over a year ago, and so far no big bout has been staged in the south owing to the fact that the promoters have been fighting among themselves. Recently Burns and Tortorich settled their differ-ences by joining hands and now it only remains to be seen whether the sport can be made to pay in that section of the country.

If the plans of the promoters go through, it is probable that some new champions will be made this winter. Ever since California closed its gates to the glovemen, the pampered champions have been growing fat on ten-round bouts, and it is quite probable that some of them have forgotten to put up a real fight. There is no test like a twenty-round bat tle to a decision and whether Welsh, Kilbane, Williams or Ertle, all of whom have the ten-round habit, could success-fully defend their titles in real fights in Willard for the title. However, Willard's backers seem to have other views, as they are talking of having the champion meet the untried Fulton with any preliminaries.

Willard never was much of a ten-rounder, and he probably thinks it would be much wiser for him to begin with a few easy matches before taking any chances. In twenty rounds he would be almost sure to score a knockout, which would cause any rudeness in his work to be overlooked. When Willard fights Moran, or whoever happens to be the leading contender at the time, the bout probably will be held at one of the local open air clubs.
