MUSIC

BY HENRIETTA M. REES.

THE usual holiday lull in musical affairs this year reminds one very much of the calm which precedes the storm.

It will soon be followed by a period of as great musical activity as our city has ever known. Recitals, concerts of all sorts and operas upon the calendar. It speaks well for Omaha that this is so.

It is good to be able to hear the greatest artists of the world and to appreciate the supreme heights to which they have attained. It is good to hear our local musical people and to know the ability of those who live among us and the opportunities they offer near at hand.

If all those who are fond of music would try to do something individually in a musical way, would try to play or sing or recite, it would be not only for their own pleasure but for themselves.

It is in the hands of those who are fond of music actively indulged this fondness for their own pleasure after the day's grind is over, it would do much toward making Omaha a musical center.

Quite the prettiest of the holiday parties and the most novel dance in Council Bluffs in many a day was the annual party of the Laetipri club, an organization of high school boys, which took place Wednesday evening at the Eagles' hall.

M. Saint Saens, recently wrote an article upon the San Francisco exposition, part of which is reprinted in the New Music Review.

These remarks could apply in a general way to all musical interpretation. In my own observation, two of the most neglected parts of interpretative work are the diminuendos and crescendos, and it is these as much as the extremes of the dynamic scale, which give vitality to the music.

The Tuesday Morning Musical club will present Miss Louise Homer, prima donna contralto of the Metropolitan Opera company, at the Boyd's theater Thursday evening, January 13, in song recital.

The San Carlo Opera company will be heard again this season at the Auditorium under the auspices of Tanager temple, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, with much the same arrangements for popular prices of admission as were so successful last year.

The Nash-Hamlin concert scheduled for 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon, January 30, at Boyd's theater, will be distinguished by being the only Sunday afternoon concert of the Metropolitan Opera company, at the Boyd's theater Thursday evening, January 13, in song recital.

Word has just reached here of the triumph scored by George Hamlin in "The Lovers' Quarrel" at the Chicago opera on Christmas night. This is Mr. Hamlin's fourth successive triumph with the opera company and his place in that work is becoming as well recognized as in the recital field.

Miss Mildred Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson, and Mr. Albert Lemb of Schuyler, Neb., were married at the home of the bride's parents on West State street Tuesday, Rev. J. B. Butler officiating. They will make their home in Schuyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anderson entertained at dinner Sunday. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Voss of South Omaha, Mr. Henry Voss of Grand Island, Mrs. Sumate of South Omaha, Mr. Henry Hanson of Winnebago, Miss Mable Anderson and Miss Emma Anderson.

At 8:30 o'clock at the Young Women's Christian association auditorium, seventeenth street and St. Mary's avenue, she played numbers from Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin, Scriabine, Rubenstein and Liszt.

You and your friends are cordially invited to a piano recital by junior and intermediate pupils of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Borglum at the Schmeidler & Mueller piano company auditorium, 1113 Carman street, Friday evening, January 7, at 8 o'clock.

Paderewski, the Great, Will Play for Omaha One of His Great Programs

JAN IGNACE PADEREWSKI.

Ignace Paderewski, the world's premier pianist, will be presented in concert at the Auditorium Monday evening, January 17, in the fourth of the Charity Concert Course series under the auspices of the Associated Retailers of Omaha.

If Paderewski's career as a virtuoso has been unique in the annals of music, so also may be called his preparation for that career. If the usual virtuoso, whatever his instrument may be, is not a "wonder-child," at any rate by the time he has entered his teens he has had a solid primary training in his art.

Following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seger, Mr. and Mrs. John Wisler, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Winn, Mr. and Mrs. W. Vickers, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cockayne; Messrs. accomplishing in a few years of his maturity what others spend a life time on, and that, too, when the fingers and wrists have lost much of the flexibility of childhood.

In 1884 Paderewski was a poor, unknown musician whose threadbare clothes differed no whit from the threadbare clothes of thousands of other poor, unknown musicians that swarm the streets of Berlin and Vienna.

Paderewski was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth. His father, a prosperous farmer in Russian Poland, was exiled to Siberia when Ignace was a child.

Paderewski is making his tenth tour of America. During the months he is in this country he will play upward of eighty times, and it is assured that his success will be as sensational now as it has been in the past.
