

RIALTO COMPANY IN A NEW DEAL

Tires of Waiting for Auditorium and Announces it Will Build on North Sixteenth Street.

TALK THEATER AND HOTEL

With all its offers to the city council for the purchase of the Auditorium rejected, the Rialto Amusement company, headed by S. E. Schaefer, has decided to build a theater of its own. The result is that the deal is said to be closed whereby the company takes a long term lease on a vacant lot on Sixteenth street, the definite location not yet announced, upon which it intends to build a $200,000 building, a combination movie theater and hotel.

The movie theater is to have a seating capacity of 1,500, and above the theater part are to be hotel rooms to the number of 350. The building is to be about five stories high. The lease is said to be on a valuation of over $150,000.

Rialto Company Quits Waiting.

April 8, the Rialto company made the last of a series of offers to the city council for the purchase of the Auditorium. In a letter addressed to the council, the head of the company offered to take over the $100,000 bonded indebtedness of the Auditorium, take the Auditorium for its use, and in return, build for the city another Auditorium suitable for the city's purpose.

FRASER WILL HEAD NEW ATHLETIC CLUB

Election Held Yesterday and Woodmen Leader Named to Head New Organization.

MAY BUILD DOWNTOWN

W. A. Fraser was yesterday made president of the Omaha Athletic club, the new organization which intends to build an elaborate club house in the business district of Omaha.

F. W. Judson and N. B. Updike were made vice presidents; George Haverstick, secretary; George Brandeis, treasurer, and A. W. Jefferts, general counsel.

This was done at the meeting of the committee recently appointed by those interested in the movement. The meeting was held in the office of W. A. Fraser at the Woodmen of the World headquarters. Directors were first elected to serve until the last Tuesday in January, 1917, as follows: N. B. Updike, A. W. Jefferts, George Brandeis, W. A. Fraser, F. W. Judson and George Haverstick. It was the directors who chose the officers in the meeting called immediately after their own election.

Members elected to the building committee are, W. A. Fraser, N. B. Updike and George Brandeis.

May Change Location.

After announcing some two weeks ago that the club had purchased a lot at Nineteenth and Douglas streets for the location of the club house, the directors now say they have not definitely decided upon a location. "It was suggested that a more central location might be secured," said Mr. Fraser in a statement, "and it was agreed that the directors would meet on the seventh floor of the Woodmen of the World building at 2 p. m. Friday, April 28, and at that time accept such propositions as real estate owners and agents might care to submit, together with terms of payment and such other inducements as any of them might care to offer. Locations to be considered will be confined to territory bounded by Jackson street on the south, Thirtieth on the east, Capitol avenue on the north and Twenty-fourth on the west."

Architect to Get Busy.

As soon as the location is definitely decided upon, the directors say, the architect will be employed to draw plans, and until that time nothing definite can be said as to the height of the building, as that will depend upon the width of the lot finally decided upon. They intend to go ahead with the building as fast as possible when all the preliminaries are out of the way.

Home Talent Play At Miller School

Mrs. J. W. Evans, directing "The Old District School," which will be given on Friday, April 28, at the auditorium of the Miller school, has thirty-two characters in the piece.

The Mothers' Circle of the Miller school vicinity are fostering the entertainment for the purpose of presenting the school with a piano for the use of the scholars. The teachers and all the members of the cast and the members of the Mothers' Circle will attend the performance of "A Boston Friend of Bowser" at the new Krug Saturday evening in a body.

YOUNG OMAHA GIRL TAKES POISON AND ENDS HER LIFE

Miss Helen Dakorsey, 17, sister of Mrs. John Gierly, 324 South 18th street, committed suicide in the Bennett hotel at Lincoln last evening, by taking poison. She had told people about the hotel that she had trouble with her sister. Early in the evening she went out to mail a letter and, on coming back, asked to be called in an hour. The clerk found her in her death struggle.

The girl had been working as a domestic in Omaha. Yesterday when her sister called up the home where she was employed, she learned that she had gone, without saying where. Some time ago while living together the two sisters had a difference over home management, but it was not serious. The girl had been ill and melancholy and Mrs. Gierly attributes the suicide to this cause.

Mr. Gierly is a messenger with the Wells-Fargo Express company.

400 Miles From Home, Fire Got Us; Ruined Our Car; Spoiled Our Tour

Touring. Home, 400 miles behind.

"Devil take business," said I, and sniffed the country air.

"A month of this and I'll be a new man."

Bang! Went the carburetor.

"What's the matter?" I demanded, as George stopped the car with a jerk.

"Jump," he yelled. "It's on fire."

We jumped not a second too soon. Quick as a flash the whole car was one roaring flame.

George sprinted for the nearest house. Too late. Before he got half way there the new machine was gone. Scrap-iron.

"Good-bye, Tour," I moaned. "Only last week I saw a whole window full of those Pyrene Fire Extinguishers and didn't stop to buy."

A Pyrene gun would have stopped the fire dead; saved us from the danger of being burned alive; saved the car; saved the tour; saved my disposition.

It took us two weeks to select a new car—two months more to get delivery. We were without a car when we needed one most—right in the middle of the touring season.

Take a tip from me and don't start anywhere in your car without Pyrene.

All merchants are displaying Pyrene this week. Don't let it go by without buying one for your car and one for your home.

Pyrene pays for itself by saving you 15 per cent. each year on your auto insurance.

$7.50 complete with auto bracket.

Sis was trapped. Father and mother were away. I grabbed the Pyrene and with a few pumps smothered the fire. I hate to think what might have happened that night without Pyrene.
