JAYHAWKER STOCK TAKES BIG BOOST

Decisive Defeat of Washburn Proves Cornhuskers Will Find Stiff Opposition in Kansas.

NEBRASKA SUBS SHOW UP WELL

That Coach Stehm's Cornhuskers will encounter some mighty tough opposition when they attempt to down the Jayhawk on McCook field at Lawrence Saturday is the silent testimonial of the Kansas-Washburn game last Saturday.

That overwhelming score proves that Kansas has a team regardless of the bear stories which have now and then emerged from Lawrence. Nebraska, it is true, defeated Washburn as decisively, the score being 47 to 0, but the big Kansas score does not prove that the Huskers should not be particular favorites over the Jayhawk, especially as Kansas is laying for Nebraska and can be depended upon to put up the fight of the year.

Nebraska's victory over Wesleyan was expected. With Rutherford, Reese and Gardner out of the game, Procter, Selzer and Forster went in to show that Stehm has some dependable substitutes who can take the places of his regulars in case of injuries. Caley and Chamberlain were in the game but a short time and Shaw was not used at all. All together twelve subs went into the game, and as Wesleyan has a really good team this year, Nebraska followers are pleased with the score of 30 to 0.

Notre Dame very successfully upheld the honor of the west Saturday by its defeat of the Army, while Michigan was being worried by Cornell. It was, of course, expected that Yost's men would be given a trimming, as the Wolverines this year are the worst in the history of the school. Other western games came out according to the dope.

Cornell and Pittsburgh are left to fight it out for the eastern championship. Both Princeton and Washington, which Saturday were removed from the running Saturday, Harvard upset the dope by trimming the Tigers, who were favorites, and Pittsburgh put an end to all Washington and Jefferson hopes. As Cornell and Pittsburgh do not meet, and probably will not lose another game this year, these two schools will be in a deadlock for the eastern honor.

Pitt Looks Strongest. The honor will probably be given to Cornell, as Pittsburgh is one of those smaller schools of the east not supposed to beat the big colleges and will promptly be slandered concerning the eligibility of its players and the methods it uses so that the championship can be given to the Ithaca school. There is, however, a well defined suspicion in this part of the country that Pittsburgh would give Cornell quite a neat licking if the two teams should lock horns.

Tale's defeat at the hands of Brown was expected. The closeness of the score indicates that the Blue is recovering under Shevlin's treatment and will probably put up a game battle against Princeton this week.

Hussane Declares He Is Ready to Do Battle with Joe

Yousiff Hussane, who is now in New York taking part in a wrestling tournament, has written the sporting editor of The Bee a letter in which he wishes to make a public denial of an assertion of Farmer Burns regarding his connection with Jack Curley.

AEROPLANES TO ESCORT LIBERTY BELL IN TEXAS

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 7.—When the Liberty bell comes to Dallas on its return from San Francisco to Philadelphia it will be conveyed on its trip through a portion of the state by a squadron of aeroplanes. Several local aviators have announced they will fly over the relic. The bell reaches Dallas from the west by Fort Worth and leaves for the south by Houston.

Captain E. D. Foulis, commander of the aero squadron at Fort Hill, Okl., which is to make a cross-country trip to San Antonio, Tex., during the latter part of the month, has been asked to time his visit here to be simultaneous with the arrival of the Liberty bell on November 13.

HARD-PLAYING STAR OF CORNELL FOOT BALL TEAM.

CHARLES BARRETT.

Captain Charles Barrett of the Cornell foot ball team, which beat the University of Michigan team on Ferry field Saturday, Barrett's remarkable work in the game against Harvard, when he personally scored the ten points which lowered the Crimson's flag of championship, has thrown him into the limelight as one of the greatest football players of the year.

CREIGHTON WINS FAST GAME, 27-7

Inflicts Second Defeat on St. Thomas Suffered by that School in Six Years.

IMPROVEMENT BY LOCAL TEAM

In the best game of foot ball seen on Creighton field in many a day, Coach Mills' gridiron machine Saturday humbled St. Thomas college by the score of 27 to 7. The victory is the second any team has gained over St. Thomas in six years. The other defeat was at the hands of MacAlester college last year, 20 to 0 and St. Thomas wiped that out by coming back at MacAlester, 40 to 6, this season.

The battle was hard fought and spectacular to the finish. Creighton showed immense improvement over its early season play, while St. Thomas also produced something that sent repeated thrills into the crowd.

