THE BEE: OMAHA, TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1916.

The Bee's Home Magazine Page

How to Dance the Mazurka on Skates

From Photographs Posed Exclusively for The Bee by Miss Gladys Lamb and Norval Baptie, Whose Art Has Made Them Famous

By ADA PATTERSON.

"There's no secret about happicass in marriage," said a famous man on the eccasion of the golden anniversary of his wedding. Yet by his next words he proved that there is a secret, a double ecret, of such happiness and he gave it. 'My wife has always let me alone on occasions and I have let her alone. Then when abe saw I needed help she asked me what she could do for me and did it. When she was not exactly pleased with anything I asked her what I could do to help her. That's all.

all of the secret of happiness in marriage! All of what all the writers and philosophers and poets and playwrights, all the married and unmarried, are striving after and of which some are ready to abandon the march in despair. There are many persons in marriage, and some out of it, who are convinced that happiness cannot be found in that state, only resignation.

Here comes the man who ends their doubts. Happiness in consideration, the two kinds, passive and active. In the wedded state consists in judicious letting. slone and in dispress others of namistance.

Think that over. Is reminds me of what a great editor said to me about newspaper work. It has but two arts, how to make a big thing of a little thing and a fittle thing of a big one.

The woman who knows when to use a padlock of silence is the mistress of pracically any matrimonial situation. For ill timed words are oil on the flames of discord. They are the fat in the fire. They are sait in wounds. They are din tired nerver, a heavy hand upon a

The man who knows that to ask a tired woman, "Why did you do this?" is to cake her want to hurl dishes at him doesn't any it. He waits until she is d, smiling, unhurried, at peace with They are great physicians in family circle who know the healing quiet

There are times when to say: "Can I help you is to offer an affront. But there are other times when it says, "Peace, be still, to whirling winds of the soul, especially if there be children in the household.

There are men-should we call them so? -who think it unmanly, beneath their ordly dignity, to help take care of the children. Such men should deny themselves parenthood. It is a strange lopsided world that permits women to literally sinve themselves to death, in taking care of children, and allows men to look upon the little ones as mere disturbers of their rest, creatures that 'raise a row while a man is trying to read. his newspaper.

I know a bank president and treasurer of one of the fichest and most populous Air" atop the Forty-fourth Street countles of the east, whom I have seen theater pushing the perambulator in his home block while the nurse took the older children to shop. I have seen him spreading on thick slices of buttered preliminary steps, first to the right and then to the left. If the general rotation Who, with her partner, Norval Baptie, is to be toward the right, begin on the is a great attraction in "Castles-in-the- right foot and, counting time to the music for each stroke, step lightly, with the left foot crossed behind, to a short stroke of left inside forward, and then,

A child's stomach is smaller in pro-

For instance few children under ten while most adults will go five.

can go with comfort and advantage for Grown-ups, with their more or less sedentary habits and avoidance of violent at least, can utilize considerable amounts

Children, on the contrary, have comparatively little use for these bulky hay foods, but, on account of the amaliness

of their stomaches and the incessantness of their activity, require a diet composed.

chiefly of nuritious, rather rich, and con-

So that if your child shows a strong antipathy to some particular vegetable.

there is usually a reason; there are planty centrated, real foods.

on the next beat of the music, to a short The mazurka danced in the baliroom step on the right inside backward,

PHO TO BY TRALHILL

In dancing the mazurka it must be is so much more beneficial than dancing The spirited and stirring music accompanied by the gracefulness of the dance fining. stops makes a brilliant finish to a skating performance of any kind.

The pictures illustrated show the neces- sure that you will succeed. Anyone can sity of absolute freedom with the skates, skate well who can do other things well.

remembered that each step of the dance for the reason that it is performed in should be raised lightly from the ice. wider movements and under conditions more healthful because they are less con-

Always skate in perfect time to the rhythm, acquire fearlessness, and be

The Boy Who Went to College By RUSSELL H. CONWELL, you will find that he is self-supporting.

cial and the housemaid was on an errand, appease their after school pangs of hunger. He is one of the best business men and most intelligent and prominent citizens in his part of the state. I should be sorry for any poor whipper snapper who deserved punishment at his hands. They are big and strong enough to crush yet tender enough to wipe away tears of a child.

Heaven bless the men who are manly bough to offer their help to women. nd heaven equally bless the woman who Mes tender offers of her sympathetic help to the man, her man, when he needs It.

At the request of the Essanay comfilm form, the publication of the serial, The Hee on Tuesday, January 19, and times sharp ones to their toleration. will be run regularly on this page, one nstailment each day.

What Brand of Matches Do You Use?

Who makes them?

Are they poisonous or non-poisonous?

Are the sticks long and strong or short and weak? Do the heads fly off or do they stay on ?

Do they burn evenly or explosively?

If people knew as much about matches as they should, they would use Safe Home Matches made by the Diamond Match Company.

> Sc. All grocers. Ask for them by name.

