It is easy and inexpensive to have pretty, charming hair and lots of it. If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Advertisement.

M. P. SPEEDS UP ITS FREIGHT FOR OMAHA

Makes Good on Its Promise to Deliver New York Freight Here in Five Days.

FIRST CAR HAS ARRIVED

The Missouri-Pacific has made good and has delivered the goods in its agreement with the Omaha Traffic club. Some weeks ago the Missouri Pacific entered into an agreement with the Omaha Traffic club to deliver New York freight in Omaha the morning of the fifth day out, providing it was given the business. The first car has arrived and the contents delivered.

Prior to some five years ago, when the railroads were making a fight for business, the time for landing New York freight, principally merchandise, was on the fifth day out. Then the railroads lengthened out the time to six days and thus it has remained. The railroads, contending that there was no money in running fast freight, all entered into the agreement to make the New York-Omaha running time six days.

Now the Missouri Pacific has broken away from the compact and is going after the business. With the Omaha Traffic club it has entered into an agreement to maintain the five-day schedule six days, if at that time the business justifies it, it will be continued indefinitely. Other lines operating to and from the east have not indicated whether or not they will get into the game to secure the business.

Start in Solid Trains.
Under the new schedule from New York, merchandise leaves that city in solid trains westbound each morning, over the Lehigh Valley road. They come to Manchester Junction, eighty-eight miles east of Buffalo, where they are broken up. There the freight for western points goes into separate cars and immediately comes on over the Big Four and thence from St. Louis via the Missouri Pacific's Red Haven special to Kansas City. At this point the Omaha cars are put onto the first train north, reaching this city the morning of the fifth day out from New York.

From St. Louis the cars come through to Omaha, regardless of whether they are loaded to capacity or contain only a small quantity of freight.

Mean Temperature in November Above General Average

So far the prophets who took a stan for a mild winter are vindicated. It has been mild. And that melancholy calamity howler who sprang on a patient and credulous world, the dire prediction of "twenty-six cold winters" is being laughed at for his pains.

The compilations of the local weather bureau for the month of November, 1915, show that the mean temperature was a little more than 63 degrees above zero, whereas the average mean temperature for November, is 53 degrees above zero—a clean gain of 10 degrees of balmy warmth each and every day of the month.

The coldest day reported this year was Sunday, November 14. At 7 a. m. on that day the thermometer touched 21 degrees above zero.

The coldest day ever recorded in Omaha in November, was November 27, 1887, when the mercury dropped to 14 degrees below zero.

The warmest November day for Omaha was November 6, 1914, when the thermometer rose to 80 degrees above zero.

Those who predict a mild winter base their prophesy on the old rhyme of weather lore:

When the summer is wet,
Little winter you'll get.
Jerry Hinckernagel, has brought the information in from the little Peppio that the bark on the north exposure of trees is extra thick this winter and that goose bones are extra heavy. Jerry is sure the winter will be severe. "Juv walk'n see," says Jerry.

Which is a very good plan, indeed.

Auto Show Men Plan Greater Activity

Dealers who are members of the Omaha Automobile association met yesterday noon at Commercial club to eat venison and to talk over ways and means for enlarging their activities as an organization. Clarke Powell, secretary of the association, reported on visits he made on a recent southern trip, when he met secretaries of various organizations through the south. He there learned that the dealers, or rather the show association, does not confine its activities to holding a show, but rather makes that incidental to other work throughout the year.

The local men discussed plans for widening the scope of their work to include looking after more favorable automobile legislation, endurance runs, good road work and race meets.

dent of the Woman's club. The heating and cooking apparatus is not yet installed and will not be complete, for another week, shortly after which the Christmas vacation begins. For these reasons it was thought best to postpone the beginning of the new work.

IMPLEMENT MEN LEARN OF NEBRASKA PROSPERITY

The prosperity of the farmers in Nebraska and the rest of Omaha's trade territory is once more indicated by the condition of collections in the implement business just at this time.

This is the time of year when settlements are being made for the implements the wholesalers have supplied the retail implement dealers during the year. It is found in the big wholesale houses of Omaha that a greater per cent of the settlements are cash settlements than ever before.
