Go to Home for Thanksgiving—A. H. Edmondson, local manager of Lottis Bros., jewelers, has gone to Mexico, Mo., to spend Thanksgiving at his old home. He expects to go to Tarkio for some good foot ball games while away.

Many Eat at Hotels—Although Thanksgiving day is one of the few times in the year when the traveling public tries to be at home, Omaha hotels are still enjoying good business, managers and clerks say. While there were not so many room guests as usual, because of the holiday, cafe and restaurant patronage was greatly stimulated by the hundreds of Omaha residents, who preferred a hotel dinner rather than the extra work of preparing turkey at home.

Maher Goes to the Annual Meeting of National Carriers

William Maher, president of branch No. 5, National Association of Letter Carriers of this city, who was honored by the national body by being elected a member of the executive board of this national association, has gone to Washington, D. C., where the first official meeting will be held early next week. As a slight expression of the esteem in which he is held by his associates, the Omaha Letter Carriers' band accompanied him to the depot and played several selections before his departure.

Mr. Maher will remain in the capital city for several weeks, together with other national officers, where the future policy of the association will be outlined and other important business transacted. The pensioning of superannuated government employes was made the paramount issue of the Omaha convention, and it is confidently expected that favorable action will be taken by congress at the coming session, and that in due season these faithful servants of the public will receive due consideration for faithful service rendered, and will be accorded a reasonable monthly sum after they have served their allotted time in the public service and their places have been filled by younger men.

Col. Welsh Tells of Trials of the Man in the Weather

"Two of the worst 'goat-getters' in the world," Col. Welsh, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the local weather bureau, "are first, the person who calls us and asks what the forecast for the next day is, and when told that it is 'fair' inquires, 'Is it going to snow?' and, second, the person who calls up and informs me that the weather yesterday was cloudy, whereas I predicted it would be fair. 'They get my goat!' People don't appreciate the weather bureau because they don't know its rules and regulations. 'New, in the first place, when the prediction is for 'fair' it is perfectly silly to ask whether it is going to snow. If the indications are considered 'fair' we wouldn't predict fair weather. 'In regard to the second goat-getter, he is more excusable. Many people believe that the prediction 'fair' means clear and sunny. It doesn't mean that necessarily the sky may hang heavy with clouds, but we would call that a 'fair' day anyway. Any day when there is less than one-hundredth of an inch of precipitation is considered 'fair' according to the United States weather bureau. 'And mark, also, that you never see the word 'clear' in a weather prediction. We don't pretend to keep track of every wandering cloud and predict just how much sunshine there'll be."

Cafe Owner Loses Large Sum When He Does Not Lock Safe

R. B. King, proprietor of a cafe at 1825 Farnam street, and a former Chicago detective, was robbed of $38 Tuesday night. That is, that amount was taken from a safe which he forgot to lock when he left the restaurant. He mentioned the fact to his wife that he was not sure whether he locked the safe or not, and when he received a telephone call in the morning he predicted, "There goes my money. He guessed right, as the message was from his head waiter, Frank Spiros, 300 North Twenty-fifth street, who has a key to the cafe. The place was not broken into and later Spiros was arrested and released on bond, because his wife is in delicate health.

This morning detectives called at the house to bring him to the station, but he was not at home. Mr. King was held up twice several years ago, but in both instances chased the thugs away after a gun fight.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED BY MONMOUTH PARK CLUB

The following program has been announced for the next meeting of the Monmouth Park Improvement club: Piano solo, Miss Ruth Weeks. Vocal solo, Mr. Horace Silver. Speech, Mr. Edward A. Smith. Violin solo, Miss Francis Wilson.

Stomach Troubles. Persons who have stomach trouble are apt to become discouraged. They will see by the following that their chances of recovery are excellent. A. K. Williams, Independence, Va., tells of a remarkable cure that was effected in that vicinity. One of his customers was so badly afflicted with stomach trouble that he was sent to a hospital, but received little benefit and came home to die. Mr. Williams suggested that he try Chamberlain's Tablets, which he did, and today he is a well man and weighs 13 pounds. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

CHURCHES JOIN IN SONGS OF PRAISE

Union Services Are Held When Congregations Give Thanks for Peace Nation Enjoys.

OFFERINGS GIVEN TO HOSPITAL

Rectors and members of the Episcopal churches of the city united in union Thanksgiving day services at Trinity cathedral, holy communion being observed at 8 and regular preaching services at 11 o'clock. The music was by the cathedral choir, "America" being the introductory selection and "Onward Christian Soldier," the closing. At the preaching service the scriptural lesson was by Rev. T. J. Mackay of All Saints, the sermon by Rev. J. H. Ohl of South Omaha, and the closing prayer by Bishop A. L. Williams. The offering, that was very liberal, was for the Clarkson Memorial hospital. The cathedral was well filled, large numbers of those present coming from the other churches. The sermon had largely to do with thankfulness upon this occasion and the peace that reigns throughout the country and the prosperity that is general. Said Rev. Mr. Ohl:

"We are blessed with peace. This day is not one designed for simply feasting and overfeeding and going to the various places of worship. Rather, we should think seriously, and remember that it is well said 'that no nation is so greatly blessed as this. Although all about us other nations are engaged in war, we are blessed with peace and permitted to minister to those less fortunate.'"

The speaker contrasted the present with the past in the matter of enjoying religious worship without fear or hindrance. In discussing this, he pointed to the period of the early settlement of the United States, detailing incidents of the days when the early settlers of New England, to protect themselves from foes, went to their churches armed.

"We," continued the speaker, "appear to have been singled out as stewards to alleviate the suffering and succor the needy and in doing this we should get in touch with Jesus Christ in the effort to make men better, driving people to Him through our efforts."

The speaker asserted that it is the natural inclination of man to do the easy and the pleasant things, and at the same time, among other things, that he should do, is to go where duty calls. In closing, he said:

"We have been blessed as a nation and blessed as individuals and we should thank God that we have been able to minister to those across the water, as well as to those of our own land."

Sunrise Services. One hundred Christian Endeavorers of the city held a Thanksgiving sunrise prayer meeting in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian association. Stuart Wig, president of the city union of Christian Endeavor societies, presided. The service was one of song and praise and prayer. Several speakers voiced their thanks that is due for the many blessings enjoyed in this favored spot of the world.

Besides Mr. Wig, there were speeches by Arthur Chase and Rev. Fred W. Leavitt, and a number of those present gave testimonials of thanks. The meeting lasted an hour. The young folks present from the Third Presbyterian church went from the meeting to the church where they served themselves a Thanksgiving breakfast. These had planned a "hike" to Riverview park, but a "hike" to the commissary seemed the more urgent and it was so ordered. John Gunn, the choirmaster, and Mr. Wig secured the necessities from a market and the feminine portion exercised their culinary skill.

Lutheran Churches Unite. Union Thanksgiving services of the English Lutheran churches of the city were held in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Twentieth and Burdette streets, at 10:30 a. m. The sermon was by Rev. Mr. Koch, assistant pastor at Kountze Memorial Lutheran church.

Rev. C. N. Swihart of Grace Lutheran church, Rev. Dr. O. D. Baitly of Kountze Memorial Lutheran church and Rev. Dr. J. Groh of St. Mark's Lutheran church participated in the service.
