

CAR JUMPS BRIDGE AND LANDS IN TREE

John Cunningham Sustains Broken Leg and Five Unknown Occupants Are Bruised.

SEEK TO AVOID PUBLICITY

An automobile landed in a tree top on the Millard road, about ten miles west of Omaha, and its occupants, four men and two women, were dumped through the limbs of the tree into a thirty-foot gully, shortly after midnight Saturday night. The tree is probably all that saved them from death.

One of the occupants, John Cunningham, 1103 North Twenty-third street, South Side, who operates a saloon at Twenty-fourth and Q streets, sustained a broken arm, an injured leg and other hurts.

The other autoists sustained various injuries. One of the women is said to have received a broken leg, while the other is said to have suffered a wrenched back. All were badly bruised and shaken up.

Cunningham, who is recuperating at the home of his brother, James Cunningham, 361 V street, South Side, says he does not know the names of any of his fellow passengers in the wrecked car, nor the name of the owner of the car. He says he was just riding in from Millard with them and does not desire to talk further of the matter.

Some of the injured people were taken in other autos to the South Omaha hospital, where their injuries were attended to. Then they went away without giving their names, the hospital authorities say, and seemed anxious to avoid publicity.

Roy and Harry Swanson, 350 California street, were motoring along the same road shortly after the accident happened, and with other autoists helped the injured people out of their predicament.

Two of the men were taken to Fortieth and Farnam streets by the Swanson brothers, where they caught a late street car. The two young women in the party were taken direct to the hospital, as their injuries were considered the most serious.

Goes Over Bridge.
The accident is supposed to have resulted from the speeding car striking a piece of timber that had been carelessly left lying across the floor of a big steel bridge. When the auto hit it the vehicle veered to one side and over the edge of the bridge, where it hung suspended, one end resting on the bridge and the other end resting in the tree top.

According to Roy Swanson, one of the women remained in the boughs of the tree, while the other occupants of the auto were dumped through the limbs onto the ground, the severity of their fall being greatly lessened by the tree. Swanson says he did not learn the names of any of the injured people, nor the number of the auto that had the mishap. It was badly wrecked.

Omaha Hospitality Being Sung Abroad

The letter carriers who were entertained in their national convention by Omaha were very well pleased with Omaha hospitality, as witness the following paragraph from an article by Charles H. Seagraves of Oakland, Cal., published in the Postal Record:

"Never in all of my experience as a national convention microphone have I seen a more whole-souled welcome tendered by a city than that tendered the delegates to the Omaha convention by the governor, mayor and postmaster. Vestials, with wilted collars and steaming faces, red from the summer heat, these men stood before us in all the sincerity of plain informal manhood and gave us a welcome that one could not but feel proud of, and the honesty and sincerity that shone from their eyes told us better than words that they were sincere to have us with them. Well I know that many an Omaha carrier's heart will beat in sadness when their present big-hearted postmaster must step aside."

DIETZ GIVES PICTURES OF ANIMALS TO LIBRARY

Children who avail themselves of the public library privileges are much interested in a number of snap-up photographs of wild animals, which have been hung in the children's room of the library. President C. N. Dietz of the library board presented eleven framed photographs of wild animals and Rocky mountain scenery, which were taken by Enos Mills, the Estes park naturalist. Miss Edith Tobitt, the librarian, hung pictures of a grizzly bear cub, mountain sheep and beaver in the children's room. Other pictures were hung in other rooms on the second floor.

The photographs of the animals were taken by Mr. Mills at a distance of only six or eight feet, and are remarkable studies of their kind, resulting from long and persistent effort and great experience.

Cured Boy of Croup.

Nothing frightens a mother more than the loud, hoarse cough of croup. The labored breathing, strangling, choking and gasping for breath call for instant action. Mrs. T. Neurever, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my boy of a serious attack of croup after other remedies had failed. I recommended it to every one, as we knew from our own experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough." It clears air passages, soothes and heals. CAR SHORTAGE IS BECOMING ACUTE

Receipts Four Hundred Cars and All Roads Have All They Can Possibly Handle.

GRAIN IS FINDING READY SALE

The freight car shortage starts in this week in a most acute form, with every indication that it is going to keep on increasing. Omaha grain receipts yesterday were around 400 cars, with equally as great at the other grain markets.

Railroad men figure that in handling the cars in the most expeditious manner it takes at least a week for a freight car to make a round trip, and as a rule the time is about as long again. Thus it is easy to be seen that the Omaha market alone requires an immense number of cars to handle the grain in its trade territory.

What is true of Omaha is equally true of Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Duluth, Winnipeg and the other big grain markets, so that besides the cars that are bringing the grain to the markets, there is an equal number taking it to the sea ports and an equally great number enroute back to the loading points.

Every road operating into Omaha is making every possible effort to get cars out into the grain territory and at the same time every road finds itself short on cars.

