

SHUT OFF ON SOME MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Applicants Who Own Property Must Turn Over Trust Deed to the County in Future.

REDUCED NUMBER OF PENSIONS

Applicants for mothers' pensions must turn over any real estate or equities owned by them to Douglas county by trust deeds, before their petitions will be considered in the future, according to a resolution which members of the county board expect to pass this week as the result of a conference with Juvenile Judge Sears.

Hundreds of applications for pensions made by women who possess property are being received, according to information given the county board, and many pensions have been granted in such cases. The county is now paying out more than $2,800 a month in pensions.

Yet, county officials assert, there are many families, penniless and without property, who need pensions, but who are not receiving them.

"It is a question of determining who is most needy and deserving of aid from the pension," said Judge Sears.

The purpose of securing deeds from all applicants who own property or equities is not to compel refund of the money advanced by the county in all cases, according to Chairman Best of the county board, but to reduce the number of comparatively well-to-do persons who seek to "test" juvenile court investigators.

According to a resolution and a form of trust deed already prepared, the county will be empowered to recover money advanced in pensions to persons who own real estate when the property is sold.

According to a strict interpretation of law, county officials say, no pensions should be issued to persons who own property. The taking of trust deeds by the county will, however, remove the necessity of forced sales and will result in saving money for the pensioners.

According to Chairman Best, the county board is leaving all questions of administration of mothers' pensions to the discretion of Judge Sears.

Railroad Extends Efficiency System

About a year ago the Union Pacific adopted a new plan for dealing with agents out on the lines who made applications for additional help in the conduct of the affairs of their stations. The plan has worked so well that it will be continued in force, not only with agents, but in all departments where more help is asked for.

Every year after harvest and after the quiet summer is over, it has been the custom of agents out along the Union Pacific lines to write to headquarters, asking for additional help. When it was thought necessary the requests were granted, but other day it was refused.

Last year President Mohler, General Manager Ware and the superintendents concluded this was not the proper method to apply in settling the help problem, so they adopted an efficiency schedule and applied it.

Experts from the operating departments at headquarters were selected to form a committee. Whenever a request for additional help at any station came in, it was referred to this committee. The members visited the agent and took notice of the volume of business handled and his method of handling it.

Methods of increasing efficiency were pointed out to him and after a few days at the station the committee was in a position to determine whether to allow additional help.

Six Hundred to Come to Farm Congress

About 600 delegates are expected to attend the Nebraska Farmers' congress in Omaha, November 30 to December 2.

This is distinctly a farmers' organization. Every farmer's organization is entitled to send ten delegates, and the plan is always to have every farmer's organization in the state represented.

The interests of 5,000 rural school children of the state will be considered at this meeting.

The reception originally planned by the Commercial club for the farmers for Tuesday night has been changed to Wednesday night. Tuesday night will be given over largely to moving picture reels of agricultural and various other interests in the state, presented by Dr. George E. Condra of the University of Nebraska.

On Wednesday night during the reception at the Commercial club more of these reels will be shown, together with a number of reels on Omaha and Nebraska presented by E. V. Parliab, manager of the bureau of publicity.

HANGS HAT ON GAS JET AND HAS NARROW ESCAPE

A. J. Furestenberg, 1906 North Twenty-fourth street, charged with disorderly conduct, was brought to headquarters following a report that he had accidentally suicided at his home by the gas route. He was attended by Drs. Regan, Shook and Tarnacia before being brought to the station. "I had got in the habit of hanging my hat on the gas jet before we had the gas turned on," explained Furestenberg, "and I hung it there last night, and accidentally turned on the jet. Foster discharged him with advice to hang his hat on the floor if no other place were available, but never on a gas jet, especially if it be lighted."

LITTLE TOTS WHO LOST FATHER AND MOTHER

Sammy, 5 years old, and Jacob, aged 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Share, who were burned to death on the South Side Monday.

Sorrow surrounds the little former home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Share, Twenty-sixth and N streets, where last evening the parents of the three children were burned to death. The two little sons, Sammy, aged 5 years, and Jacob, aged 3 years, are being kept at the tailoring shop in charge of Mrs. Kenney who assisted in the rescue of the baby. The baby is also being cared for by Mrs. Kenney. Heroically endeavoring to save her husband from a death by burning, Mrs. Louis Share, 4907 South Twenty-sixth street, South Side, was herself enveloped in flames and fatally burned last evening at 5:30 o'clock. Her husband was burned beyond recognition. Dr. E. F. Shanahan attended the couple.

BLAME PAROLE LAW FOR RECENT CRIMES

Majority of Captured Criminals Are Ex-Convicts Out on Good Behavior, Say Police.

EASIER TO GET OUT THAN IN That the penitentiary pardon board and officials wielding similar authority are potent factors in causing crime, is the assertion made by the local police, in addition to the charge that it is easier to get out of the Nebraska penitentiary than it is in.

Identification of Peter Gonzales, Mexican, as a recently paroled convict sentenced a year ago to serve twelve years for looting the Fair Clothing store, Tewitth and Farnam street, of $1,200 worth of jewelry, gave rise to the condemnation of the apparently too liberal distribution of pardons and paroles.

Gonzales, who Juan Sillas, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Delbert Rich and John Pasanowski, who suspected them of highway robbery. Later John Carpenter, Hamburg, Ia., identified them as the men who held him up and took $21 from him. Two other recent victims also identified the pair.

In the last three months, out of nearly a dozen men arrested in Omaha alone and identified as perpetrators of recent highway robberies or burglaries, at least, eight were found to be either full-pardoned convicts, or else ex-convicts out on parole.

One man arrested for burglary told Chief Maloney that he intended to take a plea of guilty, even though the case against him was not of the best. "It's cheaper and safer to get a parole," he laughed. He, however, changed his mind at the last minute and his lawyer won his case.

