

A HAPPY DREAM HAS COME TRUE Sufferers from Stomach Troubles Have Discovered a Relief.

To be a sufferer from stomach trouble for years and to hear all the reports that this all too common ailment causes, and then to be benefited almost overnight, is like having a happy dream come true.

This has been the pleasant experience of thousands of pained sufferers of this dreaded malady, who have taken Tanlac, the new reconstructive tonic, which aids nature to restore the stomach to the habit of doing a full day's work and doing it well.

The present day mode of living has raised havoc with stomachs. A tired, overworked stomach or kidneys, abused by too much or too hastily eaten food, and our other faulty methods of living, cause an endless number of ailments, among them being liver complaint, indigestion, catarrhal affections, dyspepsia, nervous breakdown, loss of ambition and blood troubles.

People are affected, and there are thousands of them in cities like Omaha, are legs and nerves and easily tired. They are worn out after a little exertion, and are moody and depressed. These are sure symptoms of overworked vital organs, which need cleaning out and regulating. It is for just these conditions that Tanlac has proven beneficial.

Men and women in all walks of life are daily acknowledging the benefits derived from this Master Medicine. Tanlac has become a household word everywhere it has been introduced. Its records for sales have by far exceeded those of any other proprietary preparation ever known in the annals of medicine. Its success is based on merit alone. Its best advertiser is the former sufferer who has been relieved. The laboratories are working day and night to supply the great demand which has been created by Tanlac throughout the country. Its instant leap into popularity in this section has been marvelous.

Nervous, tired, run-down men and women, or those suffering from stomach, kidney, liver, intestinal or catarrhal troubles should visit the Sherman & McConnell drug store, 14th and Dodge streets, where the Tanlac Man will explain the merits of this wonderful reconstructive tonic and the results that may be expected from its use.

Tanlac may be obtained in Benson at the Schiller-Beattie Drug Store; Springfield, H. Engenbaum; Weeping Water, Meyer Drug Co.; Nebraska City, Henry Holwick & Co.; Auburn, E. H. Dorr; Ashland, H. H. Gomb; Malmo, P. H. Pisch; Fremont, Brown-Fredrickson Drug Store; Oakland, M. O. Harding & Son; Clarissa, E. H. Koza; Columbus, Purity Drug Store; Moors, Hill's Pharmacy; Madison, E. E. Burris; Nickerson, Young & Murrie; Pullerton, Griffin Bros.; Broken Bow, S. R. Lee; Chadron, Frank A. Lincoln.—Advertisement.

The Strange Case of Mary Page

By Frederick Lewis, Author of "What Happened to Mary" :: Pictures by Essanay

The Cast of Characters for THE STRANGE CASE OF MARY PAGE. Philip Langdon, attorney for defense. Mary Page, theatrical star, accused of murder. Dave Pollock, purger of Mary, the man she is accused of murdering. E. H. Denison, theatrical manager. Frank Raymont, prosecuting attorney. John R. Connor, Dan Page, Mary's father. Frank Dayton, Mr. Page's mother. Frank Hamilton, the state, Pollock's business associate. A stage hand in costume, William Chester. Dub Pollock, Dave's alias. Francis Benedict, Amy's address. Martin Murray, Mary's maid. The Yellow Kid.

SYNOPSIS. Mary Page, actress, is accused of the murder of David Pollock, and is defended by her lover, Philip Langdon. Pollock was intoxicated. At Mary's trial, she admits she had a revolver. Her maid testifies that Mary threatened Pollock with it previously, and Mary's leading man, Implication Langdon, how Mary disappeared from the scene of the crime is a mystery. Brandon tells of a strange hand print that he saw on Mary's shoulder. Further evidence shows that horror of drink produces temporary insanity in Mary. The defense is "regretted psychosis." Witnesses described Mary's flight from her intoxicated father and her father's suicide. Nurse Walton describes the kidnapping of Mary by Pollock and Amy Barton tells of Mary's struggles to become an actress and Pollock's pursuit of her. There is evidence that Daniels, Mary's manager, threatened Pollock. Mary faints on the stand and awakes insane when a policeman offers her whiskey. Daniels testifies that Pollock threatened to kill Mary and Langdon and actually attempted to kill the latter. Two witnesses describe Mary's flight to the street from the hotel and her abduction by men from a gambling place near by. Further evidence seems to incriminate Daniels.

"Why? Why, because Dave wasn't at the banquet and she couldn't get in. There wasn't anybody else there who recognized her, and she was counting on Dave. It was fixed with him, but I guess he forgot, so she was left out in the cold. She stuck around till pretty late, hoping to have a chance to get in on the game anyway, and then when she tried to go down the fire-escape she found it about as quiet as Broadway around 8 o'clock. It was full of bulls and people and lights, so she had to go downstairs and out the regular way with nothing to pay for a wasted evening."

"Were you in the hotel that night?"

"I was. But not at the banquet."

"Where were you?"

