

FIVE MORE VESSELS ARE REPORTED SUNK

Three British Fishing Smacks, One Italian Ship and One Russian Ship Go Down.

EIGHTEEN ON LATTER DROWN

LONDON, March 2.—The sinking of five more vessels was reported today. The crews of three British smacks landed at Lowestoft. Their vessels are said to have been sunk in the North sea.

The Italian ship Eliza also is reported to have been sunk.

The Russian steamship Alexander Wentzell has been sunk. Eighteen of the crew were drowned and eleven rescued.

Reports Sinking of Thornaby. Lloyd's agent at Rlyth reports that the British steamship Thornaby was sunk by a mine on Monday night.

A dispatch of yesterday's date announced that the Thornaby had been sunk in the North Sea and that nearly all of the crew were killed or drowned. Later it was reported that the steamer Deveraux had arrived in the Tyne bringing the steward of the Thornaby, who had been rescued from the wreckage and reporting that two other persons had been saved by the steamer High Gate.

The Alexander Wentzell was 328 gross tons, was 320 feet long and 45-foot beam. It was owned by the Northern Steamship company of Petrograd.

Six Weeks More and He Could Have Got A Million Together

NEW YORK, March 2.—John Grant Lyman, who was arrested several days ago at St. Petersburg, Fla., where he fled from this city February 5, after the discovery of an alleged oil stock swindle, said to have netted him more than $300,000, was returned here tonight in the custody of government agents. Deputy United States Marshal W. D. Vincent of Florida, who accompanied the party, declared Lyman confided in him on the way here that if he could have operated six weeks longer as "John H. Putnam and company," he could have "cleaned up a million dollars."

Lyman, who, it is believed, was about to leave for Spanish Honduras on a motor boat when he was apprehended, boasted that persons throughout the country, who sent their money to him for investment, were above the average in intelligence and "it was a pleasure to him to know that he got the best of them," according to Vincent.

The prisoner complained that $30,000 bills of $1,000 each were taken from him by the arresting officers in Florida and have not since been accounted for.

Judge Wade Orator for Knights of Columbus

The fourth degree Knights of Columbus gave a banquet at the Pontenelle hotel last evening at which Martin J. Wade, judge of the United States circuit court of the southern district of Iowa, gave an address on the subject, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" During his address the judge set forth various principles of the order and urged each and every one of the members present to look more upon the welfare of his more unfortunate brother.

Several vocal and instrumental selections were given during the evening by Miss Ruth Flynn, Miss Buelah Dale Turner and Miss Loretta LeLone.

Charles F. McLaughlin was toastmaster. About 150 couples were present.

GO WITHOUT FOOD FOR DAYS UNDER CANNON FIRE

BERLIN, March 2.—(Wireless to Sayville.)—Dispatches to the Lokal Anzeiger, dealing with the recent fighting on the Yser front in the Woerwaert region, state that the Germans who stormed hill No. 24 under a rain of shells and through all sorts of entanglements were forced to maintain themselves without food during two days and nights against incessant attacks, as the French curtain of fire made the bringing up of supplies impossible. According to the correspondent, French troops who were placed in the same circumstances surrendered, the prisoners, it is declared, simply announcing "we got no food and surrendered."

Heavy Snow in Gage.

BEATRICE, Neb., March 2.—(Special Telegram.)—A blizzard is raging here tonight, heavy snow is falling. The temperature has dropped to eighteen above zero.

Washington Affairs

Orders approved by President Wilson require to entry 11,250 acres of public land in Wisconsin, 10,000 acres in Montana, 10,000 acres in western central Montana. The Wyoming and Montana lands had been reserved for phosphate deposits, which they later were found not to contain, and those in Utah had been included in a coal land withdrawal.

Senator Sheppard of Texas blocked another effort to bring to an early vote the shield waterpower bill pending construction of dams on navigable rivers by refusing unanimously agreement to limit debate on the bill to five-minute speeches after 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and to keep the measure the exclusive subject for discussion before the senate in the meantime.

The relations of Louis D. Brandeis to the United Shoe Machinery company and his conduct while its counsel and afterwards were defended by his law partner, Edward F. McLaughlin, of Boston, before the senate subcommittee investigating Mr. Brandeis' fitness to be a supreme court justice. Stephen S. Gregory of Chicago, former president of the American Bar association, testified that Brandeis' reputation throughout the country was excellent as to both ability and character.

Old Naval System of Promotion Through Seniority Abandoned

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Promotion of naval officers by selection instead of by seniority, an increase of 50 per cent in officers of all grades, creation of a war reserve list and restoration of the popular old rank of commodore are proposed in a bill drafted by the navy personnel board and transmitted to congress today by Secretary Daniels.

The measure, the result of two years of study and work by the board, is designed to increase the efficiency of the service, put able men in commanding positions at an earlier age, and open the way for the rise of subordinate officers now virtually barred from hope of promotion.

Under the plan, all officers above the rank of lieutenant would be subject to promotion by selection upon passage of the bill, the selections being made from each grade by officers of the ranks above. The board reported that it was convinced the system of promotion by seniority must be abandoned.