Receipts Are Heavy.
Right now the bulk of the grain coming to Omaha passes through the elevators here, is blended and then goes out on the milling in transit rate, destined for gulf ports. Receipts are about the heaviest in the history of the market, so far as wheat is concerned, the grain on hand in storage not showing the real volume of the grain business transacted. Missouri Pacific, Rock Island and Burlington officials representing the roads that do the bulk of grain business to the gulf ports assert that the export demand is the heaviest ever known, and that at Galveston and New Orleans scores of vessels are lying at the docks or out in the harbors waiting to load out. At this time the greater portion of the shipments are going to England and France, though Germany is able to now and then get out a cargo.

Omaha Represented in Big Studebaker Endurance Contest

E. R. Wilson, local representative of the Studebaker, started Monday morning on a 1,000-mile journey in a Studebaker car, accompanied by an observer and another passenger.

Mr. Wilson is making the run as a part of an endurance and reliability contest in which over 500 Studebaker dealers are taking part. Every state in the union is represented. The rules are that the run shall be made the first four days of this week, starting this morning at 6 o'clock and concluding Thursday night at 6 o'clock. Each car must run 250 miles each day between the hours of 6 a. m. and 6 p. m.

SNEAK THIEF GETS JUST THIRTY CENTS FOR WORK

A sneak thief entered the home of George El Barker, 622 South Thirty-seventh street, and stole 70 cents, according to a report registered at police headquarters.

Joe Finculla's fruit stand at Tenth and Jackson streets was robbed of cigars and tobacco to the value of $10.

OMAHA POSTOFFICE SECURES A RECORD

Parcel Post Packages Handled at Lower Cost Than Any Other City in the United States.

BIG INCREASE IN BUSINESS

The Omaha postoffice handles parcel post packages at a lower cost than any other city in the United States, namely about one-fourth of a cent each.

This fact was established by the semi-annual count of packages in the first fifteen days of October.

The further fact was established that there has been a tremendous increase in the volume of parcel post business and, while the size limit of packages has been constantly increased, the cost of handling has at the same time decreased.

The semi-annual count is made during the first fifteen days of October.

The increase in the number of packages handled at the local office is indicated by these figures made during the first fifteen days of October each year of this week, starting this morning in operation:

Outgoing: October 1 to 15, 1913, 38,081; 24,425; October 1 to 15, 1914, 57,328; 36,308; October 1 to 15, 1915, 72,319; 46,324.

Of the 46,324 incoming parcels during these fifteen days 27,431 were delivered by regular carriers without extra cost; 2,504 were delivered by substitutes on foot at a cost of 2.1 cents each; 4,663 were delivered by automobile at a cost of 1.53 cents each and 7,286 by horse-drawn vehicles at a cost of 14 cents each.

The cost of delivery by substitutes on foot is the highest of all delivery costs and this mode of delivery is constantly being curtailed, dropping from 28 per cent in 1913 to 6.98 per cent in 1915. The low cost of handling the parcels in the Omaha office, which is now 1/4 cent per parcel, has been reduced from a cost of 39 cent per parcel in 1913, when the parcel post service was instituted.

Plan Quadrangle of Eight Buildings for Medic School

The new state hospital building to be erected in connection with the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha at Forty-second and Harney streets, is to form the central building in the group of medical college buildings that are eventually to form a stately quadrangle. Although up to the present time there is but one building at the medical college, the architectural plan in its entirety calls for eight structures, arranged in a magnificent square.

The plans for the hospital building have been approved, and the regents of the university, in session at Lincoln today, plan to authorize the advertisement for bids. In order to be the central building in the quadrangle of medical buildings the state hospital must be located directly southwest of the present medical building. A large space is to be left between the two.

APE-MAN CHARGED WITH SMITH MURDER

County Attorney Magney Files Complaint and Authorities Will Try to Get Him Here for Trial.

OTHER CITIES WANT HAUSER

Arthur Hauser, alias Buck Weaver, under arrest in Indianapolis, and believed to be the ape-man wanted in Omaha for numerous crimes, is charged with killing W. H. Smith of Omaha, in an information prepared by County Attorney Magney and filed in police court. The murder was committed October 16 at Thirtieth and Dodge streets.

The information charges Hauser with first degree murder. The penalty if conviction is secured will be death or life imprisonment, according to the decision of the jury. The fact that the crime was committed during a robbery renders it necessary for the state to prove only that Hauser was the man who held up Smith and that he fired the shot which killed him.

Miss Slater Only Witness.
Miss Grace Slater, 22 years old, whom Mr. Smith was accompanying to her home, was the only witness of the murder of Smith and upon her testimony the state bases its hope of conviction.

Although Hauser is wanted for many crimes in numerous cities of the middle west, local officials believe that the man can be brought here for trial, since a murder charge is usually given precedence over others of less serious nature.

Hauser is also wanted here for the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hauser and their guests. They and numerous other victims of the ape-man will be able to identify Hauser, it is believed, as the holdup who committed a series of crimes in Omaha.
