

KITCHENER NOW HOPE OF ALLIES

Confederates Believe with Field Marshal on Scene it is Not Too Late to Stop Teutons.

ENTENTE TROOPS ARE MOVING

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The political crisis, in Greece, which has clouded the Balkans, has been finally overcome, M. Skouloudis having accepted and performed the task of organizing a cabinet, which being composed of all the members of the Zalmis cabinet, with the exception of the premier himself, will carry on the former government's policy of maintaining neutrality.

The new cabinet is at the mercy of the Venizelos majority in the chamber, but the impression is that no attempt will be made to turn it out, thus avoiding dissolution of Parliament and a consequent election, the result of which could not be predicted while the army remains mobilized.

While the allies now can have little hope of Greece aiding in the defense of Serbia, the belief is still held here that it is not too late to turn the tables on the invaders. The departure for the east of Lord Kitchener, the Russian conferences in Paris with Premier Briand, General Gallieni, the war minister, and General Joffre, the commander-in-chief of the field forces, has given inference that the campaign is to be carried on energetically, by the man who knows the east better than almost anyone else.

Advices from Saloniki and other points today show that much larger forces than were thought to be needed are proceeding to points where it is believed they can do the most good. Troop trains are continually leaving Saloniki, but so much secrecy is being maintained that it is impossible to compute the number of men.

One report says an Italian-Anglo army has landed at Valona (Avlona) on the Adriatic, with the purpose of crossing the Albanian coast. The Russians still are concentrating in Bessarabia, to be prepared to make a descent on Bulgaria from the east.

Meanwhile in northern and eastern Serbia and on the east Montenegrin frontier, big battles are in progress. The Austro-Germans claim to be advancing all along the line and to have reached the Morava river, which has been crossed at some points. In their advance, they are plucking up prisoners, guns and war material.

The Montenegrins, like the Serbian allies, are fighting stubbornly in defense of their country, and report that they have repulsed an attempt by the Austrians to cross their border from Herzegovina, and captured four guns, a quantity of supplies and a few men. They also claim success over the Austrians in the Banjak (Novi-pazar) where they captured four more field guns and several hundred men.

In the south the French are reported to be over the Bulgarian frontier, where they have taken several villages. It would appear, therefore, that the central powers, who have obtained their initial objective—the opening of the road to Sofia and Constantinople—have a lot of fighting ahead of them if Serbia is to be overthrown.

The Italians continue their offensive, but on the western front the fighting consists only of local engagements.

The weather, which has turned wintry, has not interfered with the Russian offensive along the eastern front. The Russians have extended their attacks to the district west of Riga, and thence to the south of Dvinsk. They are keeping the Germans on the move, and the latter admit that in the region of Lake Swenent the Russians penetrated their lines.

The battles continue, although neither side is making any material progress. The Russians claim to have taken 8,000 prisoners by a thrust across the strips, while the Germans declare they have captured 6,000.

Roumania's Action Will Depend Upon Developments

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 7.—(Via Paris, Nov. 8.) There is no longer any probability of a material crisis in Roumania, says the Budapest correspondent of the Corriere della Sera. Even the interventionist opposition, he asserts, agrees with the government that military action must depend upon the strategic situation in the Balkans.

A majority of the people of the nation seem to believe that inasmuch as Roumania is virtually surrounded by fighting forces its entry into the war would mean the useless sacrifice of a reserve of men upon which the entente might rely when the sea route, the only sure road for military supplies, again is opened.

One of the chiefs of the interventionist is credited with having said everything indicates that Roumania's military aid would decide the Balkan war and that this help will be offered at the most propitious moment.

Comment of American Press on the Note to British Government

Following is comment of American newspapers on the note of the United States government to Great Britain in regard to the interference of the British navy with American trade:

New York Sun: The note reflects exactly American sentiment and describes accurately American purpose. We stand upon the law and demand that Great Britain shall obey that law; and this administration only expresses the will of the American people.

New York World: On such a showing of courage as is here made, the terms of the American protest must be regarded as an exceedingly temperate. To gain a military advantage more or less important, Great Britain has become a grievous offender of laws; against its own cherished principles; against several of the small nations of Europe, which it has assumed to champion and assist; the best and most powerful friend that it has among the neutrals of the earth. It has not killed Americans; it has killed American rights. It has done more than seize American property; it has seized the opportunity thus wantonly gained to extend its own trade. If even a steam of sense can penetrate Downing street, the British must soon perceive that it is not to their advantage to continue its present policy.