The Diamond Match Company

bread while his wife was at a church so- brilliant and dashing of all the dances. down the left foot on the outward back-On skates this dance loses nothing of its ward, and then, on counts five and sis, life and vigor and is skated with all the the dancers jump from the right inside dash that is generally accorded to the backward to the left toe-point crossed dance. The dance is preceded by three behind,

By GLADYS LAMB.

The fourth step is done by putting easy accomplishment.

Any dance may be brought to per. This sudden interest of smart society feetien on the los where the freedor, in akates and skating should be one of movement is more evident than it is of the greatest advantages offered to in the more limited ball room. Skating, the world in some time.

so that balancing even on the toes is an | Determination and a sense of proportion are all that are necessary.

President Temple University, Philadelphis.

What will the college authorities do

It may not him little more than the barest necessities or he may be fortunate in finding one that will give him A young man is waiting in the president's office to arrange for matriculacomparative comfort. He may run an elevator at night, he tion. The usual questions have been asked him; but as he does not fit exactly into may tend furnaces, he may write up life insurance, he may do one or several of the cut and dried scheme of things it has a thousand things. become necessary to pass him a little

He does not talk about his business afhigher up. fairs on the outside; he only asks the He may or may not have met all the college to let him come and do as much preliminary requirements, but he knows one thing for sure-that he needs the colof its work as he can.

You can trust him to do his best; but lege course as the foundation for his future work in the world as he thinks the college must keep a careful oversight over him without his knowing it, for it he sees it. It is not possible for him, perhaps, to owes it to its own future glory to protect him from himself, from the temptation to overdo. prescribed for the freshman year, though

It must not allow him to undertake too much at a time; but if it is true to the best ideals of service, for which the college should be the synonym, it will show him every opportunity, every help in its power to give him the chance to do all that he can.

In return, the day will come when he Will they allow him to do as much work will surely honor the institution that was as he can, and will they allow him some latitude in the choice of his subjects? true to its purpose of training strong men and women to serve others. necessary, can he take half of his

Such a young man came to me so fifteen or twenty years ago. If the college reaches out to meet his

He was self-supporting, though he was through his course before the authorities knew anything of his outside business affairs. He took the time necessary to do his work well.

"Simon Pure" bears the Oval Label that identifies all Armour'stop grade products.

Armours

PRODUCTS

Star Stockinet Ham Star Bacon Devoashire Farm Sausage Armour's Grape Juice Cloverbloom Butter Glendalo Oleomargarine (Network Color) Silver Churn Oleomargarine

And over 100 Incident Foods

QUALIT

Try These:

Star Stockinet Ham

He took his college course and his from the college; but if you question him course in the law school.

Children's Food Antipathies

By WOODS HUTCHINSON, M. D.

One of the most frequent points of conflict between the rising and the passing generations, between the "wisdom of babes" and the prejudices of parents, is at the table. •

While children, for the most part, have a cheerful and indiscriminate enthusiasm for food of all sorts, and a broad and catholic appreciation of almost everyprany, which will produce the story in thing that tastes good, gives some resistance between the teeth and produces a "The Strange Case of Mary Page." is sense of comfortable distension in the is outgrowing his idlosyncrasy, leferred for one week. It will start in interior, yet there are limits and some-More commonly, however, this taste expressed by your child for some food

A youngster with an otherwise hearty or foods will be an unconscious protest natural appetite of sawmill intensity for against waste of furnace room. the paricular things that he especially approves of will suddenly jib violently portion to his body weight than the at one or more harmless, every-day foods adult's is and much smaller in proporand declare that he cannot eat them tion to the degree of his activity and he doesn't like them, and that they even expenditure of energy, to say nothing of make him sick to look at them or smell growth. them.

If the foods happen to be of common use, and particularly if they are inexpensive, there is likely to be war at once. For the general tendency of parental authority and that crystallized form of stupidity, proverbial philosophy, is that children must be taught to eat what is put before them and make no fuss, partly because this, being disagreeable, is good Christian displine for them, and partly in the belief that they should be taught in advance to est every ordinary kind of food at least, so that he may be able to find something to fill up on in the future days of boarding school or boarding house or public and away from home tables of all sorts and descriptions. Fortunately a more rational and kindlier spirit is beginning to prevade the relations of parents and children, and instead of deciding the matter of thand and or for the matter of that, other food, like or distaste.

down his throat.

dislikes.

ignorance and barbarism of the past, we of other fruits and vegetables just as are willing to take the time and consider | good for balancing his ration, of which ho is safe to like at least two or three. and see whether there may not be some With their unerring instinct the little reason and ground for this intense disrascals will usually eagerly devour sweet fruits or aweet preserves, on account of Also, it is gradually dawning upon us, in this as in other fields of education, the sugar in them, which is the realest kind of a food. that it is hardly a rational way to make So, by a judicious combination of a child like and do easily the things that bribery of this description and allowing t will be necessary for him to do in his him to eat his fill once or twice a day later life by making him hate them while of the two or three fruits and one veghe is young from having them crammed ctable which he does like, there will be age.