"In the ladies' writing room on the second floor," the witness answered without the slightest hesitation. "That's around the corner from the banquet room."

"How near is that to what is known as the 'gray suite,' do you know?"

"Of course I do. It's at the end of that corridor."

"Can you reach the fire escape from it?"

"No. There's a fire-escape at the other side of the building that you are supposed to use. But I didn't know."

J. T. Maxwell to Be General Secretary of Grand Island "Y"

About a year ago T. J. Maxwell resigned his position as physical director of the Omaha Young Men's Christian association and entered another line of work.

He now has decided to "enter the fold" again and in a few days will depart for Grand Island, to become general secretary of the association in that city.

Which, E. F. Denison, general secretary of the local association, argues, speaks pretty well for Young Men's Christian association work.

Mr. Maxwell is one of the most popular and widely known association men in this part of the country. He came to Omaha six years ago from Baltimore as physical director, and served in that capacity until his resignation a year ago. He has been in Young Men's Christian association work about ten years.

The Grand Island association, according to Mr. Denison, will be an excellent field for Mr. Maxwell. The association there has about 50 members and is housed in one of the finest Young Men's Christian association buildings in the state.

Mr. Maxwell will take up his new duties at Grand Island Monday.

HUMMEL FINDS YOUTHFUL SWIMMER RUSHING SEASON

The swimming season has opened at Carter lake. Commissioner Hummel states he warned a badly accoutred swimmer to don a few articles of clothing before he take cold. The park department does not recommend outdoor bathing at this time.

Cement walks are being placed around the new swimming pool in Riverside park. The dressing room has checking troughs for the bathers. The pool will be opened as soon as the weather will permit. Public bathing places will be maintained at Glenwood and Spring Lake parks and at the sandy beach at Carter lake.

CASH WHEAT PRICES IN OMAHA ARE SENT HIGHER

While the Chicago option market on wheat was off 1/2 to 1 cent the Omaha cash market was strong and prices were local higher than Monday. Wheat sold at 81.5c, up to 81.1c for the best grades. The results were 51 1/2 cent basis.

There was up a half cent, selling at 81 1/2 to 81 1/4 cent per bushel, with 81 1/4 cent market on the market.

There were weak and down a half cent, the sales being made at 81 to 80 1/2 cent per bushel. The receipts were fifteen car loads.

CROWDS VIEW THE FINE ARTS EXHIBIT

Diversity of Artistic Temperament is Shown on the Part of the Visitors.

ALL OF OMAHA IS INVITED

The wide diversity of "artistic temperament" on the part of visitors at the exhibit of northwestern artists, which is being held at the public library under the auspices of the Omaha Fine Arts society, is accounted for by the fact that nearly every style of painting is represented in the display of canvases.

THE COSMOPOLITANISM OF THE CROWDS IS ANOTHER FEATURE. The majority of the visitors are art lovers, but there are some who pass among the notable array of canvases merely as "gazers."

The seasoned art critic will pause for several minutes in front of a small, still life, painting and study it with admiring eyes; on the other hand the novice will pass this type of painting with hardly a glance, pay a layman's homage to some dashing type of painting done in bold, virile colors.

In the popularly contest two paintings, "The Cabin Mother," by Ada Walter Shutz, and "His Defiance," by E. S. Paxson, are making a close race for the leadership.

"Penicils," from the brush of Gertrude J. Barnes, is still in third place. Although the attendance at the exhibit has been large, those in charge aver that there are many Omaha who are of the opinion that the display of paintings is more or less of a society affair.

The hostesses are daily striving to impress the fact on everyone that the exhibit is for the benefit of and free to every citizen of Omaha. It should be attended by both the masses and the classes, they asserted.

TWO BOUND OVER FOR A FIGHT OVER TAXI BILL

Joseph Voiz and Hugo Miller, charged with robbing John Adams, an Iowa, of $5, after assaulting him, were bound over to the district court with bonds fixed at $1,000 each. They pleaded not guilty and asserted the assault arose over a dispute about a taxi bill.

Wildfire by Zane Grey Author of Riders of the Purple Sage A fifteen-year-old school-girl devoured this story without stopping. A staid business man started it on the train and passed his station. An editor, who reads all day, sat up most of the night to finish it. And now it comes to you. Zane Grey's great story, Wildfire, starts today in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN It's of the pioneer West; of horse thieves and gun play; of a girl who could ride and shoot—and love; of a man who ventured his life for months to capture a magnificent wild stallion; of that stallion, and the terrific race he ran against forest fire to save two lives. The Country Gentleman covers every interest of the farm—good reading as well as good ideas. It is for the wife as well as for the farmer. In this issue begins A Series of Homemaking Articles by Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones These are, we believe, the best articles on the home ever written for the farm woman. Mrs. Jones is by birth and experience a farm woman. She has spent years in Farmers' Institute work. She is the one woman best fitted to give helpful, practical talks to farm housewives.