To Paul Kamanski, the lengthy Creighton center, belongs the honor of scoring the first touchdown. Creighton had kicked off and recovered the ball on a fumble during the first scrimmage, a forward pass to Nigro sent the leather over the goal line, but it was here knocked out of the little quarter's hands and a general scramble for its possession resulted. Kamanski recovered the pigskin about six inches from the line, with Nigro and Captain Shannon sprawling on top of him. Nigro hissed "Shove her over," which "St" lost no time in doing.

Take a Ball on Fumble. Creighton again kicked off and on another fumble by St. Thomas Lutes recovered with a clear field before him, but lost the pigskin, another Creighton man falling on it. Then commenced a display of terrific foot ball by both teams. Line smashes, end runs, hard and desperate tackles, and forward passes followed each other rapidly.

Flanagan finally tore through the entire opposition on a trick play for forty yards, following which a neat pass from Nigro to Hale scored Creighton's next tally. Plats kicked goal. Score: Creighton, 13; St. Thomas, 6.

The second quarter was scoreless. Farrell, Sullivan and Ward negotiated a number of nice gains for the visitors, but as a rule the Creighton defense was invincible. Lutes, Flanagan, Shannon, Stapleton, and Wise time and again smashed the attack of the visiting backs, and on only few occasions was first down made. In this period a clever trick forward pass, Plats to Brennan, netted Creighton about thirty yards, and was followed immediately by another peg by the same party for ten more. Plats then tried a field goal, but was standing too near his own line, and the kick fell short.

When Saints Score. The Saints made their only points in the third period, but the score was earned. St. Thomas kicked off, Creighton made no gains and Wise punted. A forward pass, Farrell to Ward, advanced the leather, and a penalty to Creighton for holding added fifteen yards. Sullivan broke away for twelve yards more, and the following play, a pass from Harrington to Conny, brought the ball across the thirty-yard line. Several Creighton men tried to block the play, but without avail.

The remainder of this quarter was spectacular. Conway, St. Thomas' wizard left end, snatched up the ball when Nigro dropped it after receiving a forward pass from Plats and raced thirty yards before being downed. A few seconds later Plats repeated the performance for Creighton, tearing down the field sixty yards on an intercepted pass. He was brought to a halt on the twenty-yard line, but his run gave Creighton its third touchdown. A risky forward pass, which the visitors stabbed at and touched, landed in Captain Shannon's arms on the one-yard line, and Nigro plunged over for the score.

Darkness Settles Down. Perhaps the most spectacular playing witnessed in the final period, though darkness rendered it difficult to follow the amazing attack. This quarter was almost entirely one of forward passes, Creighton carried the ball down the field by the air route, and Flanagan, the doughty half, battered his way from the thirty-yard line through the whole St. Thomas team for the last score, Plats kicking goal.

Then came the Saints with a vengeance. Three different times they carried the leather to the local goal entirely by forward passes with gruesome success, a touchdown falling in the first instance when Conny muffed an easy forward pass, next time by Creighton's brilliant defense on its five-yard line, and finally by the timer's whistle, the ball resting one yard from goal. This heroic series of passes was little short of marvelous, although ultimate success each time failed.

Flouring on Next Game. With a week in which to put on some finishing touches, Coach Mills' machine ought to be a worthy foe for Notre Dame. Lutes, Plats, Shannon, Wise, Stapleton, Flanagan and Brennan all showed real class yesterday, and Nigro at quarter ran the team like a veteran. For the visitors Sullivan, Ward and Farrell starred, while Conway won distinction in capturing forward passes, and his running mate, little Conny, at left end displayed the best defensive work witnessed hereabouts for some time.

Belgians in the Hospitals and Prisons In Need of Books

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Among the thousands of Belgian soldiers now in hospitals in England and in France, detained in camps in Holland and prisoners in Germany, there is a widespread need of good books, and a committee that has been formed to enlist American aid in the matter announces that books or money for their purchase will be received by Pierre Mall, Belgian consul general in New York. The members of the honorary committee include Emmanuel Havenith, the Belgian minister at Washington; Joseph H. Choate, Charles J. Bonaparte, Rev. J. P. Stillemans of the Belgian Relief fund and Louis de Sadeler, minister of state for Belgium, who is in New York. A statement given out by the committee reads:

"The heroism of the Belgian soldiers has won universal admiration. Thousands of them are now in hospitals in England and in France, detained in camps in Holland and prisoners in Germany. Suffering and deprived of liberty, without news from their relatives nor anywhere in poverty or dead, the anxiety of those brave men must be painful. Well educated as they are and without recreations any intelligent person is looking for, nothing can do more to alleviate their sufferings than literature in their own language.