no difficulty in keeping him healthy and As soon as we look at it from this growing and he'll come to the other point of view we discover that there is things in his own good time. ften good and sufficient reason for many For the matter of that, the vegetables of these childish whims and fancies and which are the most frequent cause of war between children and their elders-

Some of them may be the expression through not necessarily wisers-cabbage of a genuine antipathy and susceptibility and cauliflower, and turnips and onions, to that special food which will last all and dried peas and beans, are elements his life long and which make that food of rather doubtful value, even in the inerally a poison to him in any shape adult diet, and would scarcely ever have the table and the manufactured ones with form in which he can take it. This should all be remembered when eave for their cheapness and the fact nutritive value for their bulk. In fact,

, your child objects strongly to a particu- that they were good keepers and avail- the cream and sugar with which our lar kind of food, and careful inquiry able all winter long in the dreadful old sagacious young hopefuls have always should be made as to whether he just days when nothing green or fresh or insisted on having them deluged are take the entire number of units usually aislikes the taste of it or if it makes him sour was to be had for love or money the most nutritious part of the mixture. from December to May. feel uncomfortable if he eat it.

They still have their uses under these If it makes his stomach burn or his circumstances, and for those who have lead ache or gives him hives or other digestions like a sawmill, but in many itchy conditions of the skin or upsets his adults' and in most children's stomachs bowels, then it is to him a poison food they produce more indigestion than fuel and he should be excused from eating it value, and their places are being rapidly altogether, although encouraged to octaken on our modern tables by lighter. asionally taste a little of it from time to wholesomer and much more appetizing time as he grows older to see whether he foods, such as lettuce, celery, tomatoes and the green salads generally.

The only ones of them that have any real nourishment in them, dried peasgreen peas are different, digestible and appetizing, but of very light food value -and dried beans, have such irritating flavoring extractives in them that they once a week by adults, outside, of course, of lumber camps or construction gangs, where they can burn almost anything.

Children can live and thrive on much more monotonous and restricted more than three or four hours without diet than adults, providing that they are allowed to select that dict.

If your child wants to eat only three or four foods, ask your doctor if those excercise and tough digestion, require or, three or four form a balanced ration. and if they do, let him alone, urging of rather coarse, bulky foods, what the him, of course, to make a friendly exfarmers call "roughening" or "rough- perimental trial of other things from time to time and watch the result.

As a foundation for and accompaniment of other foods, starches-that is, bread, biscuit, crackers, toast, rice, cornmeal, potatoes, etc.-play a heavy and important part in children's diet.

As they are the cheapest of all human foods and the most in favor with amateur diet reformers, there is little fear of the poor youngsters not getting enough and more than enough of them.

Their genuine food value gives the youngsters a keen, natural appetite for them in connection with and as a sort of a background and filler for the more attractive, but less substantial fruits, preserves, vegetables and soups, or for those real foods which can only be eaten in smaller amounts, like butter and meat. The best form of all the starchy foods, which for reasons of economy supply nearly two-thirds of the fuel value of our food ration, is good white bread, either plain or toasted.

Next comes the biscuit, if thoroughly baked through and through and with plenty of crisp crust; then crackers, then plain cake and puddings, then potatoes, then corn meal, rice and last of all, mushes and cereals.

The value of these last for children has been enormously overrated; the home-made ones are mixed with so much water in the process of preparation for come to be considered fit for human food so much air that they have a very low ness of the materials out of which they are constructed and the huge profit which subjects this year and half next? they yield to their makers and most ngenious advertisers. individual necessities he stays. if it does No health food or patent food yet innot he seeks further. ented can hold a candle for real value in good bread, and they cost anywhere

The main secret of their enormous and flatulent popularity has been the cheap-from five to ten times as much.

All he asks is the opportunity, and he and permanent wholesomeness to the will seek until he finds it. can only be eaten to advantage about plain everyday foods which come on our Seldom he asks financial assistance tables every meal.

Three parts of "Simon Pure" go as far as four parts of ordinary lard.

Not one of them supplies an element he is willing to undertake heavy burdens, which is lacking in a good, modern, for he is young and does not realize the mixed dict, with plenty of fruit and green after-cost of excessive effort; or perhaps stuffs, and not one of them is either as he cannot fit into just the usual combifor him?

autritious or digestible as its own weight nation of courses.

For frying, for shortening, for cakes and for pastry, it is the best that Armour can produce. So it wears the Armour Oval Label.

To be sure of getting pure leaf lard buy it in pails with "Simon Pure" on the label. Phone us your dealer's name if he cannot sup-

Send to us for a free copy of "Pastry Wrinkles" by Fannie Merritt Farmer.

ARMOUR & COMPANY

Bobt, Budatz, Mgr., 13th and Jones, D. 1055. W. L. Wilkinson, Mgr., 29th and Q., 50, 1740 325 There's an Armour Oval Label store near you.