Wireless Telegraph Over Arctic Ocean

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 1 .- Wireless telegraphy has opened a Polar sea route from central Russia to Great Britain. Wireless station established by the Russian govern-ment in the Arctic keep the vessels advised as to the channels freest from ice. Acting on their information, two large vessels chartered by a Siberian trading company have just arrived at Grimsby with cargoes from the Tenesei and Obi Aintrinta of central Siberia, valued at $1,750,000.

The Obl and Yenesel are huge rivery with a great depth of water, taking steamers of any size. But it was not until lately that their navigation was put in practice.
