Welcomes the New Union Depot Recruit.
Greetings to the new Union Depot recruit. Welcome to the World-Herald, at last joining The Bee in the movement to secure adequate passenger accommodations for Omaha from the railroads.

More Straws
Hughes' Name Still Congress.
New York Times' Washington Correspondence: Representative Simon D. Fess, an Ohio republican and supporter of ex-senator Burton for the presidential nomination, inadvertently caused a demonstration in the house today (March 25) by mentioning the name of Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States supreme court. Many members on the republican side of the chamber interrupted the Ohio congressman by applauding for nearly a minute.

What We Vote for in Nebraska This Year.
It seems that many intelligent voters are confused and uncertain as to what the presidential primary in Nebraska calls for in addition to the usual nominations for state and local offices.

Contrasts in Mexico.
Pictures in strong contrast are just now being shown in Mexico. The people, misunderstood on this and misrepresented on the other side of the border, coming into contact with the soldiers in General Pershing's expedition, are getting a better first-hand knowledge of Americans.

Aimed at Omaha
Beatrice Express: The Omaha Bee is of the opinion that the snakes driven out of Ireland by St. Patrick must have been incarcerated in Mexico. In which case Uncle Sam will undoubtedly prove a worthy successor of Ireland's illustrious saint.

Around the Cities
Chicago is having an art war and the output of temperamental adjectives materially swells the volume of the celebrated lake breeze.

People and Events
A woman lawyer recently appeared before an English court in a wig and gown and threw the judge into a fit. If a woman thus garbed can be as great a fright as a man, the judge is entitled to another fit.

THE LOCAL POETS.
The Answer.
I went for a walk on a bleak March day
When the sky was drear and the earth
More dreary.

Persistence is the cardinal virtue in advertising; no matter how good advertising may be in other respects, it must be run frequently and constantly to be really successful.

LAUGHING LINES.
Husband—This is the limit. You've ordered two new dresses—don't you know that we are already dead over cars in debt?
Wife—Oh, yes, I know, but the dress-maker doesn't—Baltimore American.
