Gains 3 Pounds on Tanlac

Many wonderful endorsements have been given to Tanlac, but the statement made by Miss Wanda Allen, who clerks in a down town store, is of special interest to men and women who lead an active life. Miss Allen lives at 252; Rees street,

"I suffered with nervousness," said Mirs Allen. "I had very poor digestion and no appetite. I did not sleep well. I was so weak that every little exertion tired me. In fact I was all run down and had headaches every day.

"Well, I heard of Tanlac relieving so many Omaha people of their ailments that I decided to try it. After taking one ottle I am happy to say that I feel like new woman. I feel so much stronger d better in every way.

How grand it is to be relieved of those horrible headaches. My, I want to eat norrible headaches. My, I want to eat A. Heller, Peter Jolly, J. W. ## Thrasher to Tell Story of Accident

A coroner's jury called Tuesday morn ing to investigate the death of William Morris, killed Friday night at Sixteentl and Farnam streets when struck by motorcycle operated by Officer L 8 Thrasher, adjourned at noon to await the testimony of the officer. Thrasher at present is in a serious condition a St. Joseph hospital and is not aware of Morris' death.

Twenty-two witnesses testified at the inquest, the majority asserting that Morrin was crossing the street from the northwest corner of the intersection to the northeast and that the officer was driving his machine in excess of twentyfive miles an hour. The question which rests on Thrasher's testimony is whether or not he was pursuing a violator of the traffic regulations when the acri-
