There was a very fair demend this morning for beef steers. Cornieda generally commanded about steady prices. A bunch of choice light yearlings sold up to $10.90. Western range beeves were more sought after than the general run of cornfeds, and they sold at prices that were steady to possibly a little stronger on the best grades.

Cows and helfers were in light supply and fully steady. In some cases sales, if anything, looked a little stronger than yesterday.

Strictly good stockers and feeders were firm this morning, with the general run of cattle fully steady.
