ROURKES WIN IN FREEZING GALE

Rain and Cold Fail to Deter Pa's Athletes, Who Go Out and Lambast Champions.

KRAUSE HURLS A NICE GAME

There were four reasons why the combat between Omaha and Des Moines yesterday could have been called off without disturbing the peaceful repose of anybody interested.

The said four reasons were, rain, cold, wet grounds, and the suffering the scribes in the press coup were compelled to endure.

After three men had faced Harry Krause in the opening stanza, Umps Eckman, who was bossing the works, called time because of the superabundance of moisture, and he and his shining fate, Mr. Carney, hiked for the warmth of the club house, where he remained for twenty minutes.

Apparently the umps must have inhaled a shot of surreptitious red-eye or something similarly soothing to the inards of a frozen ump, for he emerged from the comfortable club house, slanted his expert orbs toward the press coup on the roof, where the scribes shivered and swore while two Barney Oldfield winds, one a Hudson Bay zephyr and the other a Behring Straits' breeze, met in their midst, and gleefully and maliciously roared, "Play ball.." with the result that the scribes slowly and painfully congealed as the nine rounds of pastime were committed.

Game is Snappy.

Incidentally Omaha copped the combat and played a bang-up game of ball, inas much as one could notice while spending most of his time in furious abortive efforts to keep the blood circulating in the accustomed veins. The score was 7 to 2.

Harry Krause, the pulchritudinous southpaw, was on the mound for the denizen Rourkelets, and Harry didn't seem to mind the playful pranks of the elements. He pitched sterling ball, and it was not until the final frame that Baldy Isbell's faltering champs were able to nick him for a run.

Hit Musser Hard.

On the other hand the Rourkovinian swatsmiths fell on Paul Musser with great gusto. Paul was between two fires. When the rain and cold wasn't making him disconsolate and dreary, the Rourke hitters were. All in all Mr. Musser could have had a much more enjoyable afternoon yesterday at some movie show.

The game opened with a steady drizzle falling into the diamond and into the press coup. After Hahn and Hunter flew out to Smith and Jones walked, time was called for twenty minutes. Then the game started again, and after pasting Meloan in the slats, Krause retired Hartford and gave the home boys a chance to gallup around the muddy points.

Walk Proves Fatal.

Musser found it difficult to control the pill in the rain and slipped Joe Burg four wide ones to open hostilities. Smith placed a neat sacrifice, and Cyrus Forsythe, who is a southerner and ought to freeze into a state of incapacity on a day like yesterday, but doesn't know it, laced a single to center and Joe hiked home.

The Rourkes were duck-soup in the second, but broke loose again in the third and counted a couple of runs. Smith started the festivities with a single, and went to third on Forsythe's hit to right. Cyrus then swiped second. Krug lifted a sacrifice fly to Hunter on which Smithy counted. Miller was hit in the arm or some other vital spot by one of Musser's slants. Miller and Forsythe then executed a double steal on the veteran Larry Spahr, with Forsythe registering and Miller going to second. Three stolen bases. If Jones hadn't made a swell stop of Priest's hard grounder the Rourkes would have pudioined all of Larry's accoutrements, including his celebrated knocked-knees.

A walk to Miller, sacrifices by Krueger and Priest and Oklahoma Pete Kilduff's colossal three-base swat marked another tally for our athletes in the fifth.

Big Doings in Eighth.

The big doings were in the eighth. Priest almost tore Musser's foot off with a drive, and Kilduff sacrificed and was safe when Jones tried to pull off a one-handed catch and didn't do it. Krause sacrificed and Joe Burg jarred Musser's teeth with a three-cushion poke to center on which Priest and Kilduff galluped home. Berg tried to make a home run on his three-bagger. He would have been out a couple of feet, but Spahr dropped the pill and he was safe.

Singles by Spahr and Danny Claire, who returned to the Western league yesterday after an absence of three years, and a two-bagger by Dick Breen, pinching for Musser, gave the Boosters their only tallies in the ninth.

Omaha and Des Moines are scheduled to play again today. The game will be called at 3:15. Lou North probably will be Krug's hurling choice, while Lefty Thomas probably will labor for the enemy. Score:

Giants Lose Seventh Straight Game When Dodgers Beat Them

NEW YORK, April 29.—The New Yorks lost their eleventh straight game here today when, they were defeated by Brooklyn in a twelve-inning game, 5 to 4, before the largest crowd of the season. After a see-saw contest, in which the lead changed several times, Brooklyn won in the twelfth inning on successive singles by Daubert, Stengel and Wheat.

