MAKE SACRIFICES FOR THE BELGIANS

Chicago Has "French Wounded Shop" and Other Cities Have "Self-Sacrifice Weeks."

SOME MAKE OVER THEIR HATS

By MELLIFICIA-April 24.

As Omnha has been one of the American cities taking first rank, even more than proportionate to its size, in the Belgian relief work, it is a matter of more than passing interest to note new phases of the work elsewhere.

Chicago has a "French Wounded Shop and on the evening of May lat an enter-(sinment, the first of its kind, will be given at Orchestra hall, where lectures by war nurses will be interspersed by the new spring songs and dances

Another American social change brought about by the war is "self anori-

In Boston, Chicago, New York and Washington, members of prominent faclies have pledged themselves to a "self sacrifice year," similar to the "self sacriffice weeks" in the Salvation Army in spirit. One of the principles of this sacrifice for the Belgians is that it must be purely personal, including luxuries, pleasires and amusoments. It means wearing fast season's frocks and gowns, making over hats, disposing of unnecessary mo toring and all such economies that women would often make but for fear of the criticism of their set

But sympathy for ravaged Beigium is something so pervading and too potent to shake society as it has, and then to leave nothing permanent behind it. Perhaps, it will make for greater simplicity in the lives of many of the pampered of fortune.

Morgan-Tancock Wedding.

Miss Restrice Tancock, daughter of was married at Trinity cathedral this morning at 8 o'clock to Mr. Kelso Morgan, son of Mrs. Albert B. Morgan of Lowis, Ia. The marriage service was read by the father of the bride, dean of Trinity cathedral. There were no bridal attendants, and only the immediate members of the families of the bride and bridegroom witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore a light brown tailored traveling suit, with small black bat, trimmed with flowers. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The outof-town wedding guests were Mrs. Albert B. Morgan and her daughter, Miss Janice Morgan, of Lewis, the mother and sister of the bridegroom

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will be at home in Omaha after May 1 at 909 North Piftieth street.

One of the guests of Easter week will be Mrs. Robert Morse of Vancouver, who is expected by her husband's mother, V. Morae. Mrs. Morae was formerly Miss Gertrude Buns of Nobraska City, and is at present visiting her mother, Mrs. N. A. Buss. Many of fairs are in planning for the Vancouver guest, including a luncheon and a tea

No Easter Egg Hunt.

Anna Crary's home on St. Mary's avenue was abandoned yesterday on account of Miss Crary's illness, but the children of the Floyd Smith's and the J. L. Paxton's had a little egg hunt of their own on the Crary grounds. They are Eleanor and Edward Smith, and Betty and little James Paxton II. The Easter egg hunt has become an institution with Omaha little folk since the first one, over twenty years ago, given for Robert Shiverick,

Shakespeare Tercentenary Celebration Stimulates Interest Among Public School Children.

LAMB'S TALES ARE POPULAR

Shakespeare Tercentenary celebration has stimulated unusual interest among boys and girls of the public school system. Superintendent Graff sent circulars to teachers, suggesting that they bring out the Shakespeare spirit in their own way. Most of the teachers read Lumb's stories of the plays of the immortal bard. These stories were written for the child mind and appeal more than the original text.

The superintendent believes the occasion was valuable in an educational way and will serve to popu larize Shakespeare among the chil-

In this room a bust of the dramatist was placed in a commanding position. The boys and girls wrote essays and viewed illustrations of many of the scenes idenwith the plays. The romance of Anne Hathaway was received with interest. In the lower grades Lamb's stories of Shakespeare were read, "The Tempest being received with most favor.