Others Are Named. Besides Gonzales, other paroled or pardoned convicts who have been re-arrested and absolutely identified as men engaged in crime after their release, are the following:

Charles Philbert, sentenced to eight years, two years ago for burglary, identified by several victims as one of the highwaymen who operated here a month ago.

Ben Williams, sentenced four years ago to serve fourteen years for highway robbery and shooting with intent to kill, Williams was caught after he had holed up and terrorized north end merchants.

Sam Baxter, accused of highway robbery and identified, is a paroled convict the police say.

Loss of Life Heavy In Battle of Gorizia

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 23.—(Via Paris.)—The unbridled fury of the battle for possession of Gorizia, and the heavy losses of life occasioned thereby, is emphasized by advices received at the Swiss frontier from Laibach, Austria. It is said thousands of dead or wounded men are lying between the Austrian and Italian lines, having fallen in the endless succession of attacks and counter attacks.

The battle proceeds without respite for the exhausted soldiers. The Red Cross workers are overwhelmed by the great numbers of wounded.

BABY DEATH RATE SMALL IN OMAHA

Claude Bossie Tells Woman's Club Omaha Has Lowest Infant Mortality Rate in Country.

GIVES NEWSPAPERS CREDIT

Omaha has the lowest rate of infant mortality under 1 year of age of any city in the country.

Nebraska is the only state in the union where cream for butter must be pasteurized.

Omaha uses more cream for table purposes than any other city in the country.

Medical inspection of all dairy employees is an item of advanced legislation soon to be pushed in this city.

These facts indicating the good milk supply of Omaha were brought out by C. F. Bossie, city milk and dairy inspector, in a talk before the social science department of the Woman's club, Monday afternoon.

"The latest wrinkle in milk inspection has been launched in Seattle, where, according to Mr. Bossie, the municipality is contemplating taking over the milk business."

Mr. Bossie urged the housewives to insist on a high grade of milk.

"Get after your milk man once in awhile. And after you have reported receiving milk in dirty bottles, don't come to us and say 'Please, don't arrest the poor fellow.'"

Mr. Bossie warns housewives they are liable to arrest for returning milk bottles unwashed. Milk bottles are used for molasses, gasoline, kerosene and even for paint receptacles, he said, but no conviction could be gotten because the milk man shields his customers.

That local newspapers had been most instrumental in bringing about good milk conditions was asserted by the milk inspector. "The co-operation of local newspapers and the publication of the scores averaged by local milkmen has done a great deal toward bettering conditions."

The program, which was on the municipal standardization of food, was given under the direction of Mrs. Harriet MacMurphy. Following the meeting, the women inspected the Alamito dairy where the pasteurization of milk was demonstrated.

JAPANESE ARTIST SHOWING HIS WORK HERE THIS WEEK

An attractive exhibit in oils and water colors under the personal supervision of the artist, Yamada Haseo of Tokyo, is being shown at the Whitmore art gallery all of this week until next Monday. The work of the Japanese painter has won the highest commendation of William M. Chase and other men whose opinion is valued in the art world.

Over seventy-five paintings are included in the exhibit. Haseo has succeeded in depicting the very essence of life of the flowery kingdom and his work is suggestive of oriental mysticism. "Fuyiyama," "The Bamboo Grove," "Fishing Junks" and the cherry blossom and chrysanthemum studies are especially characteristic.

RAILROADS TO OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY

With the railroads Thanksgiving day will be observed as a holiday to as great an extent as possible. Passenger trains will run as usual, but on some of the branch lines freight will be annulled for the day, especially in cases where there is no live stock to move.

Here in the city the headquarters building will be closed during the entire day, as will the city passenger and the local freight offices.

CLOSE HARDWARE HOUSE FOR WILHELMY FUNERAL

The wholesale hardware house of Wright & Wilhelmy company will be closed all of the afternoon in honor of J. F. Wilhelmy, a founder and member of the firm whose funeral will be held at 2 p. m. from his late residence, 216 North Twenty-second street.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. It is only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath which a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nose wrinkles," "rundowns," "brain fags" and "neuralgias" we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels of the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headaches, biliousness, nasty breath, constipation, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

Welsh Foresees Rain Thanksgiving Day

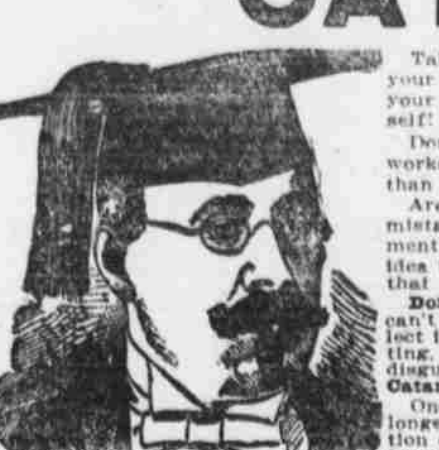

Here comes Colonel Welsh, local weather forecaster in the role of a joy killer, a gloom disseminator. "The outlook for the weather on Thanksgiving day is not encouraging," says the colonel. And he discusses deeply of some sort of a meteorological disturbance which, he says, is approaching from the northwest.

"It's nothing very serious," he says, "though it is likely to be rainy." "That's what the colonel calls 'nothing very serious.'" Foot ball fans would call it by another name.

FOSTER LETS VAG OFF TO RE-ENLIST IN THE ARMY

Judge Foster took his stand for preparedness when he secured one soldier for the United States army. One of the most distinguished of the big crowd arrested for vagrancy showed honorable discharge papers from the medical corps of the army. "I'll let you go if you re-enlist," bargained the judge. "War is hell," vouchsafed the prisoner, "but jail is worse. I'll do it." He left with martial tread.
