NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Salient Feature is Steady Resistance of the Exchange to

Pressure. PERSISTENT SELLING 18

NEW TORK, Jan. 5,—The salient feature of today's feverish market was its steady resistance to pressure. Selling for both accounts was persistent, liquidation conversing about numerous specialities, while investment shares were the target of bearish aggressions. Lowest prices were made by some of the potential leaders, notably United States Steel, in the final hour, but lesses were comparatively moderate in that class.

Sentiment among professional traders suggested greater anxiety concerning the outcome of international affairs, but the conservative element expressed its belief in a satisfactory adjustment.

At the active opening of the movement gains of 1 to 3 points were made by various issues, chiefly coppers. Lockswanna Steel and some of the less active specialities. Rails, in general, rose fractionally.

specialties. Rails, in general, rose fractionally.

Heavier offerings of special descriptions, notably oils and automobile issues, gave the market another setback during the late seasion. Prices continued to sagainost the only exception being Lackawanns Steel, which made an extreme advance of $75 points to $575, in connection with more or less familiar rumors of a deal. Coppers as a group were more steady than any other division of the list. Total sales of stocks aggregated $50,000 shares.

Remittances to Germany made the new low record of 76% and demand sterling added to its recent advance of 4.75%.

Bonds were irregular with a moderate inquiry for Anglo-French 5s. Total sales, par value, aggregated $5,46,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Thomas Shandy of Forty-eighth and ment Wright streets, found the injured man tion. when on his way home from work early in the morning.

At police headquarters when he had revived sufficiently to talk some, he spoke vaguely of a gang pursuing him. "They've been after me for a long time," he repeated over and over. "They threatened to cut me to pieces with a knife lots of times. They chased me to Forty-ninth and Center streets, where I fell over the bank."

Whether the man was really pursued by enemies, or whether his mind is wandering somewhat is yet unknown.

Needs Help on Farm.

'I am 22 years of age," he writes, and my first wife died about six months ago. I am all alone on the farm now and have to do the milking, churning, cooking, housework, tend chickens etc. It is too much for a man and need a wife. If this woman is stron; and ust to farm work I would be pleased to mary her. I have a large farm, 20 acres, and one hird man and I can't afford to hire no housekeeper besides don't seem able to get no wife around here. They are all down on me and gosip all over the county, these buzzy bodys. If a man is hard worker evry body have got it in for him. I would like make acquantence of this widow. I think she wold sute me. Hoping she is ust to farm work and you'll give me her adress, yours truly."

Must Have Good Husband.

'Why I expect he might want her to help pull the plows," cried the honest postmaster. "I won't send him her address. No. sir. This little widow shall not be made a slave with my help. I'll get her a good husband, or none at all." Colonel Wharton will send the widow's address to the other four and will forward their letters to her. It was suggested that he ought to be allowed government frank in his matrimonial endeavors. But he waved it aside.

"I shall cheerfully bear the expense of this myself," he said. "What are a few stamps if I can put joy and bliss into two hearts where now only gaunt loneliness stalks?
