UNIVERSAL ARMY SERVICE IS GOAL

Continental Plan Framed as Working Basis for Compulsory Training.

TO PRESS VIEW ON CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The War department will urge upon congress, it is understood tonight, the proposition that it is vital that a definite statement of military policy for the United States be put through at this session and that machinery be created for the organization of a citizen army, volunteers to begin with, but based ultimately on universal military service.

It is learned authoritatively that the administration's continental army plan is designed to operate with either the volunteer or the universal service system.

Just Preparatory Measure.

It is known that the continental army plan is regarded in its present form by its framers as a preparatory measure, paving the way to a decision by the people at large for or against universal military service.

In determining his plans, Secretary Garrison is known to have consulted every general officer of the active army and many officers of lower rank. The virtually unanimous opinion of the command personnel of the army, as well as the civil officials of the War department, is said to be that adequate preparedness can only be secured on the basis of universal service.

While Secretary Garrison has made no public declaration of his opinion, Assistant Secretary Breckenridge, who frequently has spoken for his chief, has clearly indicated the belief that universal service is the only fair and democratic solution of the military problem confronting the country. It has been indicated that the military committee of congress will be formally advised of this view at the coming hearings.

PRICE OF MILEAGE BOOKS HAS BEEN ADVANCED

The rush that was on Tuesday to buy railroad mileage has ceased now, and while it is on the market, there are no buyers. This is on account of the fact that during the night 2,000 mile books advanced 5 in price. Tuesday they sold at $6 each, but now and henceforth they will be sold at $4.

The advance in the price of railroad mileage is brought about by reason of a decision of the Interstate Commerce commission on all of this transportation sold for interstate use.

ROADS PREPARE FOR THE STUDENTS' RETURN

The railroads are now beginning to line up the passenger equipment for taking the students back to the eastern schools immediately after the first of the year. This is a considerable task, as the entire movement covers only a couple of days, whereas, the movement of students home for the holiday vacation stretches out over a week or ten days.

Recall of Judges is All Wrong, Says Mechem to Lawyers

Declaring that he did not care whether or not his ideas met with popular approval, because he believed in them himself and felt sure they were right, Prof. Floyd R. Mechem of the College of Law of the University of Chicago, told luncheon diners at the University club some of his views on law and the constitution, which made a special hit with the lawyers present. He is the guest of the State Bar association at its annual convention, now being held here.

"The power of courts to declare laws unconstitutional is a most beneficial check upon legislation," he asserted. "It is desirable to have restraints upon our actions and our lawmakers. Ideas for the recall of judges or of judicial opinions are wrong."

"A characteristic of all legislation is that it is a burden, restraint or limitation, put upon somebody for the benefit of somebody else."

"The good citizen is the one whose sudden impulses, when drunk as in passion or prejudice, are held back by deeply ingrained character. Likewise, the best law is administered under the limitations and restraints laid down by past experience and judgment."

In the group at the speaker's table with Prof. Mechem were H. H. Wilson of Lincoln, N. H. Loomis, counsel general for the Union Pacific; Arthur Mullen, C. J. Smyth and others.
