

FAITHFUL HORSE IS PUT ON PENSION

But the Day Before He Retires He Performs Most Remarkable Stunt.

GOES OVER HIS OLD ROUTE

Old Jim, one of the Union Pacific's most faithful employees, has been slated for retirement on pension and the chances are that while Jim will not draw any money from the pension fund he will live a life of ease during his remaining years.

Jim is 31 years old and has been continuously in the employment of the Union Pacific during the last ten years. Jim being a horse, he does not have to conform to some of the conditions required of men and women who go onto the company pension rolls.

The retirement of Jim is mainly due to the fact that the work that he has been doing during the last ten years in the future is going to be done by an automobile. In the past Jim's work has been to haul the Union Pacific mail wagon between the headquarters building and the depots. Jim knows the details of his duties as well as his driver, Ed Howk, as evidenced by his performance Friday afternoon.

Jim's last mail delivery from the headquarters building to the Union station was made at 3:45 o'clock in the afternoon. At least that is the time when he and his driver should have left the building. Friday afternoon he was at his post of duty at the appointed hour to keep his date with his driver. The driver was in the building and was not in a hurry, but Jim was. He remained at the curb until 5:55 o'clock, when he seemed to realize that he had to get started if he caught a 6:00 o'clock train to deliver his mail. Without waiting longer, in his teeth he picked up the leather strap to which was attached a ten-pound iron weight, turned around and down Dodge street, at a slow trot, started for the depot. Arriving there he waited the usual length of time required to unload the mail from the wagon, again picked up his weight and left for the stable down on Seventh street, near the smelter.

At the stable the hostler, knowing that it was time when Jim should have finished his work of the day, unhooked him and turned him into his stall, where he was given his customary allowance. In the meantime Ed Howk, the driver, had gathered up his mail at the headquarters, but when he emerged from the building could not find Jim. He loaded the sacks onto a street car and at the station learned that Jim had been there, arriving and departing on schedule time. Knowing the habits of the horse, Howk went to the stable, where he found the horse, he apparently feeling that he had performed his duties and was entitled to the rest that followed.

Judge Foster Has Vision and Lets a Boyhood Pal Go

Frank Randall of Nelson, Neb., was brought before Judge Foster, Saturday morning for a slight offense.

"Hello, Frank," replied the judge. "I'm glad to see you, how long are you going to be in town?"

"That's up to you, Charlie," replied Randall.

The judge, idly fingered a blotter and for a moment gazed dreamily into space. He had visions of a weather-beaten schoolhouse, two kids fishing in a rippling stream and later plunging into a calm deep pool, sunlight reflected daintily from the school house windows.

Evidently the reflection hurt his eyes, for he brushed them with the back of his hand—started—and looked down at the prisoner.

"I guess you can go, Frank," said the judge.

"Thanks, Charlie," replied the prisoner, and turning left he went.

"I haven't seen that fellow since we were youngsters," remarked the judge. "My how things have changed."

Perfect Man Here; Girls Pursue Him

Look out girls, the perfect man is in town! He not only admits it, but offers to prove the statement. It is O. L. O. L. W. of San Francisco, who appeared before Chief of Detectives Maloney yesterday.

"Captain," quoth W. L. W. "I'm in town."

"You're in the wrong department, Oscar," replied the captain. "See Hans Nielsen; he's the summer officer."

"No, captain, I want a detective to find my affinity," explained Oscar. "I'm what is known as a perfect man, and have been forced to leave every town in which I stopped because the women chased me so."

It came to Omaha a few days ago, and while passing the court house I looked into the eyes of a girl, poorly clad, but beautiful; and that moment I met my fate. I don't know who she is, but I want you to find her. Do so, and I will buy you the best nickel cigar in town."

Maloney, stirred to action by the promise of the reward, led Oscar to the outer office. "Young man, you're perfect, all right," he said. "In fact, you're the most perfect specimen of a soft-shell walnut I ever saw. I think you'd better leave this burg or the women here will pursue you and beat your brains out with a feather."

Oscar feigned a sigh, tossed his head in a haughty manner and, adjusting his wrist watch, set out alone in search of his affinity.

ECHOES OF THE ANTE ROOM

Stags, the Newest Fraternal Organization, Starts Out with Large Membership.