Boston Advertiser: The note states the American case very strongly. But, for that matter, so did the note which was first sent to Great Britain on this same subject many months ago. And at intervals, the United States has been saying the same thing very logically, very powerfully, very urgently—and without any perceptible effect, that anyone can note, in changing the British policy.

Baltimore American: Great Britain has indulged in no murderous work, but it has destroyed millions of dollars of American property. This is the gravest charge the United States can bring against it, but it is a mighty serious charge; one that may endanger the friendship of the two great English-speaking nations.

Washington Post: This note signed by Robert Lansing, secretary of state, is destined to become a classic in the literature of international relations. If Great Britain values the friendship of the United States, it will pay immediate heed to this note and abandon its attempt to substitute force for law.

Cincinnati Volkblatt: The note of the president to England complaining about the violation of our neutral rights, is unassailable, in fact, law and logic, but deserves the reproach of coming too late.

Cincinnati Free Press: President Wilson's note to Great Britain is not likely to cause apprehension in Downing street. It insists, of course, that the American

SPECTACULAR FIRE IN THE STOCK YARDS

File of Tar Barrels and Store of Fertilizer Averts Tremendous Loss as Barns Go Ablaze.

DAMAGE IS THIRTY THOUSAND A pile of tar barrels stacked near several thousand sacks of fertilizer in the stock yards of the Union Stock Yards company of several hundred thousand dollars' loss at their haybarns north of L street on Thirty-first street, South Side, when fire broke out Sunday at 9:15 o'clock in the top of the old haybarns.

Fanned by a thirty-mile gale, the fire had transformed the entire block of three-story buildings into a roaring furnace. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

The fire originated in the center top of the old hay barn and was discovered by John Zaloudek, son of Special Officer Zaloudek of the South Side police force, night clerk in the stock yards chute house. It is thought to have originated through crossed electric wires.

Coyte Establishes Stand. Battalion Chief Johnny Coyte of the South Side fire department arrived on the scene a few minutes after the blaze had gained full headway and proceeded to direct the efforts of the entire South Side apparatus to saving the new brick haybarns directly south of the burning old iron building.

The chief arrived shortly after and took immediate charge of the fight. At 10:05 the walls of the old building caved in just after the blaze was at its height. No attempt was made to save the old building, as it was too far gone when the apparatus arrived. Engine crew No. 5 did valiant work and the water pressure produced was instrumental in checking the blaze.

Burns to Ground. The old building burned to the ground resulting in a total loss. Four carloads of straw were unloaded only last Saturday in the north end and it was that the blaze gained its headway.

PEABODY, Mass., Nov. 8.—A cry of "fire" that rang through the old high school building, where 200 pupils of St. John's parochial school, recently destroyed by fire, had assembled for their studies, today caused a panic and a wild scramble for the exits.

When Baby Comes. Before baby comes there is a period when experienced mothers are glad to aid the expectant mothers. They urge the use of Mother's Friend, obtained at any drug store, because this safe, harmless external remedy is positively necessary since it brings relief in easing the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments involved, and unnecessary pain is avoided; thus it serves to ease the mind and has a beneficial effect on the nervous system. In many cases nausea, morning sickness and other distresses are avoided.

Witness Tells of New Haven Efforts to Choke Competition

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The alleged steps taken by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad to harass the Central New England railroad and its eventual acquisition in pursuit of the New Haven's plan, as charged by the government, to gain a monopoly by the English transportation facilities, formed the subject of testimony at the resumption today of the trial of eleven former directors of the road accused of criminal violation of the Sherman law.

Chester W. Chapin, former owner of the Central New England, told how the completion of that line was held up by the inability to obtain thirty rods of right-of-way through a farm and how the road was finally compelled to build around the farm. Chapin was able to recall little about the litigation, which the government alleges was instituted by the New Haven to prevent the road from crossing the farm, but he testified that "as soon as we got around it the New Haven lost interest in the matter."

Chapin further testified that he sold the Central New England to the New Haven through J. E. Morgan, William Rockefeller and other New Haven directors whom he met in his office in New York.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 8.—Major General Frederick Funston left this morning for Nogales, Ariz., where, according to official advices, the Villa garrison at the Mexican town just across the border is on the verge of transferring its allegiance to General Carranza. General Villa is reported en route to that place from Naco, where General Manuel Duges, commanding a Carranza force said to number 7,000, is making his way north from Manzanillo.

