

Nebraska GOVERNOR UNABLE TO GO WITH FORD

Nebraska Executive Does Not Believe Mission Would Succeed Without Official Backing. TRIP WOULD TAKE SIX WEEKS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Believing that little can be accomplished by a mission such as Henry Ford is financing because it is not sponsored by the highest officials of the United States, Governor John H. Morehead has refused the invitation of Mr. Ford to be his guest as one of a number of people who will go to Europe on December 1 to try to bring about peace among the belligerent nations.

Governor Morehead received another letter this morning from Mr. Ford urging him to accept the invitation and going more into details regarding the mission. He figured that it would take at least six weeks to make the trip. The party will go over in ships together, but will break up after the seasons of peace are over, and each individual will be provided transportation back to his destination.

Besides the reasons given in his letter to Mr. Ford for not going Governor Morehead does not believe he would be justified in being away from the state for such a period and beyond immediate recall if matters of great importance should need his attention. His letter to Mr. Ford is as follows:

Your two telegrams and letter received. Without the co-operation of the president and the commission headed by men of international prominence, backed by the governors of a majority of the states, and a general endorsement of the people of the United States, with a possibility of a hearing granted by the officials of the belligerent governments, I feel that little can be accomplished.

My personal sacrifice in leaving my work am so interested in would be great, and yet if I could convince myself that I could be of service in ending the war I would not hesitate to make the sacrifice. Believing as I do, that a movement of this kind should be sponsored by the highest officials of the United States, and backed by the minor ones, I am inclined to think that such a mission as suggested by you would prove fruitless, and for that reason I am impelled to decline your kind and generous offer.

Notes from Beatrice and Gage County

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. O. J. Emery of this city Monday received a message from Los Angeles, Cal., stating that her mother, Mrs. Ellen Powell, who left for that place a few weeks ago on a visit, had died at that place Sunday evening. Mrs. Powell lived in Gage county in 1874 and is survived by five children. Her husband will bring the body to this city Thursday for interment.

Mrs. P. R. Anderson, who resides five miles north of Filley, died Monday morning after an illness of five weeks, aged 55 years. She is survived by her husband and three small children.

Miss Anna Stroth has reopened her school in District No. 30, which was closed a few weeks ago on account of an outbreak of scarlet fever. The disease appears to have been stamped out.

Judge A. M. Morrisey of the Nebraska supreme court will give the address at the Elks' memorial services to be held in their club rooms next Sunday.

John S. Ball, a pioneer of Beatrice and who at one time was engaged in the laundry business here, died in this city Monday evening aged 81 years. He leaves five children.

AMMONS AT NORTH PLATTE FOR INSURANCE MEETING

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Nov. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Ex-Governor E. M. Ammons of Colorado was in the city today to deliver an address before the stockholders of the Farmers' Life Insurance company of which he is head. The purpose of the meeting was to plan for future work of the company. Several prominent western Nebraska stockmen were here to attend the meeting. Others who spoke were C. H. Tulley of Alliance, John Orr of Lewellen, E. M. Stackhouse of North Platte, B. E. Simm of Denver and Walter Johnston, superintendent of agents.

The stockholders in the company have organized the Western Nebraska association of stockholders in the Farmers' Life Insurance. F. H. Barber of North Platte is the president of this association and B. M. Stackhouse, Lincoln county, is the secretary.

The association will be active in pushing the interests of the company. Over $200,000 in stock in this company is now held by Platte valley stockholders.

News Notes of Allen

ALLEN, Neb., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—The editors of Dixon county are planning on organizing a press association and will meet in Newcastle December 3 for that purpose. There are nine papers in Dixon county, presided over by ten editors.

The corn crop of this county is much better than was at first expected. Grain men who have made an investigation of the crop claim that about 75 per cent of the corn will be marketable.

Alden Lockwood, a rural mail carrier out of Allen, has bought a half interest in the Jordan & Jeffrey garage, buying out the stock of the latter partner. He will continue his duties with Uncle Sam and put in his spare time in the shop.

Victim of Auto Accident Recovers

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—William Meier, who was struck by an automobile ten days ago on a country road, and was believed to be fatally injured, his skull being fractured, is recovering and is again entirely rational. An operation removing a pressure on the brain appeared to have immediate beneficial results and his complete recovery is looked for.

Picture Theater Burns

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Fire which started at daylight Monday morning gutted the Lyric theater, the oldest picture show playhouse in the city, causing a loss of $20,000. There was $15,000 insurance on the building.

Three Omaha Young Men Are Chosen to Go With Henry Ford on Peace Mission

Sidney H. Powell

Will Noble

Walter A. Hixenbaugh Jr.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—William F. Noble of Omaha, the son of G. W. Noble, and Walter Hixenbaugh, Jr., also of Omaha, both seniors in the University of Nebraska, were of the party which Henry Ford is taking to Europe on a peace mission.

The chancellor today received a telegram from Mr. Ford, inviting the Husker institution to be one of the fifteen big state universities to send representatives with the party. He made the selection immediately, Mr. Ford specifying that the choice should be made on the same basis as the Rhodes scholarship.

WAREHOUSE RULING MADE

Railway Commission Holds that Deal Made by York Firm is a Sale. AFFECTS FIRM IN OMAHA

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—What is a public warehouse? This is a question which seems to bother many people and the State Railway commission is frequently called upon to settle the question.

The latest inquiry comes from the Van Winkle Lumber and Grain company of York, which has a commission house in Omaha. This firm is making contracts with farmers for grain, the price to be agreed on at a later date, subject to 1/2-cent per bushel for storage.

