

What Women Are Doing in the World

JUDGE W. G. SEARS will talk on "The Possibilities of Greater Omaha" before the political and social science department of the Omaha Woman's club Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the Young Women's Christian association.

"The Bible as Literature" will furnish the subject for study by the Dundee Women's club, this winter. At the meeting Wednesday, to be held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Baird, "The Verification of the Bible" will be the special topic.

Mrs. Charles R. Thiem is in charge of the musical program which will be given for the Scottish Rite Woman's club Friday afternoon, at the Scottish Rite cathedral.

A splendid program on "Bird Conservation" has been arranged by Major James Sadler chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, for its meeting Friday at 4 o'clock, at the home of the regent, Mrs. William Archibald Smith.

Mrs. C. H. Aull, state regent, and Mrs. F. R. Straight, regent of Omaha chapter, will be special guests of honor.

"Beowulf" and nature stories will be told by members of the Wyche Story Tellers' league, Thursday afternoon at the public library. Miss Jessie Stitt, leader of the program, will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Hayes, Mrs. J. W. Reynolds and Miss Jennette Watson.

Miss Mary Irene Wallace, leader of the drama section of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, will talk on "Synge, the Irish playwright, at the sectional meeting to be held Thursday at 4 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Van Orsdel. A cast including Mesdames Stephen Davies, Doane Powell, W. H. Abbott and Miss Beulah Adams, will give "The Shadow of the Glen" by this writer.

Mrs. F. L. Adams will entertain chapter E of the P. E. O. sisterhood at luncheon at her home, Thursday. She will be assisted by Mrs. W. A. Shropshire, Mrs. W. P. Campbell will relate her experiences on a trip to the Panama exposition, describing the fair, and Mrs. Andrew Traynor will read letters from absent members. Musical numbers will be given by Mrs. T. M. Giltner.

Rabbi Frederick Cohn will give a lecture on Browning's "Paracelsus" before Mus Sigma club members, Wednesday morning. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Platner and each member is privileged to bring a guest. Tested labor and time saving appliances will be discussed by the home economics department of the South Omaha Woman's club when it meets Tuesday at the home of the ex-president, Mrs. N. M. Graham. There will be a demonstration of the new glass baking dishes. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Bruce McCulloch, Mrs. Charles Gove and Mrs. J. H. Curt.

The Angelus Social club, one of the newer literary organizations, will present a four-act comedy, "Uncle Rube," a down east Yankee play by Charles Townsend at the Creighton auditorium, Wednesday evening, November 7. An "ad-

Top Liners of the Best Dancing Circles Look Swell in Their Kitchen Aprons and Caps.

PRODUCT IS GOOD TO EAT

Kitchen Maids in Their Households Will Have to Know Their Business to Make Good.

Last year it was "one, two, three, dip!" that was floating hastily through the minds of our fair society maidens. Now, it is cups of flour, teaspoonful of baking powder, a dash of pepper, a pinch of salt, spatulas, egg-beaters and carving knives which occupy their attention. A weary of the dance, tired of bridge, bored with luncheons and teas, twyla of Omaha's loveliest young women have formed a special class where they will learn the first principles of cookery. You might imagine it was fudge, divinity, chocolate eclairs and such like they wanted to learn to make. No, indeed! It was the regular bona fide art, like mother used to cook before father made a million, that they wanted to learn. "Practical cookery!" they chorused to the domestic science instructor. So practical cookery she arranged to give them. Recipes for meats and vegetables were accordingly adopted. Salads? Oh, no! They were surfeited with salads. Candies? No, indeed! That was bad for the complexion. But one delectable concoction they could not withstand. They were tempted and they fell. Their Waterloo was angel cake. This cake, they insisted, they must learn to bake.

Now, every Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, our fair young belles went their way to the cookery class. Dainty fingers which formerly wielded tennis racket or golf stick, are mixing, moulding, measuring, and rinsing pots and kettles down at the cookery class.

These young women have already learned some of the most important basic principles of the culinary art. If any skeptic were to inquire of any of them, "How is water heated?" he would be silenced by the unhesitating reply, "By placing it over a fire."

