COMMISSION AT CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 1 .- The committee appointed at the recent meeting of the base ball peace conference here to settle the dispute between the Federal and International leagues will meet here next Wednesday at noon. This decision was reached at a meeting of the members of the National commission here today. The committee, composed of President James A. Gilmore of the Federal league, President Edward Barrows of the International league, a representative of the Baltimore Federal league club, a representative of the Buffalo Federal league club, and the members of the National base ball commission

Various Matters Up.

At the meeting here today various matters that have to do with the readjustment of, base ball affairs to conform with the recent treaty of peace were discussed informally, and other than the announcement that the date and place of the committe meeting had been fixed, no news of a definite character came from the meeting room.

It is known semi-officially, however, that the waiver question, insofar as it. concerns the Federal league players, was taken up, thoroughly gone into, and then inid over to be decided finally by the joint committee on Wednesday.

It is also known that there are a number of small matters that will be decided. one way or the other at the meeting of the joint committee, other than the waiver question and the International league dispute.

Not of Importance. What these matters are was not allowed to be divulged, but one man high in base ball circles said:

Toothpick Kelly was a white ho po. He sailed into Frisco one day from up north. He had about four bits and a great desire to be a cham- Balkan campaign, especially in their inpion. He walked down Market street with his six feet two of muscle topped by a solid ivory dome and attracted the eye of Spider Kelly, the great handler. Spider lured Toothpick into a soda store, had him sign a contract for and Chicago Federals. Callahan said he ten years and then gave him some lessons in boxing.

> A week later Spider had Toothpick signed up with a big black mauler called the Congo Thunderbolt. The latter was noted as a terrific hitter, but a hick boxer. Spider Kelly knew this, but his charge was aware of nothing except that he knew when meals should be served. He was dead from the neck up.

The night of the fight came and Spider with his man mountain entered the ring. The Toothpick towered over his manager as the Singer building does over a flivver.

The Toothpick's instructions were to stay away and box the black charger and never to mix.

The bell rang and the ebony war rior smacked Kelly right on the centerboard. The latter felt his nose. It was bleeding, and it was swollen. He stepped back for a spring and then took it and the wildest mixup ever seen in the west was on.

Spider Kelly from the corner bo wled like a mad man: "Stay away, you bonehead."

There was no stop to our hero, however. Reeling and groggy he was Wilson, swinging like a gate. Spider Kelly was howling like a Comanche and white with rage.

At the bell the man mountain reeled to his corner bloody and tired. Spider Kelly met him as he took a load off his feet and squatted in the chair. The Spider pulled back and slapped the man mountain right across tained. Williams will be offered to Ciathe mouth. To the surprise of everyone the Toothpack started to weep. "In

"In the Argonne the fire of our batteries dispersed a body of Germans moving upon the road from Avoncourt to Maloncourt.

"On the heights of the Meuse in the forest of Chavelers a neavy cannonade directed against the enemy's trenches caused the destruction of several blocktouses.

"In the afternoon two shells fell in Nancy. The enemy's gun from which they came was immediately taken under our fire.

"In the region of Hartmans-Weilerkopf the enemy carried on a violent bombardment, following which our troops retired along a front of 200 meters on the western side of the ravine to the south of Rehfelsen. The enemy aid not attempt any attack with infantry.

"The official Belgian statement says that nothing in particular has transpired. outside of the customary artillery struggles."

AFTER THAT

It is natural that there are a number of details that are bound to conflict when peace is declared between two bodies. None of these detailsh are of importance. other than that they must be attended to. The two hig questions to come up of course, will be that of the dispute between the International league and the Federal league, and the waiver question. his stars, including the veteran catcher, can say very little, but in regard to the ling are also understood to be on the walver question I believe this will be Vankees' wanted list, but Weeghman says decided quickly after the situation is explained to all of those concerned."

Another meeting of the National commission will be held tomorrow and it is is considered by many to be the greatest probable that the officers for the year catcher in base ball. will be chosen at that time

To Test if German

LINCOLN, Jan. 2 .- Argument was beun today in the Nebraska supreme court. to test the constitutionality of the law providing for the teaching of German in he public schools. The case is one of appeal from the lower court, which declared the school board at Nebraska City had no option in the matter, but must rovide for the teaching of the eGrman anguage whenever a certain number of patrons made the request. The law generally has been regarded as a dead letter, but with the outbreak of the European war, interest in it was revived, and the Nebraska City school board was asked to enforce it. It refused and on a mandamus suit the district court upheld the law. The board, in turn, appealed to the higher court. One of the features of the suit is that while eGrman-Americans are insisting on the enactment being obeyed. three members of the school board of German descent are the most pronou

ALWAYS TALK, USE and SERVE Can Be Taught Here OMAHA-MADE GOODS

Let's Start

Year Right

You help yourself by doing it. Every dollar you spend for Omaha-Made Goods stays at home to make general conditions better and yourself more prosperous.

Look at Germany, for instance. Blockaded on every side, commerce shut off with practically every country-still, whether right or wrong in other matters, she goes gamely on, the greatest example the world has ever had of what a country can do when it conserves its natural resources and takes advantage of every industrial opportunity.

What Germany is doing on a large scale, Omaha is doing on a smaller one. The wonderful support given Omaha factories by home people in the past is making this community more and more independent of outside territory.

Do away with everything but Omaha and its tributary territory, and we would still live-and enjoy life.

We can, however, get even more out of our opportunity than we have in the past. When we buy goods made elsewhere, only a small percentage of the money remains in our community. When we buy Omaha-Made Goods, every cent stays right here, benefiting our citizens as wages, pay for raw products, taxes, etc.

The profits made by Omaha manufacturers are used to pave Omaha's streets and build Omaha's schools, not Chicago's or Cleveland's.

And then, Omaha-Made Goods of the same quality sell for less money because the retailers do not have to charge a higher price to cover freight and other heavy distribution expenses.

Let's make the most of our opportunity. We should not be dependent upon outsiders. Let's start TODAY and always demand the OMAHA BRAND of the product we are buying.
