GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat and Corn Receipts Are Very Heavy and Cash Demond for Both is Good.

BUT GENERAL TONE IS BEARISH

OMAHA, January 2, 1938.

Wheat and corn receipts were very beavy today and there was a pretty good cash demand for both of these cereals. The general tone of the cash market was bearish, wheat declining from 2 to 3 cents per bushel. Most of the corn coming in the local market at the present time is wet and immature and does not sell as readily as the better grades. Commercial grades of corn sold about a cent lower, while the off grades ruled about 4 cents lower.

Oats receipts were not very heavy and there was only a moderate demand for this cereal, prices ranging from 1 to 1% cents 'ower. OMAHA, January & 1916.

HOGS—There was just a fair Monday run on hand, some 118 cars or 9,000 head making up the day's supplies. Receipts today are nearly twice as large as a week ago, but are 3,000 short of two weeks ago, and almost 1,000 smaller than for the corresponding Monday of last year.

Chicago was deluged with hogs this morning the inpouring being apparently the accumulation that plied up during the holidays, and while local supplies were in sympathy with the declines being forced at other points. Shippers did not get in so heavily as at last week's close, and what hogs they did buy were in most cases a dime, lower, their purchases being made largely at $8,504.60.

Packers tried hard to put up droves at a loc lower cost, but while their early bids were made that way they had to raise their hands a little before anything much was sold. When movement finally started prices were no more than 5836c lower, and while at one time in the middle of the trade prices were even better than that bulk of the offerings sold at a 5630c decline.

The commoner grades of light mixed hogs, that is stuff weighing around 200 pounds and nearly all the underweights were neglected by most buyers up until the close, many loads of this description failing even to attract a bid until the more desirable hogs had been cleaned up.
