he passed through Omaha last week, is now disclosed by the address delivered by him at San Francisco before the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in which he proposes the conversion of "Stone Mountain," which is a natural shaft of granite sixteen miles from Atlanta, into a colossal sculptured monument as a southern memorial of the great civil war. This project, if carried out, would, he declares, make the pyramids of Egypt look insignificant in comparison, and outshine the Greek Acropolis. Explaining his plan, Mr. Borglum said:

Memorial to South. "It has seemed to me that the only fitting memorial to the south of '64 built by the equally great south of our day is to reconstruct, as we can, the great characters of those days and in colossal proportion carve them in high and full relief in action, mounted and on foot, moving across the face of the granite mountain in the arrangement of two wings of an army, following the mountain contour, moving naturally across its face to the east. These figures should be in scale with the mountain; they must be visible and readable at a distance of several miles, their likeness recognizable and maintained. The groupings represent the official heads of the south, including officers, cavalry, artillery and infantry. Portraits should include the foremost men in the different branches of the service from each state.

"I have visited the mountain, examined its face and contours from all points of view before recommending or even conceiving this plan or method of production. I have taken many photographs of the various profiles of the mountain, have secured all available photographs extant, acquainted myself with expert reports upon the character of the granite itself, have consulted with experts upon the engineering difficulties that must be overcome, and it is after this careful acquaintance with the subject directly in hand that I recommend this method as the possible one, as well as the most heroic and monumental plan, suited to the position given us. I also propose, as shown in the rough sketch, to cut into the face of the mountain at its very base, and directly under the central group of Lee and Jackson, but hidden in the forest and invisible from the spectators from the neighboring hills, a huge colonnade of thirteen columns, one for each of the Confederate states; the columns will be cut standing in the face of the base of the mountain, the granite excavated around and back of them. Back of these columns, I propose also to create a room reaching sixty feet into the mountain and running entire length of the colonnade, this room, or great hall, to be hereafter dedicated to the United Daughters of the Confederacy and to be used by them as a gathering place. I further suggest that the most complete record that can be assembled of the war, this hall would be approached through a beautiful park which will be a part of and the property of the reservation; a broad flight of granite steps would lead to the entrance and would complete the memorial. In other words, this memorial is contained within the natural surface of this great mountain.

Depends on Organization. "The production of this memorial will depend upon vigor and good organization; the time necessary will be three, five and eight years, dividing the work into three parts. The central group containing the main characters can be finished and unveiled within three years; the rest of the work, of course, would be under way and in preparation. Small models and a complete design of the entire work could be prepared in about six months. This, of course, does not mean working models for any part of the work. I should advise the building at once in the neighborhood of the mountain of two large studios where all models, designs, drawings and data of all sorts whatsoever connected with this work should be kept and become the property forever of the Monument association."

Young Bachelor Accused. AURORA, Neb., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Nels Nelson, a young bachelor farmer living east of Marquette, was assaulted Tuesday evening as he was entering the door of his home. The assailant struck him on the head and shoulders with a heavy club and shot at him twice, the shots not taking effect. Yesterday dogs from Beatrice were secured and they followed a scent to the home of Fred Luff, another young bachelor. Luff denies any knowledge of the assault, but was arrested on circumstantial evidence. It is said threats were made by him, the trouble originating through jealousy in a love affair. Bonds of $1,000 were signed for the appearance of Luff at a hearing set for November 2.

'STRANGLER' LEWIS GREAT, BIG FIZZLE

Dances Around Ring at Evansville Until Stecher Rushes and Dashes Him to Ropes.

WON'T COME BACK SECOND TIME

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—When "Strangler" Ed Lewis challenged, failed to reappear last night to wrestle for the second fall. Joseph Stecher of Dodge, Neb., was declared winner of the match. The end came at 12:20 when, after two hours and three minutes of wrestling, Stecher, angered at Lewis' "watchful waiting," rushed him into the ropes.

Lewis refused to arise and was carried into his dressing room. Doctors had to force their way into the room, according to a statement made to the audience by Mayor Benjamin Boese, who was a spectator. Physicians who examined the wrestler said they found him unharmed. The first fall was given to Stecher, and when Lewis failed to reappear to wrestle for the second fall at the expiration of fifteen minutes, the match was also awarded to him.

Lewis throughout evaded the champion, dancing around the ring and keeping as far from the Nebraska as possible. Mayor Boese announced that no more matches would be permitted here until he was assured they would be honestly contested. The crowd hooted and jeered when Lewis refused to make a move when behind Stecher on the mat.

Infantry Team Wins. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 21.—The United States army infantry team won the national team match at the state rifle range here today. The marine corps team was second, the United States army cavalry team third and the Massachusetts National Guard team fourth.

Put YOUR Money Into a Home! Why be eternally paying rent with nothing to show for your money but rent receipts? It is just as easy to make your rent money apply towards the payment of a home of your own. Then, after a time the title is clear and the property belongs to you. It means that you are ahead just that much, you have saved the cost of the house and lot, saved money which otherwise would have been gone.

Many people are following this plan of buying property with the money they would otherwise pay for rent. There are many advantages to it. It enables you to have a new home, built to your own individual taste, in a desirable location, and assures you of wealth and independence.

Read the real estate offerings of THE BEE and you will be placed in touch with many opportunities which offer a chance to step out of the paying-rent class.