If unconvinced, he should put this poem: "How do you fry eggs?" the answer would come with the calm dignity of a thorough knowledge. "Remove the shells and place in a frying pan." "Certainly, silly reader, the eggs, not the shells are to be placed in the frying pan."

One could bet the crown jewels that nothing like the incident of the man who bodied his watch while he held an egg in his hand will ever happen to these young women.

There is a story going the rounds to the effect that a young married man attacked a piece of pie that his bride had baked. Observing his glances, the tearful bride exclaimed: "Dearie, I don't know what is the matter with that pie. I must have left something out when I baked it."

"It couldn't be anything you left out, it is something you put in, that makes it taste so abominable," replied hubby.

It is said that the repetition of stories of this ilk caused the organization of this particular cookery class. Certainly it is not the old saw, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," for each of these popular damels have sworn salore at their feet, would they but deign to cast a smile upon them.

The other morning one of our gay young Lotharios called to return a pair of gloves mislaid had forgotten to claim when returning from the theater the night before. He found her in the kitchen, fetchingly attired in apron and cap, emulge of flour on her nose and the dainty fingertips he feign would kiss, moist with egg and sticky with molasses.

Another related that when he telephoned to extend an invitation for a motor party, the enthusiastic young housekeeper replied hurriedly, "I can't talk to you now. I'm busy, baking a cake," and hung up the receiver.

So now all the young bachelors are eagerly awaiting their next dinner invitation at the homes of any of the members of the cookery class, each one antcipating with pleasure mislaid serving him with some particularly appetizing dish she has herself prepared.

Talk about your nectar and ambrosia of the gods, it is dollars to doughnuts the bachelors would accept a dinner invitation from one of these young women quicker than they would to an Olympian feast.

Enrolled in the class are the Misses Elizabeth and Helen Bruce, Mary Burkley, Mildred Butler, Elizabeth Davis, an Ak-Sar-Ben queen, Menie Davis, Louise Dinning, Hilda Hammer and Daphne and Gladys Peters. Mrs. Ben Wood is the only young matron who has enrolled in the class.

Omaha's chorus of twenty-two persons will take part in the entertainment.

An open meeting of the Dundee Circle of the Child Conservation league will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Dundee school. Dr. E. T. Manning will give an illustrated talk on "Agedness and Tonists and their Effects Upon Physical and Mental Efficiency." The program will be opened with musical numbers, presented by Lena Eilsworth Dale and Gladys Hahn Chambers, including the Carmen's Waltz by Wilson, "Sighting's Song" by Nivin and Cadman's "From the Land of the Sky-blue Water." Members of the club will give items of current interest.

At the business meeting of the Dundee Catholic Circle held Monday at the home of Mrs. Arnold Jaeger, Mrs. Grover C. Bedford was elected president, and Mrs. W. E. Hill, secretary and treasurer. The next meeting will be Monday at the home of Mrs. Edward Callahan, 6306 Webster street.

The concert benefit of the Memory Day association Wednesday evening was a great success. Miss Adelyn Wood, Mrs. Beulah Dale Turner, Mrs. Jessie Florence Onaway, Mr. Harry Diebrow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thiem and Miss Gertrude Thiem, Mrs. Harry Diebrow, and Mrs. Harvey Milliken took part in the program.

A permanent organization of the Southeast Parent-Teachers' club will be effected at a meeting to be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. W. A. Vickery, sr. Mrs. N. C. Christiansen and Mrs. Elmsler are among the women interested in the new organization.

The Baptist Missionary circle of Benson will meet at the home of Mrs. D. C. Williams Thursday afternoon, when the first chapter of "The Dark Continent of Africa" will be discussed.

The Benson Women's Christian Temperance union held a mothers' meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Ward. A program of music and readings, with an address by Mrs. Frank Butts, was given. Mrs. F. B. Oliver gave a paper on "Mothering the Girls" and Mrs. F. S. King on "Social Center Work."

The Women's club of Benson met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. V. Starrett. It was voted to have a civic committee to work with the city council in all improvements of the city. The president will appoint a committee of three members. After the regular program on "Immigration" the open discussion on the subject was most exciting, all the women talking at once.

