

NEBRASKANS INVADE HIGHWAY MEETING

Loup River Delegates Would Have Savannah-to-Seattle Route Pierce This State.

THEY MAY BE UNRECOGNIZED

When the Savannah to Seattle Highway convention was called to order at the Fontenelle hotel Monday morning, a delegation of twenty-three men from central Nebraska appeared to boost for what they term the "Loup River Short Line."

The Savannah to Seattle route, as tentatively outlined, comes from Falls City to Omaha, thence to Sioux City, thence to Sioux Falls, and west to the Black Hills country and Deadwood, S. D.

The delegation of Loup City fellows want the line to cut through central Nebraska, as follows: Columbus, Genoa, Fullerton, St. Paul, Ord, Burwell and Long Pine.

Hold Special Meeting. These twenty-three men held a little meeting at the Fontenelle in the interest of their proposed Black Hills, Loup River and Omaha highway.

The credentials committee of the national organization has not as yet passed upon credentials, and it is possible that the six self-chosen delegates of the Loup River Short Line will not be recognized.

The situation, of course, is that the big convention was planned to have delegates only from the pivotal points, or the main cities to be touched, and these were tentatively agreed upon before the delegates were invited at all.

P. A. Wells of Omaha was named temporary chairman and Clarke G. Powell temporary secretary. Mr. Wells in the course of the morning's session suggested that this new diagonal route be termed the "Washington Highway." Instead of the "Savannah to Seattle Highway."

N. B. Abrams of Seattle, Fred Houser of Atlanta and Clarke G. Powell of Omaha were named members of the credentials committee.

P. A. Wells of Omaha, Courtney Thorp of Savannah and C. B. Wilson of Mitchell, S. D., are the members of the organization committee.

The delegates were the guests at a luncheon at the Commercial club at noon.

Murray Is Offered Job by the Allies

Assistant General Passenger Agent Murray of the Union Pacific is back from Winnipeg, where he went on railroad business, and while he did not enlist as had scores of opportunities to join the British army.

On his trip to the north Murray was accompanied by H. A. Carter, the company's district passenger agent at Minneapolis, who has come on to Omaha for a stay of a few days.

Both of the railroad men assert that Winnipeg is a great military camp and that on the streets one meets more soldiers than civilians. Recruiting stations run two to half a dozen to the block in the business portion of the city and just outside the corporate limits there are two great camps where the raw recruits are worked over into soldiers to be sent to the front.

Custard Pie

Here is an easy recipe for custard pie that is delicious. Try it today for dinner.

3 Eggs, 1/2 Teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 Teaspoon salt, 1 Tablespoon flour, 3 Tablespoons sugar, 1 Cupful Cottage Evaporated Milk, mixed with 1 cupful of water.

Put milk into double boiler and scald. Stir flour and sugar together. Beat the yolks of the eggs to a cream and add flour and sugar. Add salt and vanilla then the well beaten whites of the eggs.

Grate over the top of pie a little nutmeg and bake for twenty-five or thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

Cottage Evaporated Milk on account of its creamy richness is superior to bottle milk not only in the above recipe for custard pie, but for all cooking purposes.

The Success of a Bank Depends Upon the Management

ALBERT S. WHITE, President.

W. C. LAMBERT, Vice President.

ARTHUR HOOVER, Cashier.

The most important part of a bank's business is the loaning of its money, and its success depends almost entirely upon that one feature. If a bank makes no bad loans it is virtually certain to pay dividends. Men have been selected for the active management of the Central State Bank who are fully equipped by experience and training to guard the interests of stockholders and depositors in the extension of credits.

Among the Stockholders Are Active Bankers of Nebraska and Western Iowa, who have a thorough knowledge of the situation. They are convinced that a state bank, founded and chartered under the Nebraska banking law, which guarantees the security of deposits, ably and conservatively managed, is certain of earning large dividends, and that

THE OPPOTUNITY IS UNEXCELLED

As It Is Located In the Most Prosperous City In the Middle West

The new City Directory gives Greater Omaha a population of 217,000—in five years it will be 300,000. The huge volume of trade and traffic is much larger than the city's population would indicate. Based on population, the number of banking houses is much below the average of other cities.

Will Begin With a Paid-In Surplus

In recent years it has been customary in the organization of large city banks to sell the stock above par in order to create a substantial surplus. Stock of the Central State Bank has been placed at $125 per share.