The commission holds that this constitutes a sale and therefore is not under the warehouse law.

Governor Morehead Declines Invitation to Join Ford Party

LINCOLN, Nov. 30.—Governor Morehead of Nebraska today declined an invitation to be a member of the Ford peace expedition "without the co-operation of the president and the backing of the governors of a majority of the states."

GERMAN INSTRUCTION NO WIN SUPREME COURT

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Whether German must be taught in the public schools of Nebraska City will have another inning in the supreme court.

In his pleadings to the court Mr. Thayer contended that forty-six families represented by sixty-five children desired that German be taught in the school where the Thayer children attended.

Judge Begly issued a temporary order for the employment of a teacher who should teach that language. Now the board appeals to the supreme court and makes a showing that all but a few of the families who signed the petition asking for a German teacher, did not know the purport of the petition and further show that from a financial standpoint the district cannot afford to employ the extra teacher.

MAYOR BRYAN PULLS BACK HIS ORDINANCE

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—The deadlock on the Lincoln city commission has been broken by Mayor Bryan withdrawing his welfare ordinance, which was the cause of the trouble last week, and Commissioner Wright followed suit by doing the same with his. On request of J. R. Miller, sponsor for a city plans commission ordinance, this was also withdrawn.

FALLS CITY WOMAN GETS HERITAGE FROM GERMANY

FALLS CITY, Neb., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. James Ramsey, by the death of an aunt in Germany, fell heir to $1,000. This has been some little time ago, but the money was not turned over to her because of the delay caused by the war. Last week she received $1,000 and has the promise of the other $1,000 soon.

GRAND ISLAND PASTORS CONDUCTING REVIVAL

GRAND ISLAND, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—A series of union evangelist meetings are being held in the auditorium on West Fourth street in this city, and are being largely attended. Five of the local churches are united in the undertaking, namely, Congregational, Trinity Methodist, Baptist, First Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian.

Following the receipt of a second invitation from Mr. Ford to join his party, Governor Morehead today announced that he would decline. He will give his reasons in a public statement tomorrow.

Word was received that Sidney K. Powell, brother of Duane Powell, Peo cartoonist, had received and accepted an invitation to accompany the Ford peace mission ship. Mr. Powell was born in Omaha and attended the Omaha public schools, but of late years has been engaged in high class interior decorating work in New York City. He is a son of Mrs. A. C. Powell of the Thorwald apartments of this city. Mr. Powell also studied for a stage career and for several years followed that vocation.

refrain of some particularly melodious hymn. Much interest is also manifested in the singing each evening, and one of the local pastors preaches the sermon. The singing is under the direction of Mr. Menney of Hastings, and is interesting and pleasurable to the audience. Presently the hearers of various sections of them, such as all of the men, or all of the women, all the old or all under 17 years, are requested to sing the

PROHIBITION BOMB TO BE THROWN INTO FARMERS' CONGRESS

(Continued from Page 2.) from extensive investigation in the state. He showed that raising a big crop is not all that is required, and that efficient management is also necessary in every detail.

Prof's and Losses

Prof. C. W. P. of the University of Nebraska led the discussion on this subject. He called attention to the tenaciousness of experts and prof's on special lines to attribute the failure of a farm to the lack of dairy cattle, lack of wheat crop, lack of blooded hogs, or lack of any other individual thing which the individual professor happens to be making his specialty. He found out that this government survey of farm conditions as to profit and loss in various lines was instituted for the purpose of obtaining an accurate and reliable analysis of the business of farming.

He said record books would be furnished by the department to any farmers who would keep a record of his business for this year and turn the book over to the department at the end of the year for their use in making up the statistics for analytical purposes.

Uniform showing cards were again entered by the Farmers' congress in the afternoon session in a resolution which also endorsed and approved the prompt action of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry in keeping the hoof and mouth disease out of the state.

That the breach between the grower of produce or the manufacturer and the actual user of the product is still far too wide and must be bridged eventually, was pointed out to the Nebraska Farmers' congress at the opening of the morning session at the Hotel Rome by C. C. Rosewater, publisher of the Twentieth Century Farmer and chairman of the bureau of publicity of Omaha, in an address in which he welcomed the delegates to the city. The speaker pointed out that there is no real objection to the middle man as an individual, but the consumer has some rights and that it is time those rights were recognized.

Grover and Consumer

He spoke of the importance of the topic of "Community Interest," which is listed on the program. "If we can break down the lines between the village and the farm, or between the city and the farm, and make all realize that they are all a part of one community, we shall have accomplished a great feat. In the consideration of all questions that come up, however, we may be sure that each will look at a question from its own standpoint, but some good will come and in the end we must have a more efficient system of production and distribution."

TIME is money, an' the two years invested in maturin' VELVET makes VELVET rich.

Velvet Joe

VELVET is rich and not with a richness acquired by artificial means. The method used to bring out VELVET'S Nature-given mildness, aroma and "body" is the ageing method (all rights reserved by Mother Nature herself.)

Every ounce of VELVET is given not less than two years proper ageing in great hog-heads. It takes longer, of course, than any hurry-up method, but it's the way to take out any "bite" without injuring the rich smoking qualities of Kentucky's choicest Burley tobacco.

You'll discover pipe satisfaction in VELVET that you'll not find in any other smoking tobacco.

Apply the pipe test to VELVET—the test that has already made hundreds of thousands of regular VELVET smokers.