Fred Merkle of the New York team won an automobile in the eighth inning when his two-base hit struck a sign on the left-field fence, the advertiser having offered a car to the first player who hit the sign with a fly ball. The sign has been up since the opening of last season. Manager McGraw of New York made a radical change in his lineup, sending the veteran first baseman, Markle, to third base, while Kelly, a Northeastern league recruit, went to first base. Score:

OFFICIALS PICKED FOR FOOTBALL GAMES

Departing from Time-Honored Custom, State Uni Athletic Manager Chooses List Early.

AUTHORITIES LIKE STEWART

By JAMES E. LAWRENCE.

LINCOLN, April 29.—(Special.)—Athletic Manager Guy E. Reed of the University of Nebraska has departed from the time-honored custom of leaving the selection of officials for the big Cornhusker games go until the last minute. Reed today announced a list of officials for all of the big games next fall.

Heretofore the selection of officials left to a few days before the game has always been a source of annoyance and squabbling. Reed believes it will prove exceedingly fortunate to have all of this out of the way before the opening of the season.

Jimmy Masker, the old Kansas City boy, one of the best known foot ball officials in the Missouri valley, will officiate in several of the games. J. J. Schommer, the old Maroon star, is another popular choice of the western foot ball teams. Two Omaha men, "Bud" Kearns and Caldwell, a former eastern star, will officiate in a couple of games. E. C. Quiggley of St. Mary's Kan., an umpire in the National league, will also officiate in one of the games. Quiggley is nearly as enthusiastic over foot ball as base ball and is rated as an exceptionally able official.

List of Officials.

Following is the list of officials for the 1916 football games which Nebraska will play:

Nebraska, Drake, October 7—Guy Lowman, referee; Caldwell, Omaha, umpire; "Bud" Kearns, Omaha, head linesman.

Nebraska-Kansas Aggies, October 14—Jimmy Masker, Chicago, formerly Kansas City Athletic club, referee; John Griffith, Drake, umpire; J. A. Riley, Kansas City Athletic club, head linesman.

Nebraska-Oregon Aggies, October 21—Varnell, Portland, referee; Fawcett, Portland, umpire; Francis, Portland, head linesmen. (All of these officials were recommended by Dr. E. J. Stewart, the new Nebraska coach, and accepted by Reed).

Nebraska-Ames, November 1—John Griffith, Drake, referee; Caldwell, Omaha, umpire; "Bud" Kearns, Omaha, head linesman.

Nebraska-Wesleyan, November 7—Officials not chosen.

Nebraska-Kansas, November 18—Jimmy Masker, Chicago, referee; J. J. Schommer, Chicago, umpire; Clyde McBride, Kansas City, head linesman.

Nebraska-Iowa, November 23—Birch, Cedar Rapids, Ia., referee; A. G. Reid, Waterloo, Ia., umpire; J. J. Schommer, Chicago, head linesman; John Griffith, Drake, field judge.

Nebraska-Notre Dame, November 30—E. C. Quiggley, St. Mary's, Kansas, referee; Birch, Cedar Rapids, Ia., umpire; J. A. Riley, Kansas City Agriculture college, head linesman; A. G. Reid, Waterloo, Ia.

Stewart Looks Good.

The more Husker athletic authorities hear of Dr. E. J. Stewart, the new director and all-year coach at Nebraska, who replaces Jumbo Stiehm, the more

Cubs Lose as Cards Trounce McConnell

CHICAGO, April 29.—Heavy hitting by St. Louis ended Chicago's winning streak today, the Cardinals routing McConnell for his worst beating of the season and winning, 8 to 4. Doak held the Cubs until the seventh, when Sallee went to the rescue. Home runs by Bescher and Long helped to pile up the visitors' runs and the first Chicago score was counted on Williams' homer. In the eighth inning with Smith on second, Betzel accidently threw his bat nearly to third base, Zimmerman left the bag unguarded to pick up the bat and Smith stole third. Score:

Cobb's Double in Eleventh Gives the Detroit Tigers Win

DETROIT, Mich., April 29.—Cobb's double in the eleventh inning, after Vitt had singled and had advanced to second on Kavanagh's sacrifice, gave Detroit a thrilling 5 to 4 victory over Cleveland here today. The Tigers, two runs behind when they came to bat in the ninth, successfully staged one of their batting rallies. Singles by Young, Crawford and Cobb tied the score. The game sparkled with fine fielding. Graney twice cut off runners at third by splendid throws after the Tigers attempted hit-and-run plays. Score:

Olson and Miller Leading Batters in The Big Leagues

CHICAGO, Ill., April 29.—Ivan Olson of the Brooklyn Nationals, with .546, and Ward Miller of the St. Louis Americans with .500 are leading batters in the major leagues, according to averages compiled here today.

Ty Cobb is beginning to move upward among American league batsmen. The figures show that Cobb, though out of recent games because of illness, has increased his average from .231, as shown last week, to .300.

The following are the .300 hitters:

W.
