SAFETY APPLIANCE ACT APPLIES TO ALL

United States Supreme Court Takes Broad View of Act to Protect Railroad Employees.

TEXAS JUDGMENT AFFIRMS

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The supreme court today so construed the various federal safety appliance acts that all employees—no matter whether engaged at the time in intrastate or interstate commerce—may recover damages for injuries occurring through failure of interstate commerce railroads to comply with the safety appliance laws. It was regarded as a precedent making decision, giving safety appliance laws a scope far greater than the federal employers' liability law. The first employers' liability law was even annulled years ago because it applied to employees engaged in intrastate commerce as well as those in interstate commerce.