TWO DROVES ARE AT WORK

Members assert that no fraternal, beneficial social organization ever started in Omaha has met with such enthusiasm and so large a membership secured in so short a time as the Patriotic and Protective Order of Stags of the World. Organization work in Omaha was started September 1, and up to the present time over 800 have joined. At last Sunday's meeting in the Swedish auditorium over 400 were instructed into the mysteries of the order. This 400 in addition to the 400 initiated at a previous meeting, making 800 up to now, and by December 5, at which date another class initiation will take place, it is expected that the membership of Omaha drops No. 125 will exceed 1,500 at that time.

At the meeting last Sunday Mayor Dahlman delivered an address, in which he complimented the organization department on the work accomplished. Following Mayor Dahlman, Harry B. Pielow, W. N. Jamieson and L. J. Quinby made speeches that aroused every man present to make a strenuous effort to secure at least one new member before the next meeting. Temporary officers were appointed to act until the regular election of officers takes place. The charter will remain open until December 5. The international director has an office at 306 Brandeis theater building, which is kept open until 9 o'clock every evening for the benefit of members and prospective members. Southwestern drops No. 125 will hold its second meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Kobiela's hall. Forty-second and L streets, South Omaha. This drop has increased its membership 100 per cent in the last two weeks and bids fair to be one of the leading organizations in that part of the city.

Woodmen of the World. Sabieski camp No. 75 will meet today at New Bohemian hall, Twenty-fifth and Walnut streets, at 2 p. m., for the monthly meeting. The regular business will be transacted, followed by the initiation ceremony. South Omaha camp No. 211 will meet on Wednesday at 8 p. m. for work. The drill team will give its initiatory performance.

German-American camp No. 104 will initiate a large class of candidates Tuesday evening at New Bohemian Turner hall, Thirteenth and Dorcas streets.

Schiller camp No. 204 will meet Thursday evening at the German Home, 460 South Thirteenth street, for initiation. An entertainment will be given at the close of the work session.

One of the most successful entertainments of the season was given by Druid camp No. 24 at its new home, Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue, last Monday evening. It was for the benefit of the camp members and their friends.

The Promotion of Health

Good health must have its start in the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, for these organs are the controlling power and have direct influence on the entire system. If stomach weakness is allowed to develop, digestion becomes impaired, the appetite begins to wane, the liver becomes lazy and the bowels constipated.

Therefore the great importance of establishing and maintaining strength and vigor in these organs at all times. To this end just try

Germany Renames Many French Cities

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The railroad administration publishes a list of fifty-nine names of French stations and their new German names, which must be used in passenger traffic. Some of the stations and their new names are: Courcelles, Kurel; Avricourt, Elfringen; Premeaux-Saintes, Kuehen; Lincourt, Linhofen; Meziere, Macheren; Vaux-la-Valliere, Wanden-Wallern; Landonvillers, Landeweller; Longeville, Langenhelm; Moulins, Muehlen; Metz, Neuvant; Neubeurg, Ancy; Ansig, Remilly, Remelach.

Speeding Up at 100. Daniel McCane, a hardy Scotchman, who was married at the age of 25 years and has eleven children and a number of grandchildren, celebrated his centennial by learning to drive an automobile.

With a hundred years behind him, but still hale and hearty, the old man attracted much attention as he scrooped through the streets of the town at the wheel of a motor car belonging to his daughter, Mrs. D. T. Ambrose.

McCane came to California during the gold rush and has been a resident of Lassen county for many years. He came here for the celebration of his one hundredth birthday.

"Whoop!" exclaimed the centenarian, returning from his joy ride. "I never knew when I was at the helm of a sailing ship seventy-five years ago that I'd be running a craft like this!"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.—Advertisement.

Denver Man Loaded Down with Drugs

L. A. Cox, bell boy of Denver, was arrested at the Paxton hotel and a package which he had checked, containing 1,000 grains of cocaine, heroine and morphine confiscated. Cox asserts he checked the package for a stranger and knew nothing of their contents. The bottles, in which the drugs were contained bore the label of a Grains, Neb., drug store. Chief Maloney thinks they were stolen in a recent burglary. Cox, who is 21 years of age, is being held for investigation.