Mrs. Claudia V. Galloway, instructor of the philosophy and ethics department of the Woman's club, will talk on "The Evolution of the Individual" at the meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the assembly room at the Young Women's Christian association. The department is studying theology. Mrs. S. A. Collins is the leader.

A. W. Miller, probation officer, will talk on "Your Boy and Girl" before a meeting of the Central Park Mothers' club, which will be held Friday in the Central Park school auditorium at 2 o'clock. Election of officers will take place and plans for the winter's work will be discussed. Mrs. J. W. Miller is president.

Prof. N. I. Reed of the Omaha Conservatory of Music and Arts will address the Omaha branch of the Drama League of America Monday at 4 o'clock at the public library. His subject will be, "The Character Side of Literature."

Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, chairman of the city central suffrage committee, announces the annual election of officers will take place Saturday at 4 o'clock, the place to be designated later. Most probably, the meeting will be held at the Young Women's Christian association.

Mrs. Fairfield is not a candidate for reelection, so that the choice of a new leader for all Omaha suffragists is the business of importance.

Mrs. Austin Dadds will be hostess for the J. F. W. club Thursday. The musical program will be in charge of Mrs. Jason Youngs.

The Prairie Park Needlecraft club will observe its guest-day meeting at the club house Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. T. Golden was elected president of the North Side Progressive club at the last meeting. Mrs. A. Attwood, secretary, and Mrs. J. Oliver, treasurer. The club will give a series of entertainments at Drug hall, the first to be a card party, November 12.

Miss Mildred Ortheman, Miss Irene Cope and Miss Margaret McDougal, members of the Loyal Temperance legion of the North Side Women's Christian Temperance union, were awarded prizes for distributing the greatest number of bouquets to hospitals in the city. Miss Ortheman had distributed over 200 bouquets. The prizes were temperance pins.

Miss Jennette Miriam Goldberg, field secretary of the Jewish chautauqua, will speak at Temple Israel Friday evening, November 23. The object of Miss Goldberg's visit is to set forth the work of the Jewish chautauqua in America, particularly in relation to the religious school.

Every alternate meeting of the Temple Israel Sisterhood will give a literary and musical program. A paper of interest will be read by some prominent person of the community and there will be excellent musical numbers. The first program afternoon will be held Monday, December 6, promptly at 3 o'clock.

Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance union will give a reception to the new members in the parlors of the First Methodist church, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. M. M. Clark of University Place, the state president.

The Omaha branch of the Needle Work Guild of America will hold its annual meeting for distribution of garments to the different charities of the city in the parlors of the St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, Tuesday and Wednesday. The business meeting will be at 11 a. m. Tuesday and the reception and display of garments, Wednesday from 2 to 5 p. m., to which all friends of the charity are invited.

The Business Women's council will hold a noon prayer meeting and luncheon at the Volunteers hall, 115 North Fifteenth street, from 11:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. Miss Esther Johnson of the juvenile court is to be the leader.

These noon meetings are to be held every Tuesday in an effort to conserve the effects of the Sunday campaign in Omaha.

The recently organized council will have its first regular meeting Thursday night at the Young Women's Christian association.

Gounod's "Faust" will form the basis of the program for the West Omaha Mothers' Culture club when it meets Friday at the home of Mrs. R. E. Winklesman. Members will respond to roll call with quotations from the opera; Mrs. C. D. Hutchison will tell the story, and Mrs. P. T. Barber will review the life of Gounod. Selections from "Faust" will be given on the Victrola.

The oratory department of the Women's club will continue the study of Edgar Allen Poe's "Annabel Lee," Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Metropolitan club rooms.

Taking time by the forelock, the North Side Mothers' club will have a Thanksgiving and a suggestion of a Christmas program for the meeting Tuesday at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Russell. Roll call response will be items of interest regarding Thanksgiving, and Mrs. R. S. Miller will read a paper on "Past and Present Thanksgiving." There will be a letter box containing gift bag suggestions. A business session will take up part of the meeting.

Mrs. George F. Copper returned Friday evening from Columbus, where she went to assist in the organization of a suffrage league. Mrs. Copper was the guest of Mrs. Henry Ragatz, Jr., the president of the club.
