All of these man are new gept Multen, who officiated in this league a few days last summer before doing brodle to the Federals. Three of them have had major league experience. Harry Kane and Mullen have worked in the National league and Anderson was with the Peds last year, going up from the

Edward Eckman worked in the Central loop last year and is chairman of the newly organized Association of Minor League Umpires Jay Andrews is the only man in the eight who has not had previous experience at umptring. Andrews is a player and manager, who is trying his hand at officiating for the first time He was manager of the Waterloo team in the Central association last year. Andrews also was a player in the Western leasue several years. He played third wase for Des Moines and later was with Topeka, where he acted as team captain during the first year the Kaws were in the Western loop, Jay always was a mighty popular player and if he makes the same with the fans as an arbiter as he did as a player, he'll make Billy Evans take a back sent.

Zehrung spent a number of weeks as sembling this staff and he believes vift prove competent and efficient.

Mary Page, actress is accused of the murder of David Pollock and is defended by her lover. Philip Langdon Pollock was intoxicated at Mary's trai she admits she had a revolver. Her maid testifies that Mary threatened Pollock with it previously, and Mary's leading man implicates Langdon. How Mary disappeared from the scene of the crime is a mystery. Brandon tells of a strange hand print that he saw on Mary's shoulder. Further evidence shows that horror of drink produces temporary insanity in Mary. The defense is "copressed psychoals." Witnesses described Mary's fight from her intoxicated father and her father's suicide. Nurse Walton describes the kidnaping of Mary by Pollock and Amy Barton tells of Mary's truggles to become an actress and Pollock's pursuit of her and of snother occasion when the smell of liquor drove Mary insane. There is evidence that Daniels. Mary's manneer, threatened Pollock. Mary faints on the etand and again goes insane when a pollocaman offers her whists. Daniels testifies that Pollock threatened to kill Mary and Langdon and actually attempted to kill Langdon. Two witnesses describe Mary's flight to the street from the hotel and her abduction by men from a gambling place near by. Porther evidence seems to incriminate Daniels.

To Mary, that smile and the deep abiding tenderness in his eyes were the two things that made it possible to bear with patience the weary strain of the passing days. The first shuddering horror of the tragedy had passed, it is true, and in

of alcepless nights, it had given place to a less poignant though bitter chough suf-

With the passing of the acute agony, however, the little things at first submerged came to the surface and became a source of daily martyrdom. The hard bed; the course food; the lack of privacy the limited conveniences; the roughness of the police and the suffocating sense of being a prisoner; of being denied the fresh air and the sunshine and the right to go where she pleased, seemed almost unbearable. Yet she knew that the agony of her suffering was doubled by that of Laugdon; that he went through vicariously all she endured as well as bearing his own burden, and so for his sake she bore up, drinking in courage from the love that enveloped her whenever his

For just as the trial and what had gone before it had stripped her of her weman's subterfuges and coquetries, so had it stripped Langdon's love of the masculine dread of publicity, and he cared nothing even if all those in the court room read the secrets of his heart.

On this particular morning, however Mary fancied that there was a new meaning in his smile, and a light of hope n his eyes, and there was been interest in her own gaze when the first witness was called.

"John McGlone!" He was a burly omo in a loud waist cost, with hair that grew low on his forehead and was parted in the middle into two careful curis in a fashion popular with a certain type of barkeepar and barber. He showed no signs of nervousness. On the centrary, he seemed somewhat pleased with his importance and answered Langdon's first questions with a glibness that held a touch of the pompous

A Spoonful of Salts Relieves Aching Kidneys

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, says noted authority.

If back hurts or Bladder both ers, stop all meat for a while.

When you wake up with backache and duil misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too nuch meat, says a well-known authority Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them. like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, ilse you have backache, sick headache dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jan Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and emon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder wenknens.

Jad Salts is a life sover for regular neat eaters. It is inexpensive, dannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink-Advertisement.

Senator Shumway Will Receive a Big Vote in Northeast Nebraska.

Of all the names that will appear on the primary ballot of any porty, with the possible exception of President Wilwho is unopposed, not one in all probability will receive a heartier enforsement in northeast Nebraska than Senator Shumway, who is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. Senator Shumway's candidacy has re ceived a cordial welcome througout the section of the State where he is best known and newspapers, regardless of party affiliation, have commented most favorably on his entrance into the race. This is due in large measure to the Senator's well known reputation of being a clean out man of excellent prin ciples and ideals and his cordial affability with all men on all occasions. But there is more to Senator Shum way than this. He has demonstrated that he is a man of achievement; of ideas as well as ideals, and he possesses a faculty of carrying out his ideas with tact and persistence. Senator Shumway is peculiarly fitted for the distinguished office which he seeks. His three terms in the State Sen ate, in which he ranked among the lead ers of that body, have given him a wide and thorough experience in legislative procedure and qualifies him withou question for the position as President of the Senate. Moreover his kindly and generous political toleration, which has enabled him to work with case, and without friction, with his associates of different political faith, as well as with those of his own, insures that he would preside with absolute justice and fairness to all.

And yet in matters strictly political Senator Shumway is a staunch Republi can and his party need have no uncertainty as to his remaining true to his political convictions as well as to his onscience.-Waithill Times.