"There is a real need among those Belgian soldiers for books in French and Flemish, and to a certain extent in English, especially works of travel and novels, history, books on electricity, mechanics, motoring, etc., and illustrated magazines of all kinds, also grammars for the study of English, French-English dictionaries and vice versa."

Cleveland Teachers Rockefeller Guests

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 7.—John D. Rockefeller today tendered an invitation to all of Cleveland's 22,333 school children to attend the Cleveland flower show as his guests. It is estimated that at the regular charge for children the party will cost Mr. Rockefeller $25,000. The children will attend in three divisions on as many days to avoid congestion.

SHARPSHOOTER PEELS OFF EIGHT IN OBSERVATION POST

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) VIENNA, Nov. 6.—A remarkable feat of marksmanship is reported from the southwestern front, where many of the famous Tyrolean riflemen are fighting against the Italians. A troop of the so-called Kaiser Light infantry, which was fighting on the Dobroedo plateau, got into most precarious position in advance of the Austrian lines. They could not retreat as the ground over which they would have to run was fully covered by the Italian guns. They held their ground for several days, and suffering greatly for lack of food and water.

The Italian artillery was playing upon them with accuracy, being directed by means of a post of observers on higher ground than that held by the Tyrolese. It was regarded as necessary to get rid of that post, which consisted of eight Alpine, and a soldier who had made a reputation for himself in the Ostetstal as a highly expert poacher volunteered to undertake the difficult task. Climbing stealthily by night, as if hunting chamois, he reached a hiding place in easy shot of the post, and when the eight Italians began to stir the next morning he quickly picked them off, one after the other.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Most Effective. "I have taken a great many bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and every time it has cured me. I have found it most effective for a hacking cough and for colds. After taking it a cough always disappears," writes J. R. Moore, Lost Valley, Ga. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

MANY ENTRIES IN FOR THE MIDWEST

Eleven Strong Outside Teams Send in Cash Entries and Thirty Local Crews Pay Their Fees.

CHICAGO WILL COME IN FORCE

Entries and requests for dates in the coming Middlewest tournament are pouring in every day to Carl Cain, local tournament secretary, and Victor B. Parrish of the publicity bureau of the Omaha Commercial club, who is conducting the advertising campaign. In being swamped with inquiries and requests for hotel accommodations, already eleven of the strongest tournament teams in the country have sent in their entries, and reservations have been made by sixty others. Every city of importance has now been heard from and all will be represented with large delegations.

Up until yesterday the Chicago bowlers had not been heard from, but a letter from Billy Lee, bowling manager of the Brunewick-Halke-Collider company states that the Windy City is sure of entering six teams, and that this figure will probably be increased to eight or ten. With his letter came the entry of the famous Mineralite team, which has been heavy prize winners in all national, international and middlewest tournaments.

The local entry, too, is heavy, twenty-nine cash entries have already been made, and most of these are teams entered by firms who have not been identified with the ten-pin game. The captains of the regularly organized league teams are still conforming with their ancient custom of waiting until the last minute before entering. There are about thirty of these teams who are sure to enter. William F. Weber, who is chairman of the local entry committee, is well pleased with the situation and is positive that the planned local entry of seventy-five teams will be reached. He is being assisted by Dick Grote, L. M. Holliday, C. E. Terrell and George Zimmerman.

The present large entry list is due to the keen interest being taken by the Omaha businessmen in the big sporting event. Many who have not been identified with the game in the past have come to the front and have entered teams to represent their firms.

This season's tournament will have a special feature which former tournaments have not had. The local tournament committee has arranged a place on the schedule for the women. Six teams of feminine bowlers will occupy the runway one night during the progress of the tournament and roll the team event only. Arrangements have been made so that their part in the tournament will be entirely separate from the events rolled by the men. By so doing they will not have to compete against the men, but will divide the prize money among themselves.

The entry fee has been made $10 a team. The Omaha Electric Light Co., No. 1, Nebraska Telephone Co., No. 2, World Herald, Wroth's Cafe, Hume Starr, Mason City, Ia., C. C.
