Kugel Gives His Ideas About Who Detective Should Be

Superintendent Kugel of the police department has received so many written and personal applications for positions as patrolmen and detectives that he has ordered for his office door a sign which will read:

"We won't talk police appointments until January 1." The superintendent states he has 690 applications on file now. The idea seems to have spread that he will appoint a lot of new policemen the first of the year.

"Most of the applicants want to be detectives. I did not realize that the detective market was so steady," said Mr. Kugel. The superintendent's idea of a real detective is that of a man who can detect and apprehend a criminal from descriptions or actions. He says a detective should have efficient sight and hearing and brains.

"He should be able to think" added the police superintendent.

Attractive shopping bags and pictures are a feature of their exhibit. Hand-painted china, dainty aprons, lace dollies and rag carpets are just a few of the things that the women of the Grace Lutheran church have placed on sale. Mrs. C. P. Smith, Mrs. C. N. Swarth, Mrs. Sackett and Mrs. Coffman are conducting this sale.

Kugel Complains of Parole System

City Commissioner Kugel believes more care should be exercised in the use of the parole privilege. He contends it is not fair to the public nor the police department to release a lot of criminals and then expect the police to be responsible for their actions. Mr. Kugel does not want to be understood as condemning the parole system altogether, but he insists that abuses should be abated.

NO MORE ROOM IN MURDERERS' ROW

Capacity of County Jail for Holding Big Game Hunters in Separate Cells Exhausted.

MIGHT NEED ROOM FOR ELEVEN

The Douglas county jail is in the process of becoming a home for retired murderers, or at least for gentlemen of uncertain occupation who are accused of the biggest of big game shooting.

When Leo Angus, the latest addition to the murderers' colony in Omaha, arrives at the county jail he will be assigned to the last remaining solitary cell. What will be done with such others as may be so unfortunate as to fall into the hands of the law is problematical. There will be no room for them, since a murderer can hardly be kept in the "bull pen" with common thieves.

The architect who planned the court house provided only four separate cells suitable for holding murderers. His lack of foresight concerning the future needs of Omaha is now being revealed to public view.

Murderers' Row in County Jail.

"Murderers' row" in the county jail now contains three who are detained there pending certain formalities before judges and juries. They are the following: Arthur Hauser, accused of the murder of W. H. Smith, Woodmen of the World cashier; Rely M. Smith, who shot to death Mrs.

Francis Campbell, Arthur Montgomery, negro, confessed slayer of his wife. Leo Angus will complete the quartet which will be housed in solitary cells. Frank McLaughlin, who is charged with killing Joseph Byrne of South Omaha, is at liberty under bail. But these names by no means complete the list of Omaha murderers. There are many others, who have not been captured or even suspected. There are also several cases which, it is suspected, are murders, but in which sufficient evidence to prove such a statement is lacking.

C. J. Ernst Says He Signed Warrants in Plenty of Time

C. J. Ernst, president of the Board of Education, takes exception to a rumor that he is in need of an alarm clock or that an alleged delay of distributing teachers' pay warrants was due to his failure to arise on a certain morning at an early hour. On the contrary, he avers he was up at six (6) o'clock a. m. and addressed himself to the work of signing the warrants until the work had been completed. If there was any delay he maintains it should be charged to a school official on the fifth floor of the city hall. In view of this explanation it is believed the teachers will reconsider their proposed alarm clock presentation to the president of the School board.

Will Not Even Be Permitted to Be Snow Shovelers

Burnell Smith and Malvern Leonard, after tasting the sweets of freedom for a season, have again fallen into the heavy clutch of the law. Their adventures started April 15, 1914, when they were arrested in Lincoln charged with taking, stealing and carrying away certain revolvers, the property of the United States of America. On May 19 they pleaded guilty and were sentenced to one year each in the county jail at Hastings. So good were they that they were trusted to mow the lawn around the jail, and on September 23 they disappeared from the lawn without leaving any addresses for forwarding mail.

On October 6 of this year Smith came back and gave himself up. Just two months later the sheriff at Auburn grabbed Leonard and $200 reward. Both are now back in jail at Hastings minus all their good time allowance and without the privilege of mowing lawns or shoveling snow.

MAKE MOVE TO REPLACE THE BIG WELCOME ARCH

At a meeting of Charles F. Manderston camp, Sons of Veterans, Thursday evening in the court house building, all officers who have served the last year were re-elected. Commander A. L. Creigh caught the spirit of the occasion by retaining all of the appointive incumbents. Judge Leo Estelle offered a short patriotic address, which was appreciated. Captain C. E. Adams of U. S. Grant post, Grand Army of the Republic, asked for co-operation in erecting a $50,000 memorial to replace the welcome arch at Eighteenth and Farnam streets.

Dr. Wyche of Story Telling Fame Will Be Here Over Sunday

Dr. Richard Wyche, president of the National Story Tellers' league, who told stories to a large audience at the Hotel Fontenelle Thursday afternoon, will remain in the city over Sunday. Dr. Wyche will be entertained informally by a number of hostesses during his stay, a dinner being planned for him by Miss Mary Krebe of the local Wyche Story Tellers' league, and Saturday Dr. Wyche will himself give a series of story telling luncheon for some Omaha women interested.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition. Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are unvarnished, unexaggerated truths about a household remedy of real and actual worth. The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from alcohol or opiates—a wholesome food-tonic, truthfully advertised. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 15-28

Out of the Trenches by Christmas

Hosannas from all the world would bombard the heavens if this hope would be realized. The sufferings of our brothers overseas have touched the hearts of our people and awakened our sympathies as never before. Notwithstanding the frightful carnage we have a conviction that we are nearer to the "Federation of the World" and the brotherhood of man than ever before in the history of this sad old world.
