JACK HALLA IS TOO MUCH FOR ROURKES

Veteran Keeps Hits Well Scattered While His Mates Batter Allison.

INDIAN BROWN FINISHES FRAY

The rub and ungrudgingly links upset the demon Rourke yesterday afternoon and gave our athletes a sudden setback in their mad rush for the well known pennant.

By touching Mack Allison for five markers in the third and fourth frames the fowly links waited away with the combat, 5-1.

It was Mr. Allison's first start of the season and he wasn't much of a star. The Ducklings amassed five blows in the two final rounds and Allison's support was nothing to brag about. It was truly an off day for the Rourkevilians.

After Rourke flew out to Krug, Halla started the bombardment in the third steps by reeling a blow to the right garden. Carlisle rolled a grounder to Miller and that gent so successfully missed it up that Halla was safe at the base. The second pitch single of the nation counted two links scores in the fourth.

Indian Brown Hurts. Allison settled down after this round, although the Links seemed to smack the bill quite solidly. He was jerked from the outside in the seventh to let Krause bat for him and Jim Brown, Indian rookie and protégé of Vy Forsthe's, went on the mound. Brown did right well, but one bludge was garnered off his sights and that was a hurt. He nearly beat out.

While the Links were totaling the five scores old Jack Halla, who apparently is enjoying a second lease on life, was bowling along in keen style. The Rourkevilians could not solve his slants with any degree of effectiveness and the game was his from the start.

Score in Eighth. The lone tally marked up by the home boys came in the eighth. After Smith whiffed and Krug rolled out, Vy Forsthe pitched Halla and the umpire into a base on balls. Morse, the pitcher, threw a slider, made a punk error of Miller's grounder and Cyrus plked for third. Ernie Kresger sloughed a curve for a hit into center field and the Tango Kid shipped home with much glee.

Omaha had one chance to register and Carlisle prevented it by a great throw to the plate. Joe Burg had opened the fifth stanza with a two-base knock to left. After Allison flew out, Earl Smith played a beauty of a single to left and Burg started for home. It looked like a certain score, but Carlisle made a perfect pop to the rubber and out Burg down by a foot.

Burg Does Well. Joe Burg played his first game with the Rourkevilians in at third for Al Mender. He fielded well and handled himself well at the bat.

Pete Kilduff was the fielding demon of the mitt for Omaha. Oklahoma Pete landed nice chances perfectly and a couple of the odd chances were nasty ones. Earl Smith and John Priest were the only Rourke to nick Mr. Halla for more than one bludge. Both made two.

The final game of the series between Lincoln and Omaha will be played today. It will be the last day. The game will be called at 2:15 hours.

Everything Ready to Go Swimming

The entries for the Greater Omaha swimming meet are rolling in for the event Friday night. An effort is being made to assemble the swimmers who have shown class at the different municipal beaches. There are several expert swimmers and divers that last season attracted attention at the municipal beach and Carter lake, who are due to arrive in the meet. It is expected that these men will overthrow a number of the best Young Men's Christian Association swimmers, who think they have some events cinched.
