The Omaha Automobile club probably will take action in the near future in calling in club emblems on cars of owners who are in arrears in their membership dues. The club emblem on the car of a member who is lax in paying his dues is as much out of place as a fraternity pin on the person of a college student who wears the insignia of a society of which he does not belong, according to officials of the club... What is said to be the most elaborate and instructive map ever gotten up by an automobile club in this country is being prepared by the Omaha organization. There will be a free distribution of these maps to all members... On one side there will be a skeleton outline map of the territory bounded on the north by the Twin cities, on the south by St. Louis and Kansas City, on the east by Davenport, Ia., and on the west by Denver and Colorado Springs... The other side will have a detailed section map, with exact mile squares and all automobile routes, of the territory within a 100-mile radius of Omaha... A committee has been appointed by the club to co-operate with county officials in working out plans for a better system of road dragnage...

Alleges Sheriff Beat Him and Threw Him Into the Street... Paul Krummell, alias Pete Kuklinaki, alleged by the authorities to be a looter who operated here after the tornado of March 22, 1913, will be brought to Omaha next week and tried on a charge of burglary. He is now serving a sentence at the Joliet, Ill., penitentiary for a similar offense... According to the information filed by County Attorney Magney, Krummell robbed the home of F. W. Charack, railroad man, living at 4020 Dodge street, where railroad passes and jewelry were stolen...

MAN BEGS TO BE FREED FROM THE MORPHINE HABIT... A man entered the office of Chief Revenue Agent McCable in the federal building and begged him, with tears streaming down his cheeks, to help him out of his awful condition... "I am what you might call a dope fiend," said the man. "I have taken morphine for twenty years. Now I can't get it any more. I will go mad. I can't live without it. I must have it. I would like to be cured, but I know I can't. I have tried. I have walked the fields all night struggling against the torture of my desire for morphine. But nothing brings me relief. Can't you do something for me?" The men that passed the Harrison act didn't know the terrible torture they were bringing on a lot of innocent people. For heaven's sake help me... "The man showed none of the marks of the 'dope fiend.' He looked to be in good health. He said he was a farmer and that a tree fell on his leg and crushed it twenty years ago. The doctor gave him morphine and when he had recovered from the injury he found it impossible to do without the drug. So he continued taking it until the Harrison 'dope' act cut off the supply... "The man was advised to put himself in the hands of a good doctor and to bring all his will power to bear to break the habit. But he left the building without hope. He could never break the habit, he said... A number of similar cases have come to the attention of the officials...

Chamberlain's Tablets Doing Good... Mrs. F. F. Smith, Gloversville, N. Y., writes to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Tablets as follows: "I feel it my duty to write you and tell you of the good your tablets are doing for me and many others that I have told about them. For over three years I have been troubled with liver trouble. I have been under the doctor's care most of the time, but have not found anything that helped me as much as Chamberlain's Tablets. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement."

The Making of a Martyr

Boxcar Thief is Nipped After Chase of Several Blocks

Following a chase of a number of blocks, Detectives Gillan and Allen and Officers Dworak, Jackson and Danbaum ran down and captured Joseph Novak, 219 Clark street, who is charged with a number of boxcar thefts. Over 10,000 cigars and a box of new harness were discovered by the arresting officers in a wagon Novak was driving and attempting to escape in. These cigars and harness were stolen from freight cars in the Burlington yards and represent a value of approximately $1,500. The police believe Novak is but one of a boxcar band and that his arrest will lead to subsequent arrests of a number of boxcar thieves who have been making large hauls of late.

FAMILY SAID CARTER HAD NO BUSINESS IN OMAHA

When police notified the household of T. J. Carter of Council Bluffs that Frank O'Neil was under arrest for robbing Carter of $2 and his hat, they were not showered with praise. Carter was strong-armed at Twelfth and Douglas streets, Tuesday night and according to his family "had no business in Omaha, and anyway O'Neil is a good friend of his."

An Experiment... "John," said the thoughtful woman, "get your overcoat. It's wet and snowy." "I haven't any overcoat." "Take an umbrella, anyhow." "I haven't any umbrella." "At least you'll wear an overcoat." "Left it down town." "Well, go ahead and see what happens," she concluded in a tone of patient resignation. "I have always been kind of anxious to see how these unpreparedness ideas of your would work out."—Washington Star.

TORNADO'S VISIT THREE YEARS AGO

March 23 is Anniversary of the Catastrophe Which Caused Many Deaths.

PATH ENTIRELY OBLITERATED

Three years ago yesterday the tornado swept through Omaha. Those who lived here then need not be told of its terrible and sudden destruction.

It was Easter Sunday, March 23, 1913. The arrival of the storm was almost without warning except for a sharp fall of the barometer and temperature. It came and went within a few seconds.

It struck shortly before 6 o'clock in the evening. Some people saw it coming in the southwest, a fearsome, funnel-shaped whirlwind of destruction, sweeping toward the city at a furious rate of speed.

A moment later the city was filled with a crashing din and uproar indescribable as dwellings and other buildings were smashed like eggshells.

"Why Swear, Dear? Use 'Gets-It' for Corns!"

It's the New Plan. Simple, Sure as Fate. Applied in a Few Seconds.

"Why, John, I never knew you to use such language! I've told you several times it's no use to try those bandages, salves, tapes, plasters and contraptions"

"You Wouldn't Lose Your Temper, John, If You Used 'Gets-It' for Those Corns!"

for corns. Here's some 'Gets-It', it's just wonderful how easy, clear and clean it makes any corn come right off. Takes but a few seconds to apply. It dries at once, put your sock right over it—there's nothing to stick or roll up, form a bundle of your toe or press on the corn. It's painless, simple as rolling off a log. Now put away those knives, razors and scissors, use 'Gets-It' and you'll have a sweeter disposition and no more corns and callouses.

"Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Omaha and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co. Stores.

were the wonder of the whole country. Committees took charge of relief work in all its departments. A dozen homes opened their doors to every family that had been made homeless. The outside world demanded to be allowed to help, but Omaha elected to care for its own as best it could.

A year after the tornado the devastated district had been almost entirely restored.

The dead in Omaha, and including a few in Ralston, Yutan and Berlin, Neb., numbered 131, and nearly 1,000 were injured.

Terrific though the devastation of the storm was, the promptness with which the emergency was met and the speed with which the city recovered from the black path through Omaha was about four and a half miles long and from two to six blocks wide.

GO TO FREMONT TO GET SOME TREES FOR PARKS... City Purchasing Agent Grotte and Secretary Carlson of the park department have come to Fremont to purchase a lot of trees for the parks.

Heavy Gale Sweeps Central Nebraska

Central Nebraska, according to the reports to the railroads, Wednesday night was visited by one of the heaviest winds in years. The wind swept over an area up and down the state its entire width and from 100 miles out from the river to a line 150 miles west.

The wind blew a mile all night, from the south, wrecking numerous small frail buildings, but, apparently, not damaging ordinary structures. In some localities there were light rains, but not enough to be general over any section.
