ONE HUNDRED FORMOSANS

EXECUTED BY JAPANESE Correspondence of the Associated Press.) TAIWAN, Formosa, Sept. 34.-One hundred and seven Formosans were sentenced to death yesterday for revolt against the Japanese administration.

the revolutionaries warned the authorities that the natives were dissatisfied with the government regulations under which they lived and that the revolutionary movement started by the accused had a far reaching effect among the islanders.

lors of the Taiwan prefectural office. In their statement in reply to the query of the public procurator they said that since the occupation of Formesa by Japan the islanders had constantly suf-fered from misadministration; that they had been deprived of their industries and trade and were greaning under heavy taxation. They declared that in the long run the islanders would be reduced to wretched and deplorable conditions. Their aim was to drive out the Japanese from the island.
According to the prosecutor the revofunds by inducing the ignorant islanders to join and support their scheme. To carry out this purpose they fabricated and circulated wild rumors to appeal to the superstitious minds of the jalanders