Much uneasiness prevailed last night among American and Mexican army officials. General Funston stated today, however, that no American troops have been ordered to Nogales, Ariz., as yet.

HOW TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

A Hair Tonic Which You Can Make At Home Removes It in a Few Applications.

Dandruff and scalp eruptions can be removed in from one to five nights by the following simple recipe, which you can mix at home or have put up by any druggist at very little cost. It does not color the hair and is perfectly harmless.

Water.....One-half pint. Bay Rum.....One ounce. Telexa Compound.....One-quarter ounce. Glycerine.....One-quarter ounce. A half-pint is all you will need. Rub it into the scalp well at night and after a few applications the dandruff and scalp eruptions will disappear, and the hair will stop falling out and become soft and glossy.—Advertisement.

TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HELPS

Nothing excites more criticism than a woman with her face all daubed with face powder in her desire to hide a faulty or an aging skin. Instead of using powder, which clogs and enlarges the pores, it is far better to use a good face lotion that will improve and permanently benefit the skin. By dissolving four ounces of spumasin in a half pint of hot water you can make an inexpensive lotion that will do wonders as a skin whitener and complexion beautifier. It removes all shininess, sallowness and roughness, and gives the skin a smooth, velvety tone, while it does not rub off easily like powder, nor does it show on the skin.

By washing the hair with a teaspoonful of canthox dissolved in a cup of hot water, afterward rinsing thoroughly with clear water, one finds that it dries quickly and evenly, is unstreaked, bright, soft and very fluffy, so fluffy, in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. This simple, inexpensive shampoo cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all dandruff and dirt, and leaves a clean, wholesome feeling. All scalp irritation will disappear, and the hair will be brighter and glossier than ever before.—Advertisement.

Hot Tea Breaks A Cold—Try This

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. A cold loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

To Keep Straight, Unruiest Hair in Curl

(Women's Tribune.) The straightest, curliest hair can be kept in curl by such simple and harmless means, the use of the Drying Cream, being, blistering curling iron is altogether unnecessary. One need only get a few ounces of plain liquid shimmer from the druggist and apply a little to the hair before retiring. The result will be quite remarkable, as the looking glass will show in the morning. The hair will be delightfully wavy, fluffy and glossy, without being in the least greasy, sunny or streaked.

The shimmer is best put on with a clean tooth brush, drawing this through the hair from crown to tip, preferably after dividing it into strands. The application seems to gradually improve the texture and growth of the hair.—Advertisement.

Running German Bomb Plots to Earth

The chief feature-article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for November 6th deals in the most comprehensive manner with the plots against ammunition exports that have been uncovered in this country since the war began.

The editorial comments of American newspapers of all political complexion are shown, including the viewpoint of the German-American press.

This article is strikingly illustrated with special photographs, one of which shows the disquieting possibilities that may lurk behind innocent looking exteriors. For instance, a suitcase next to you in a street-car or a quiet house on your street may hide enough explosive to wreck a block. All the ramifications of what appears to be a widespread plot against United States industries are clearly shown.

This number of THE LITERARY DIGEST is particularly rich in other subjects of interest to the great American public, among which may be mentioned:

German Officials Gage American Public Opinion By It

That it accurately mirrors American public opinion to Europeans, is indicated by the fact that a gentleman just returned from Europe who has had the advantage of intimate relations with high official circles in Germany, states that "THE LITERARY DIGEST is read regularly every week at the German Imperial Headquarters for an impartial expression of American public opinion, because it is known to be wholly uninfluenced by any consideration except to give an accurate and an all-sided reflex of public opinion everywhere." Cold Storage Eggs Must Be Stamped, Says Order in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Cold storage eggs sold in this city after November 15 must be stamped as such and all dealers in them must display signs stating that cold storage eggs are on sale, says John J. Dillon, state commissioner of foods and markets, in a warning bulletin received by egg merchants today. Mr. Dillon advised the retailers to require wholesalers to state plainly on bills and receipts whether the eggs they sold were fresh or cold storage.

Mr. Dillon asserted he is informed that 75,000 cases of cold storage eggs are being sold and consumed in New York City weekly as strictly fresh eggs. This, he said, is in violation of the state law regulating the sale of cold storage products and probably the federal pure food law as well.
