MEAT SHORTAGE IN FUTURE

Both Allied and Central Nations Will Face Serious Problem After End of War.

GREAT LOSSES IN PRODUCTION

(Correspondence or the Associated Press.) VIENNA, March 16,-None too plentiful before the war, meat is likely to become a real luxury in Europe after peace ! 200 declared and remain so for a considerable time until stock-breeding has pro-

The central power group believes it will find itself better off than the entente 235 group in this respect, but both groups will certinly find it a serious problem These cars can be purchased at these above prices this week only. We need the floor space so must sell all at these low prices.

At the expiration of two years of war-fare—which period will soon be reached—it is estimated the entente powers will be about 7.75 cm. be short 7,575,000 head of meat animals while the central group, owing to the territories occupied by their armies, would in that time lose only 2,000,000 head through over-consumption due to the war. Commenting upon the situation the Paris Revue Des Deux Mondes points out that France lost 20 per cent of its meat animal stock by the occupation of ten departments of the Germans. France lost through this 1,510,000 horned cattle. 14,804,310 sheep and 814,919 pigs. This Several Exceptionally Good Bargains means, says the periodical, that France is deprived of an annual meat production of 411,000 tons.

The live stock of Belgium also was lost by the entente, this being estimated to amount to about 2,000,000 heads of cattle, 18,000,000 sheep and over 2,000,000 pigs. Germany gained thus the meat production of roundly 39,000,600 animals in the western theater slone.

Though the Russians saved much of their live stock in Poland and the in tion of the central powers' armies is 45:

Promises of the Press Agents.

Eva Lang returns to Omaha tonight at the Boyd theater, opening in the Billie Burke comedy, "Jerry," Miss Lang has the support of Edward Lynch, also an Omaha favorite, and of the Denham theater players from Denver. No more attractive play could have been secured for Miss Lang's opening play than "Jerry," the very rollicking comedy made famous by Billie Burke. A brilliant and crowded house is assured for the opening night.

Pairons are reminded that the curtain will go up early at the Orpheum tonight—8:10 o'clock wharp. Roshonara, the dancer; Lydia Barry, singing comedienne; Raiph Dunbar's Singing Bell Ringers and the other features that have made the week delightful will be seen for the last times, matinee and night today. For next week Helene Lackaye will be seen in "Overtonea," a playlet of dual personalities. William Rock, with his new partner, Miss Frances White, will present his latest "Dansante Characteristic." The Watson sisters, Fannie and Kittie, will offer a refined singing turn,

"A Little Girl in a l'ig City." the melo-tramatic story of a young girl who comes to New York City in search of employ-ment, will close its engagement at the Brandels today with two performances, matinee and night.

Your very last chance to laugh yourself weak at the absurd burlesque, "Suflingettes' Election in 1915," will be afforded during this afternoon's final performance of the "Smiling Beauties" company at the popular (layety. The annual engagement of those whirlwind dancers,
Stone and Pillard, who come with the "Social Maids," starts tonight at $:10.
Prom the stage tonight there will be announced the returns of the Willard-Moran fight as it progresses in Madison Square garden, New York City.

There are seven men with "The Bird of Paradise," Hichard Walton Tully's romance of Hawail, which will be seen for four nights at the Braudeis, commencing Sunday evening, March 18, who are never seen. Tet if they were not there the series of wonderful stage pictures that has made the show famous would never be seen. They are what is known in the theatrical parlance "the working crew," and upon them the stage manager depends wholly for his beautiful effects. Besides them the management of the theater have to hire twenty-seven more men in various capacities to assist the men with the company.

The Shakespeare tercentenary—the 300th anniversary of the poet's death-falls on Easter Sunday, and so will be celebrated on Monday. April 24 Otis Skinner will be playing on that date at Los Angeles and he intends to make quite an event of it, as the anniversary figures importantly in "Cock of the Walk," the Henry Arthur Jones comedy, which Mr. Skinner is using as a vehicle this season and in which he will be seen at the Brandeis on Friday and Saturday, March 21 and April 1.

William Farnum is seen at the Strand for the last time today in "Fighting Blood," a story of the Kentucky mountains and one of the most thrilling melodramas, by the way, ever seen at the popular Douglas street theater. The Strand is now open from 11 to 11, with pipe organ program at each and every performance. Lillian Gish will be seen Sunday in a story of early Louisiana, days, entitled, "Daphna and the Pirate."

An excellent example of the sunniness of southern California in midwinter is shown in "The Code of Marcia Grgy," an Oliver Morosco photoplay, released on the Paramount program. The abundant sunshine gives a stereoscopic effect to the beautiful settings. This feature will be shown at the Hipp for the last times today.

"The Twin Trunk Mystery" is solved at the Empress theater the first half of next week, commencing Sunday, March 28. The film is one of the most humorous shown recently.

The Farnam is today showing Marie Walcamp in a five-act Blue Bird feature, entitled, "The Firt." Tomorrow the Farnam will play "A Woman's Power," with Mollie King in the leading role.

The first episode of "The Strange Case of Mary Page" will be shown at the Hippodrome, Twenty-lifth and Cuming streets. Sunday, The story is running serially in The Bec. A free showing of educational films will be given this afternoon for Omaha children of all ages.

The name "Twentieth Century Farmer" indicates the superlative in agricultural journalism. It names the foremost farm paper in the Nebraska-Western Iowa field. If there is a "best" farm paper, it is this one.

The 112,000 farm homes that read it weekly, boast of the fact. The nation's great advertisers, who spend hundreds of thousands of dollars in farm paper advertising, give it the preference in the Missouri Valley. Everyone who has any possible connection with farm papers appreciates the great influence of this big farm weekly in the development of the Central West.

In thinking of farm papers, don't confuse this publication with several less important ones. There is but one Twentieth Century Farmer.