Australia Prohibits Remington Machines

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Australia at the request of the British government, has put a prohibition on the sale of typewriters manufactured by the Remington Typewriter company on the ground that the corporation is suspected of selling to enemies of the allies. It became known today that the Remington company has laid its case before the State department denying the charge and alleging it is the victim of the jealousy of English manufacturers.

The Manicure Lady

She Gives Her Ideas on Poetry and the Poets

By W. F. KIRK.

"Do you know, George," said the Manicure Lady, "I am getting so I can't read nothing but poetry."

"That's one of the first signs of what the doctors call senile senility," declared the Head Barber. "You are getting woody in the head."

"I could get a whole lot wookier in the head and still be too bright for a common gent like you to get any with," said the Manicure Lady. "I think it is a whole lot nicer for a human being to set down at night and spend a hour reading something that was wrote by Robert Keats or John Burns than to be all the time reading about how many players wish they had stuck to the National league instead of jumping to the Federals. Goodness knows, George, it don't take no great intellect to go through a sporting page."

"Who wants a great intellect? I don't for one," declared the Head Barber. "I was reading about a fellow named Chatterton that had a great intellect and starved to death in a garret. It's funny that his intellect didn't steer him around to a free lunch somewhere."

"They didn't have free lunch in them days," said the Manicure Lady, "and if they did, do you suppose a great poet like Mister Chatterton would eat free lunch? Poets can't digest cold wieners, George. Barbers can, maybe, but not poets. Such vulgar things as sausages are not for singers. I should think you would know that much."

"I seen a song writer eating liverwurst the other day," said the Head Barber. "He ate ten."

"Song writers ain't poets," said the Manicure Lady. "All they can do is to make every line begin with a capital letter. The kind of poets I mean, the kind like Mister Chatterton, is all dead now, and the ones that is trying to be like him ought to be dead."

"Oh, gee, George, how I wish I could have been living in them brave days when Lord Byron was fussing around and flirting with the girls. If his photographs don't flatter him he was awful handsome, and maybe he might have dropped around to have his nails did if I had been living then."

"He wouldn't have gave you no tip like Joe Blow," said the Head Barber. "Poets for romance and bookmakers for tips, kid. You want to stop thinking about them old-time poets and begin thinking about marrying some nice, rich real estate man with a million feet of ground on Staten Island and one foot in the cold grave."

"I wouldn't marry a rich man unless he loved me an awful lot," said the

High School Girls Record Ad Getters

The girls' number of the High School Register was issued yesterday and contained many innovations. The girls by a whirlwind campaign collected the largest amount of advertising that has been in any edition of the Register this year, enabling them to add several pages to the edition.

The officers of the girls' staff which edited this number are: Gertrude Mattson, editor-in-chief; Elizabeth Sturtevant, assistant editor; Helen Gutter, business manager; Martha Giger and Myrle Gilchrist, assistant business managers.

One of the interesting sections contains biographies of several students of the high school and Miss Jessie Towne of the faculty, with accompanying photographs taken at an early age.

GERM NSE RAIDER MOEWEL IS TAKEN

Report from Buenos Ayres Says Tension Commerce Destroyer Captured by British Cruiser.

IDENTITY OF SHIP NOT CLEAR

BUENOS AYRES, March 2.—Press dispatches from Montevideo say that a steamer from Europe intercepted near the coast of Brazil a wireless message stating that British cruisers had captured the German auxiliary cruiser Moewe.

The Moewe, it is said, was taken by the British cruisers to Trinidad island.

The American steamer Santa Rosa has arrived at Montevideo, its captain making the announcement that a French cruiser, which put out from Dakar, on the west coast of Africa, encountered a German raider, name not given, and opened fire on it. Under cover of darkness the German ship got away. It was, however, damaged on its upper works by the French fire.

There is some doubt, however, as to the identity of the German vessel reported to have been captured. Another version of the account is that the vessel in question is the German cruiser Roer.

The Moewe first came into prominence with the arrival at Hampton Roads several weeks ago of the British steamship Appam, in charge of a German prize crew. It brought word of a mysterious German commerce raider, the Moewe, which was roaming the seas and had captured and sunk seven British merchantmen and adversely transports, in addition to capturing the Appam.

"Well, I Should Say 'Gets-It' DOES Work"

"Look at There, If You Don't Think It's Just Wonderful for Corns!"

"Bless my stars, look at it! Land of the living! Why, just look at it! That corn came right off—just like peeling bananas. Put your finger on my toe."

"Did You Ever See the Like? No Wonder 'Gets-It' is the Biggest Selling Corn Cure in the World!"

right there—don't be afraid—that it'll feel how smooth the skin is! Well, that's where the corn was. Well, that beats all! That's the way "Gets-It" works on all corns, every corn, every time. It's the new, simple way of curing corns. You'll say good-bye to all foolish contraptions like bandaging, sticky tape, plasters, toe-eating salves and grave-diggers such as knives, razors and scissors. "Gets-It" stops pain. Applied to stick to, hurt or press on the corn.

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere. See a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Omaha and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co. stores.
