WANTS MARRIAGE BUREAU OPERATED BY GOVERNMENT

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

Feby 1d30t.

BERIAN, Feb. & - A government-conducted marriage bureau is advocated by Dr. E. R. Udorstadt, in an article in the current number of a monthly magazine. After the war, he fears, the young men will have to work harder than ever, and opportunities for them to make the acquaintance of young women will be few. "If, then," he writes, "and this is urgently desired, an increase of marriages is to take place, it is absolutely necessary that men and women who love their nation, take upon themselves the thankful tank of bringing the sexes together, perhaps with the support of the state, which is itself the most interested in this work." Dr. Uderstadt auggested the possibility of having "marriage counselors," whose duty it would be to supply future brides and bridegrooms with sage advice before they took the final step. In this way, he believes, sugenic principles could be brought into their own, and the result would be not only more babies, but better

Particular attention will be given to wife and child desertion cases. No divorce or personal injury cases will be taken. A state law holding children responsible for support of their parents will be invoked as occasion arises. Replying to a question from a membe of the board, Superintendent Schreiber stated that investigations and surveys of thousands of cases helped by the Welfare board of Kansas City and of other cities showed that not less than 90 per cent of poverty was due to excessive use of in

The board engaged Mrs. Sylvia Lexinsky of 2530 California street as office worker, this employment subject to approval by the city council.

After the legal aid bureau shall have been established, Superintendent Schreiber will start an employment exchange. He will make a survey of the organizations now furnishing employment. He told the board there is need here of a well regul lated labor exchange. It will be within the scope of this proposed labor exchange to provide ways and means of extending public work in seasons or times when there may be an exceptional number of unemployed. Mr. Schreiber hopes to secure the co-operation of nine organisations now handling the unemployed question in nine different ways, rather than through a central exchange.

Germans Would Lower Death Rate Of Young Children In the course of his sermon Dr. Mackay

Cerrespondence of the Associated Press. BERLIN, Feb. 10,-Some of the difficulties which, for the present at least, confront many of the details of plans for increasing the birth rate of Germany have led to a strong companion movement to lower the infant death rate. Its proponents argue that many steps are possible along this line at the present time. Prof. Dr. Langstein, director of the Kalserin-Auguste-Viktoria House for combatting infant mortality in the German empire, believes that it will be possible to reduce Germany's loss in infants to or a per cent, Sweden a present rate, a tion as to the care of children, which shall extend from the lowest through the highest schools. The newspapers can be a great educative power for good, he believes, and he recommends that they publish helpful "Tiz" for sore, tired, puffedhowever, eliminate advertisements of "offerings, the use of which already costs the lives of a not inconsequential number

Deny Wives Trifle While Men Away

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) LONDON, Feb. 10 .- "Never during my thirty years' experience as a school teacher have the children of the elementary schools, especially those of the poorer districts, been se well clothed and shed or appeared so tidy and well-nourished as since the beginning of the war. This was the remark made by one of London's veteran school mistresses in reply to the reported evil effects of the substantial separation allowances made to the wives of soldiers of the British APTOY.

Reports have been current throughout the country that many of the soldiers wives have given way to the drinking habit and neglected their homes during their husbands' absence at the front. Teachers, clergymen of all denominations and other persons in close touch with the laboring classes almost unanimously declare that such is not the case in the majority of instances. They point out that owing to the disappearance of many of the male habitues of saloons the presence of women in those establishments has become more noticeable. The number of those addicted to drinking at bars, however, has, they assert, not increased. Most of the women, on the contrary, have taken advantage of the fact that they have more money at their disposal to replenish their wardrobes and those of their children, and in many instances they have placed some of their allowance. in savings banks and will thus be able Turn old furniture, household goods and to give their husbands a pleasant surprise clothing into cash with a Bse Want-Ad on their return to sivil life after the war.

"We stand amased at Lincoin's character. I am almost a believer in the transmigration of souls when I read his naugural addresses and particularly his Gettysburg address, the greatest piece of classic literature in the English language. "We have a man in the White House today," he said, "who is bearing a burden that few men could bear. On his shoulders rests the welfare of 20,000,000 people. The strain of it is second only to that which Lincoln bore. He, too, is a man of faith and he deserves the prayers of all
