CONFER ON RATES IN OMAHA TODAY

Railway Commissioners of Western States Will Map Out Program to Follow

WHAT IT MEANS TO THE ROADS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 2L (Special) .- Attorney General Reed left today for Omaha where he will be joined by members of the state railway commission tomorrow in a conference to be held by the attorney general and members of the railway commissions of Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma and South Dakota to take up the raise in passenger rates and to consider action to be taken by the commissions in asking for a rehearing before the Interstate Commerce commission. The meeting will be held at the Loyal hotel in Ounaha.

What Change Means.

action of the interstate Commerce commission in ruising the passenger rates in Nebraska will add about $1,250,000 to the passenger revenues of the several roads. The rate if put into effect will mean a charge of two and four-tenths cents per mile on all passenger service in this state. He says if the two and one-half cent bill had passed the legislature at about $312,500 to the above amount. He believes that the Interstate Commerce commission should be the only rate-making body in existence. Under the present system every state in the union has authority to make its own rates and he believes that has a tendency to complicate matters. lowans to Be Here. DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 21-Members of the state railway commission, including George Cossen, attorney general; Clifford Thorne, John A. Guiher and J. H. Wilson, will leave tonight for Omaha to take part in the conference of the middlewestern state railroad commissioners on the matter of increased passencase and may bring action in the federal court to prevent the enforcement of the new rates in lowa. The Iowa officials said they will attempt to prevent the increase in interstate passenger fares
