GOVERNOR IN LONG DISTANCE TALK

Nebraska Executive Tells Audience in Washington of State's Advantages.

SPEAKS FROM STATE CAPITOL

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Feb. 10.—(Special.)—

A goodly number of people were present this evening when Governor Morehead held a conversation over the transcontinental telephone line with the delegates gathered in Washington in attendance at the National Chamber of Commerce convention. Among the number were several prominent citizens, state officers and newspapermen who had been invited to listen to the conversation.

The men from Chicago, representing the American Telephone and Telegraph company working in conjunction with the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, had installed a special phone line in the private office of the governor during the day, and several devices had been installed that the visitors could hear the conversation from each way.

Talks with Johnson.

The first talk was made by the National Chamber of Commerce with Governor Johnson of California and the connection was made about 8:30. After talking about five minutes, Governor Morehead was switched to the line, and after a few preliminary remarks the Nebraska executive delivered to the Washington assemblage the following address:

"To the delegates of the National Chamber of Commerce, Washington, D. C.—

Greetings:

"The people of the middle west join with me in sending greetings to the 700 representatives of the greatest commercial organization on earth.

"Traceable to your efforts, there is a closer community of interests. The people in the cities are brought more closely in touch with the people engaged in agricultural pursuits. The farmers and the business men, through your efforts, have learned to know each other better and have begun to realize that our hopes, expectations and ambitions are similar. Prejudices have been removed and much of it is due to your efforts.

"Nebraska, and I feel sure that I speak for other states, from an agricultural standpoint, never was more prosperous. Industrial conditions are very satisfactory to all, and when I realize that I am talking some 1,000 miles, I get into a reminiscent mood. We are brought to realize the wonderful advancement along the line of science that has been made.

Much Progress Made.

"The ox team is supplanted by the railroads and the automobiles; the pony express and stage are supplanted by the telephone and telegraph; the log and sod houses by modern residences. There is great advancement in educational methods, and those who are fortunate enough to live in this age have many reasons to congratulate themselves on the conveniences they enjoy.

"At this particular time the American people have great cause to rejoice and our president is to be congratulated in being able to steer this nation clear of any foreign complications, and retaining the good will of all the unfortunate nations that are now involved in such a great conflict.

"Nebraska at this time is spending some $13,000,000 annually for educational purposes, and this is providing schools for all of our children.

Free from Debt.

"The state is entirely free from debt, and some $10,000,000 are loaned out, bringing into the treasury of our state $500,000 annually, which is distributed among the different schools of the state. The rental and interest from our large amount of school land provides Nebraska with one of the best school systems of any state in the union. And when we remember that just a few years since we were considered to be in an unproductive section of the country, unfit for habitation, and now realize that the wealth of the state is nearly $1,000 per capita, and we see the wonderful cities with all their modern improvements, such as water systems, electric lights, pavements, telephones, modern banks with $20,000,000 of deposits, who are fortunate enough to live in Nebraska feel that we have been specially favored.

"I again congratulate your great organization and realize the wonderful good you may do in promoting permanent roads, community interests, and in a systematic way, through each other, inculcate higher ambitions and ideals in the minds of all, and in this way be of great benefit to humanity in general."

Indigestion and Constipation.

Indigestion and constipation are among the most common causes of ill health. A man never feels so completely used up as when his stomach goes back on him. Fortunately quick relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and in most cases this relief becomes permanent. Do not give up but take Chamberlain's Tablets, get well and stay well as many others have done. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

Gage Man Missing
Thirteen Years Is Officially Dead

BEATRICE, Neb., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—

An unusual case has just been disposed of in the district court when a decree was handed down that John B. Irvin, who disappeared from his home near Holmesville thirteen years ago, was dead. Suit was recently instituted by the heirs to settle the estate, which resulted in the decision of the court. Years ago Samuel Irvin came out from Indiana and bought a farm near Holmesville. A few days after his arrival here he died while his son, John B., was still a small child. When 17 years of age John one day went into the woods to cut some timber and disappeared. That was thirteen years ago and no trace of him has ever been found.

The suit recently brought by the heirs resulted in settling his estate.

Mrs. John Townsend, a pioneer of southern Gage county, died yesterday, aged 60 years. She is survived by her husband and three daughters.

The late Edward R. Fogg, who died in this city sometime ago, left $100 for the city of Beatrice and by the terms of the will this sum will be used in beautifying Charles park. The amount has been turned over to the city supervisors.

SEEKS DIVORCE OF UNKISSSED BRIDE

C. S. McFadden Says Wife Insists that Marriage is but Platonic Friendship.

WANTS NO ELEMENT OF LOVE

A story of an unkissed bride who defined marriage as a platonic friendship, is told in a divorce petition filed in district court by Clyde S. McFadden, who wedded Mrs. Christina M. McFadden at Papillion October 11, 1914.

That his wife insisted that marriage should be no more than a friendship, from which human love should be eliminated, is McFadden's complaint to the court. Webster defines a platonic friendship as "a spiritual comradeship in which there is no element of love for the opposite sex."

Mrs. McFadden held her husband at arm's length and although they have been married one year and four months, not once has she permitted him to caress her, the plaintiff alleges.

Will Not Accept His Name.

Not only is the wife's kiss unknown in the McFadden household, according to the husband's petition, but he declines to acquiesce in her standards and, he alleges, she avoids him and refuses to accept his name or even to be known as his wife.

The plaintiff informs the court that he is ready and willing to maintain a home for his wife if only she would concede him the usual privileges of a husband.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. McFadden could be located. H. B. Pichay, the husband's attorney, is in Lincoln.

HOLDREGE NEEDS 105
CARS TO MOVE GRAIN

HOLDREGE, Neb., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—

The elevators and mill here are now 105 cars short of their needs, that is, they have on hand 105 cars of grain and flour which has been sold and is ready for shipment as soon as cars can be gotten. One elevator has been obliged to stop buying grain several times the last few weeks, while the others have been able to ship enough to keep from being filled to capacity. Nearly all cars unloaded here are being used to supply the Sterling division, where the car shortage is being very much felt. Since the first of the year, there have been fifty-five cars of grain shipped from Holdrege. This is about one-third of the amount that would have been shipped had cars been plentiful.

10,000 YEARS AGO

The teeth were considered, with the eyes, the most important parts of the body, shown easily by the old Mosaic law, an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth (their form of punishment). Consider for a moment, if in those early days the teeth were important enough to have their entire law based upon, what are the more highly civilized people of the present day doing? Are they degenerating in this particular matter, or is it plain neglect? Possibly they are not aware of the importance to their health to have teeth attended to. Even in passing a civil service examination the teeth are the first to be examined and if poor that is as far as the examination goes—the applicant is not passed. The government requires healthy teeth.
